COUNCIL ACTS AFTER 8 HOURS' BITTER DEBATE

Cermak and Nelson in Word Battle.

After a turbulent and wearying debate, the city council last night approved the proposed franchise grant to the Illinois Bell Telephone company by a vote of 37 to 12. The vote ended negotiations that have been carried on since the expiration of the old ordinance in January, 1929.

ALD. JOHN S. CLARK.

Its passage came after eight hours of argument. Tired out by the long session, the aldermen broke out frequently in bitter clashes. At times these involved Mayor Cermak in disputes with Ald. John S. Clark [30th], and Oscar Nelson [46th], who often revolted against rulings from the rostrum.

Mayor Assails Nelson.

At one time when the argument between Mayor Cermak and Nelson was burdened with personalities, the mayor pointed out to Nelson that the mayor for whom he was floor leader is not in the hall any more, and that Nelson's rule of the council has ended. Cermak accused Nelson of talking six of the eight hours that the ordinance was under discussion.

Last year, almost a year ago to the day, a similar ordinance was approved by vote of 37 to 9, but it was vetoed. Last night's vote of 37 to 12 was as follows:

FOR.
Coughlin [1st]	Arvey [24th]
Anderson [2d]	Bowler [28th]
Jackson [3d]	Sloan [29th]
Cronson [4th]	Kelly [29th]
Healy [6th]	Terrell [29th]
Hoden [7th]	Kosikowski [31st]
Button [8th]	Kostenkowski [32d]
Govier [9th]	Keane [34th]
Wilson [11th]	Fergus [35th]
Hartnett [12th]	Robinson [36th]
Doyle [13th]	Landmesser [38th]
Kovarik [15th]	Orlikowski [39th]
Morse [16th]	Rose [40th]
Corr [17th]	Loescher [44th]
Morris [18th]	Hoelles [47th]
Northrup [19th]	Massey [48th]
Pucelli [20th]	Williston [49th]
Cepak [23d]	Quinn [50th]
Tomeo [23d]
AGAINST.
Schreiber [5th]	Mills [37th]
Rowan [10th]	Moreland [41st]
O'Grady [14th]	Crowe [42d]
Lagodny [21st]	Waller [43d]
Healy [27th]	Feigenbots [45th]
Clark [30th]	Nelson [46th]

Of the nine aldermen who voted against the ordinance last year six are still members of the council. Three of those, Rowan, Clark, and Crowe, voted against the ordinance last night. The other three, Northrup, Landmesser, and Loescher, voted for this year's ordinance.

As the roll was called a number of those in the opposition rose and summarized the attacks that they have made during the committee sessions, when the franchise was drafted, and later in the several meetings of the council which was necessary before the measure could be put to a vote. Some of the comments were as follows:

SCHREIBER—In my opinion the ordinance is putrid.

O'GRADY—It is a perpetual grant that we have no right to give.

MORELAND—Favoritism has been shown to the company.

Clark Gives His Opinion.

CLARK—There were two alternatives. We could either make the company pay for relocating its equipment when subways are constructed or we could have compromised that right. The council has compromised its right to make the company pay the whole cost.

CROWE—I'm not satisfied with the inclusion of the provisions to let the company use its property for television; the compensation to the city, or the settlement of relocation costs.

WALLER—As we would have done in private business we should have sent this back to the committee to obtain a better deal for the city.

A Grant for 23 Years.

In brief, the ordinance permits the company to operate in Chicago for a period of 23 years from the expiration of the old ordinance, which would be until 1952. After that the ordinance can be terminated by a six months' written notice either by the city or the company.

The compensation to the city is fixed

BOMB WITH FUSE LIGHTED SEIZED BY WATCHMAN

Prompt action by a colored watchman early this morning in seizing a bomb with lighted fuse hurled at his employers' place of business and throwing it into the street prevented damage to the Fullerton Avenue Auto sales, 3323 Fullerton avenue. The bomb exploded in the middle of the street and the only damage was a few windows broken in adjoining buildings.

Two nights ago windows of the auto sales building were smashed, and Leo Bobin, 4554 North Avers avenue, the proprietor, warned the watchman, Edward Monroe, 3331 South State street, to keep a sharp lookout for the vandals. Michael Marquette, 3563 Fullerton avenue, a salesman, volunteered to stay with the watchman last night. About 5 o'clock this morning two men in a small automobile halted in front of the place and threw a bomb at the front door. Moore grabbed the bomb and hurled it away. Marquette dashed to the street and seized the man at the wheel of the car, but a pistol compelled him to retreat. He leaped back to the pavement just as the bomb exploded and was not injured.

The Burlington cafe, a soft drink establishment and restaurant operated by James Coffman at 228 South Halsted street, was bombed early this morning and the blast caused damage estimated at $1,000. The entire front of the place was wrecked and windows were broken in a half dozen neighboring buildings. In the New Jackson hotel several windows were shattered and guests ran from their rooms in night attire when the blast occurred. Lieut. Walter Healy of the detective bureau ascribed the bombing to rivalry over beer privileges.

FLEEING ROBBERS ARE CAPTURED ON INSULL ESTATE

Two men were captured early this morning and a third escaped on the estate of Samuel Insull Jr., near Libertyville, shortly after the robbery of Joseph Cermak in his general store at Loon lake, not far from Antioch.

The holdup was staged by three men and netted them $50. They escaped in a small car. Sheriff Lester Tiffany of Lake county notified various police districts to be on the lookout, and at 1:30 this morning State Highway Policeman Joseph Earnshaw saw three men in a machine near Libertyville. He pursued them. One escaped on foot on the Insull grounds as Earnshaw fired at him. The others surrendered.

A gun was found in the automobile and another on one of the men. This man refused to identify himself. In his pockets police found money and several receipts from Cermak's store. The other prisoner said he was James Carter, 22 years old, of 4343 Florence avenue, Downers Grove. He denied participation in the robbery and said the two men in his car were strangers and pickups.

Council Goes on One Merry Tag Day Spree

The city council overdid itself last night in passing ordinances for tag days with the result that after finding it had authorized tag sales for about everything from King Alfonso to the pre-war brewers and bartenders' union it required fifteen minutes to unsnarl a parliamentary tangle and revoke them.

During the last few weeks, overriding the policy set forth in the city code confining tag days to four a year, the council finance committee has approved several new ones and one or two have passed the council. So when a half dozen more tag day ordinances were introduced last night they were adopted without question as the sponsors called, "Pass."

The List of Tag Days.

Those brought in by the committee and those passed included tag days for the following:

1. The Brewers and Bartenders' union.
2. Tom, Dick, and Harry, unemployed.
3. The Mrs. W. R. Hearst milk fund.
4. Alfonso, ex-king of Spain.
5. The Chicago board of education.
6. The Disabled Veterans of the World War.
7. The steamship Rotarian.
8. The White Sox baseball club.

For Brewers and Bartenders.

Ald. John Coughlin (1st), an ardent advocate of beer and wine, introduced the order for a tag day for the brewers and bartenders and solemnly called, "Pass," when the clerk read it. A few minutes later Ald. B. A. Cronson (4th) put in the order in behalf of "Tom, Dick, and Harry," and it too passed without a murmur. It was not until Ald. Dorsey Crowe (42d) attempted to sneak over the board of education order that laughter from the galleries spoiled the fun.

Ald. John S. Clark (30th), chairman of the finance committee, wanted to know what it was all about and Ald. Sheldon Govier (9th) explained that some of the orders were frivolous.

There were roars of protest when Govier moved that all of the "frivolous" orders be reconsidered and placed on file. Ald. Coughlin demanded "justice for the brewers," and Ald. Cronson declared that "these are good tag days."

Presented by Committee.

Further complications developed when it was pointed out that two of the tag days really had been approved by the council committee and were presented as a part of the finance committee report. These were the tag days for Mrs. Hearst's milk fund and for the Disabled Veterans of the World War. So, according to the regular procedure, these two were deferred and published to be acted upon at the next meeting while all of the "frivolous" orders were placed on file or killed.

Thus, the tangle was straightened out. Several aldermen admitted afterward that the introduction of the humorous orders had been planned by a group of the councilmen as a means of demonstrating to what extremes the abuse of a precedent might go.

Ald. Cronson Explains.

"We merely wanted to show that if, as my order provided, every Tom, Dick, and Harry can have a tag day," explained Ald. Cronson, "there will be no end to it. Tag days, in these days especially, are a nuisance to the public and ought to be curbed."

Final action on the milk fund and veterans' ordinances will be taken at the next council meeting.

Fall Enters Prison Door in Ambulance

Santa Fe, N. M., July 20.—(AP)—Albert B. Fall, former interior secretary, convicted of bribery in federal oil leases, tonight entered the New Mexico state prison to serve a year and a day sentence. Fall, brought from El Paso, Tex., in an ambulance, was taken directly to the prison hospital, where he is expected to serve his time.

The usual photographing, finger printing, classification and numbering routine was dispensed with until Fall is reported by the prison physician, Dr. E. W. Flake, as able to stand these details.

Fall came here from his ranch at Three Rivers, N. M., where he rested two nights after leaving his home in El Paso, Tex., en route to the prison. He is suffering from chronic tuberculosis.

Ambulance Leads Caravan.

The Fall ambulance led a caravan of four cars. First behind the ambulance was Dr. J. H. Gambrell, his personal physician, who was charged by the government with responsibility for delivery of the ex-cabinet member to prison. A car bearing Fall's daughters, Mrs. Jouett Elliott and Mrs. C. C. Chase, and a granddaughter, Martha Fall, was followed by two cars of newspaper men.

Except for refueling stops, the caravan progressed rapidly at about 40 miles an hour, making the trip in 7¼ hours. Fall chatted with close friends at the stops en route. The prison gates closed on him at 10:19 p. m. (mountain standard time).

Fall's arrival at the prison here was preceded by litigation in the highest courts of the land.

Plea for Pardon Unheeded.

Court appeals and petitions for personal pardon asked by friends in New Mexico have been unavailing. After all other sources of possible relief had been closed Fall asked stay or suspension of the sentence because of his failing health. His personal physicians reported he was suffering from several chronic ailments brought on by advancing age. Included was the report he was suffering from chronic tuberculosis.

Appeal to the courts for relief due to his personal condition led to an examination by army surgeons and physicians, who reported he was able to serve the sentence.

Accepts Year and Day Term.

Fall originally was given a year's sentence, which made necessary serving the term in a county jail either at El Paso or Washington, D. C.

Rather than do either, Fall accepted an additional day, increasing the sentence to a year and day, thus making him eligible under federal statutes to serve the time in a penitentiary. Because of the altitude and dry climate of his native New Mexico, Fall was ordered to serve the time in the penitentiary of that state.

Interview Forbidden.

Interviews by the press with Fall were forbidden by the United States department of justice in a letter of instructions to Warden Ed Swope of the New Mexico penitentiary.

The letter from Sanford Bates, director of federal prisons, read:

"It is needless for me to say that the bureau (the penal bureau of the department of justice) desires that he (Mr. Fall) be treated on the same basis as every other prisoner of his age and condition of health, that no special favors or privileges be accorded him; that personal interviews with him by members of the press be forbidden; that extra visitors or letters be given only where, in your judgment, a special necessity exists therefor; and that absences on his part from the jail be strictly prohibited."

BANDIT SLAIN BY POLICE SQUAD IN STREET BATTLE

Two policemen shot it out with a bandit at Argyle street and Broadway early this morning and as a result of the battle an unidentified bandit died shortly afterward in the Edgewater hospital. The battle was the sequel of the holdup an hour earlier of Stanley Banik, 4319 South Hermitage avenue, a taxicab driver. Banik was hailed by a man at 5300 Broadway and told to drive to Broadway and Briar place. Arriving there Banik's fare held him up and robbed him of $2.

A short time later he saw the robber standing at Argyle place and Broadway and notified the police. A squad from Summerdale station composed of Sergt. Thomas Cleary, Roy Jones, John Ruge and Patrick Groark was sent to the place. As Cleary and Groark alighted from their machine the robber saw them and fired three times at them. Both policemen returned the fire and the robber fell mortally wounded. He carried no marks of identification.

"Time is against us. Every day adds to the risks of a collapse which will be outside of human control."

—From Prime Minister MacDonald's speech.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 20.—Less than an hour after the arrival here of the French, German, Italian, and Belgian delegates from Paris, the representatives of seven nations—the other three were the United States, Japan, and Great Britain—sat down tonight in Prime Minister MacDonald's room behind the speaker's chair in the house of commons to try to work out a plan to save Germany—and themselves.

For let there be no mistake—every delegate there realized to the full that if Germany went under in the threatened economic crash, their own countries, and all the rest of Europe, would follow as a house of cards topples when the key card is withdrawn.

Atmosphere Is Friendly.

There was Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, who presided, grave, anxious, and worried; Chancellor Bruening, in whose hands the German case rests, calm and inscrutable; Premier Laval of France, lively and nervous; Foreign Minister Hymans of Belgium, talking excitedly to Premier Laval as they entered, and the inscrutable Japanese ambassador, Matsudaira. Secretary of State Stimson and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, representing the United States, preserved an appearance of dignified aloofness.

The atmosphere was friendly, particularly the attitude of the British people, of whom a great crowd gathered at Victoria station to watch the arrival of the statesmen.

The delegates lost no time in getting down to business. The new arrivals motored to their hotels, and then left almost immediately for the house of commons.

MacDonald Sounds Warning.

The first step was to elect Mr. MacDonald president of the conference. This was done without ceremony. The British prime minister then made a speech of welcome, which was really a speech of grave warning, emphasizing the seriousness of the situation.

"If we cannot find a solution for the present crisis," he said, "no one can foretell the political and financial dangers which will ensue."

Mr. MacDonald reviewed the economic history of the last two years, telling how the whole machinery of economic life had been thrown out of gear by the collapse of commodity prices. The conference had met, he said, not only to consider machinery to put President Hoover's plan into action but also to stay the flood which threatens to involve all of Europe.

Bruening Asks Huge Loan.

Premier Laval followed with a short speech of good will, and set forth the French position briefly. He closed by expressing hope that the loyal cooperation between the French and Germans which was begun in Paris would be continued in London.

Chancellor Bruening then spoke. He stressed the necessity for foreign creditors to cease withdrawing their credits from Germany. He pleaded for a loan of $375,000,000 and the continuation of short term credits amounting to another $125,000,000.

Late tonight, it was learned, Bruening, on the advise of Prime Minister MacDonald, decided that he would not press further his request for a $125,000,000 loan, asking only for a continuation of the $125,000,000 credit.

This decision, it was understood, was taken after he had been informed that British and American opinion had swung away from the French preference for a long term loan raised by public subscription—a loan which would be nailed down by demands for guarantees, both financial and political—and had settled on a series of short term revolving credits, extended over three months but renewable for two or three years, if necessary.

The credits would be furnished by the central banks, but it is pointed out that this is impossible in Great Britain without a governmental guarantee. The manner of supplying the credits and putting the scheme into operation may be outlined by Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden tomorrow as the British alternative to the French proposal.

The main hitch, however, is the question of whether Premier Laval will insist that the credits be backed up by the same guarantees he is demanding for a long term loan.

The meeting adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the delegates will reassemble at the foreign office to hear a report on the results of the recent Franco-German negotiations in Paris.

French Still Demand Pledges.

Despite the cordial words expressed by the delegates, none of them tries to conceal that little was accomplished in Paris toward working out a practical plan. There has been much talk of "political appeasement," to use the favorite French phrase, but the French, it is said, still insist on conditions for credits to Germany which no German government could accept and remain in office.

Chief of these are the plan to pledge the German customs as security for a loan, and a "political moratorium" for ten years. The first plan means that France, having an interest in the German customs, would be able to block any change in customs conditions, such as the proposed Austro-German customs union. The second means that Germany must promise to make no move for a revision of the peace treaties for ten years, during which the status quo would be consolidated beyond any hope of change.

Hope for Compromise.

It is understood that in some British quarters there is hope for a compromise on a five year political truce, which it is said the Germans might accept, and for substituting some other form of property, which could not be used to bring political pressure on Germany, as security for credits.

The British, with the support of America, are also very keen on pledging both France and Germany to slow down on armament construction, and possibly to agree on a drastic disarmament plan to be put unitedly before the Geneva arms conference next February.

From German sources it is learned that Chancellor Bruening, while hopeful, is not overoptimistic about what has already been done in Paris. He was gratified with the kindly reception given the German delegates by the French, but he is said to have declared that not one real step was taken towards an agreement.

See End of War Debts.

This is expected to be a short conference, as it is necessary for Bruening and Curtius to return to Berlin before the end of the week, when some of the German emergency decrees expire. The probable course is an agreement in a day or two by the ministers on principles, leaving experts to work out the details.

Every one believes, however, that this is only the first of a series of conferences on various aspects of the European economic and military position, winding up with a grand debt cancellation party about the time the Hoover moratorium expires, which, it is pointed out, will be just about the time the Republican presidential convention will meet in America.

Rejoice Over Hoover Move.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent has not found one German who expects that Germany will ever resume reparations payments. If this proves to be the case, it is practically certain that Britain, France, Italy and others would not resume payments of the debt to the United States.

All Europe is rejoicing that for the first time, through the words of its President, America has admitted a connection between reparations and debts and that also for the first time since Versailles, America is sitting in on a European conference with official delegates instead of being represented by observers.

Stimson Silent on Plans.

Secretary of State Stimson, who arrived in London last night, today received the American press and told them—nothing. That is to say, he told them nothing about what he had come here for, but he waxed lyrical over the royal reception he received in Italy on his recent visit there.

"They lit up the Forum for us," he said. "It was the first time that had been done. They gave us a lunch at the Villa Borghese. It was the first time that had been done. Premier Mussolini took me for a ride in his own speed boat, which he steered himself. We had a lovely time, and then we went to Paris and fell into the middle of hard work."

At that Stimson dried up. All he would say was that he had visited Prime Minister MacDonald this morning and that later Mr. MacDonald had lunched with him and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in the Hyde Park hotel.

MacDonald's Warning to Europe

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—Following is the text, in part, of Prime Minister MacDonald's "keynote" address to the London conference today:

"The present moment may be one of the turning points in the history of the world, for good or ill. If we cannot find a solution of the present crisis, no one can foretell the political and financial dangers which will ensue. If we can find such a solution it will be a striking proof of the growing effectiveness of international cooperation.

"During the last two years the economic life of the world has been thrown out of gear by an unprecedentedly severe fall in prices. The countries which are engaged in the production of these commodities have, in consequence, been forced to restrict drastically their purchases of industrial goods and world trade has suffered from a persistent, calamitous decline.

Germany Hit Extra Hard.

"This fall in prices has greatly accentuated the burden of all debts and has involved budget and financial difficulties for all debtor countries. The very special position of Germany, both as an exporting and debtor state, has concentrated upon it to a supreme degree all the problems which other states have had to face in a less critical manner.

"The German government has increased taxation and imposed sacrifices on their people, but they felt bound to declare last month that they could go no further and that they would have to use their right to declare a postponement of their liabilities under the Young plan unless the situation improves. This alarmed foreign lenders, upon whose support Germany has been largely dependent during the last six years, and withdrawals of short term credits ensued on a very large scale.

"By June 18 their position appeared almost hopeless, when the whole face of the world was changed in half an hour by the dramatic announcement of President Hoover's offer.

"An Act of Rare Courage."

"History will pronounce this decision as an act of rare courage and statesmanship. It is no small thing to ask the people of the United States, far removed as they are from Europe, and themselves at grips with a domestic slump of unprecedented severity, to suspend for a year all their claims in respect to intergovernmental debts. But, in my belief, it was also a stroke of sound business. Its effect at the outset was startling; not only did the value of securities rise with a bound, but even the price of commodities advanced.

"War debts and reparations are not self-liquidating obligations like loans made for productive purposes. They can only be paid by exporting goods to the creditor countries or, insofar as there are obstacles to the movement of goods, by the export of gold. Thus the payment of reparations and war debts in a time of economic depression presents peculiar difficulties, and the knowledge that these difficulties exist weakens the confidence of investors and this in turn enhances the original difficulties so that a vicious circle is created. The Gordian knot was for the moment successfully cut by the President's beneficent sword; but foreign credits in Germany continued to be withdrawn.

"It has been stated by the German minister of finance that from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 pounds [$750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000] of foreign exchange have been lost by Germany recently, a colossal sum, representing, as it does, more than the equivalent of two years of reparations payments. The trickle of exchange purchases became a stream, the stream a river, and the river a torrent, until the inevitable breakdown occurred.

"Thus, we have now not merely to consider the measures necessary to carry into effect President Hoover's proposal, but we have to add to that the urgent emergency that has since developed in Germany.

"Otherwise it will be difficult to stay the flood before it has overwhelmed the whole of central Europe, with consequences social and political, as well as purely financial, which no man can estimate.

Urges Spirit of Peace.

"We are not here to enforce or to defeat or to humiliate; we are here to understand and to consider our own problems objectively, to remember how closely, in essentials, we depend upon each other, and, therefore, to accommodate and to agree to something which each of us can take to our various parliaments, explain and get accepted as an agreement.

"I feel that each of us can do that and that an agreement here, even if, in every item, we do not like it, will reinspire our people with confidence and courage to face the heavy responsibilities which are to be the lot of all governments during the immediate months ahead of us. Let us begin our work as friends, as a real round table conference energized by the will to succeed, and never fear for a moment but that we shall have the support of our people.

Financial Aspect Up to Bankers.

"As regards the financial aspect of the crisis, the question of what can be done must largely be reserved for bankers and financiers. I can only speak in general terms. There seem to be two main alternatives. The one is to find the means of providing new loans or credits to Germany. That is a matter that I understand has been under consideration in Paris. I am told that there are difficulties which would have to be surmounted before any loan could be obtained in the market here.

"The other way would be to attack directly the question of whether by strengthening the internal position of Germany we can give an assurance of its stability to the outside world, so as not only to prevent the capital that is already in Germany from being withdrawn, but to enable it to be augmented.

"Time Is Against Us."

"There can be no question about the inherent strength of the German economy provided that it has the capital resources that it requires. It is for this purpose that President Hoover proposed the suspension for a year of all debts and reparations. This represents for Germany a very real and important relief.

"It may not prove to be sufficient; that is a point we can examine later. But I think our first step is to decide with the greatest possible expedition the means by which this shall be definitely carried into effect. I emphasize: The greatest possible expedition. Time is against us. Every day adds to the risks of a collapse which will be outside of human control."

4 MORE POLICE CAPTAINS HEARD BY GRAND JURY

Four more police captains' explanations of their bank deposits in excess of their salaries were heard last night by the special grand jury. In keeping with its policy of this phase of the inquiry into charges of graft in the police department, the jurors and the prosecutors declined to reveal whether the explanations were satisfactory. When they finish their questioning of the captains some statement to the public is to be made.

Those before the jury last night were Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Shetfield avenue station [who was recalled], Capt. David Fitzgerald of Morgan Park, Capt. Patrick McCauley of Grand Crossing, and Capt. John La Hogan of Hyde Park.

Capt. John A. Ptacek of Lawndale was called, but his testimony was not heard and he was asked to return tonight. The jury plans to hold night sessions until it has finished its task.

C. units in this country before sailing for his home in East Prussia next month. He will visit Fort Sheridan today and will go to Detroit tonight. Mr. Gaw showed the couple the city from the top of the Belmont hotel.

NEW SOUTH WALES BROKE; PREMIER PLEADS FOR AID

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SIDNEY, N. S. W., July 20.—An empty treasury, the inability to pay state employes, and the refusal of the banks to increase the governments' overdraft, has at last brought John T. Lang, premier, treasurer and minister for railways, of New South Wales, to his knees.

Premier Lang today appealed to Prime Minister James H. Scullin of the commonwealth of Australia for $2,430,000 for July, $9,720,000, for August, and $4,860,000 for September. He undertakes to introduce legislation which will yield 20 per cent economies, and make the debt conversion conform to that of the commonwealth and other states. He also proposes to submit to the New South Wales cabinet, and his branch of the Labor party, questions regarding the rejoining of the loan council, and to assume the responsibility of the payment of the state's interest overseas. The loan council, it is understood, will consider his requests.

It is probable that Premier Lang will be able to pay only a portion of salaries to state employés on Thursday. His economy proposals include a reduction of salaries of all state officials, fixing the maximum salaries at approximately $2,430.

WAVE OF HATRED AGAINST FRANCE GRIPS GERMANY

Paris Is Blamed for All Woes by Berlin.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 20.—Germans read with great interest today the official communique, issued in Paris, stating that Germany and France had ended their feud of 60 years and had agreed on a new "spirit of collaboration and cooperation."

And as they turned their eyes toward London, where the chiefs of seven powers were meeting to try to work out plans to save Germany from financial collapse, they wondered.

Hatred for French.

To the man in the street it was all hard to understand, for ugly war seeds, which, unless uprooted through a sincere and amicable agreement between France and Germany, threaten to bear deadly fruit when a propitious harvest time arrives, were sown during the acrimonious negotiations last month after President Hoover proposed a moratorium on war debts and reparations.

A violent wave of hatred against the Gauls swept over the fatherland when President Hoover's proposal met its initial rebuff at Paris, and this bitterness was fanned to a glowing incandescence through the successive delays and deadlocks during the conferences between Washington, London, Rome, and Paris.

This feeling has risen almost to a frenzy since the French finally indicated a willingness to participate in financial help for Germany, but only with political considerations as the price.

Shake Fists at French Flag.

Daily I have seen Germans halt, stare venomously and then shake their fists menacingly at the big French tricolored flag floating over the French embassy. Admittedly, all the beneficial results of late Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann's long and patient maneuvers during his "policy of conciliation" have been dissipated.

France is blamed entirely for the sudden aggravated financial crisis, which necessitated the closing of all banks for two days and the closing of the bourse indefinitely. France is also blamed for the outburst of anxiety which surged over the foreign money markets and domestic population, resulting in the calling of foreign short term credits and loans and the withdrawal of savings and bank deposits here for conversion into foreign currency and securities against a possible collapse of the mark.

France also is blamed for the relentless and dangerous depreciation of the reich's gold reserves under raids by foreign banking interests, and France is blamed for lurking indications of another inflation, revealed through the emission of additional paper money and the appearance of large blocks of "renten marks," which were retired during the last five or six years.

Blamed for Austrian Crash.

Germany even accuses French interests of being instrumental in the crash of the Credit Anstalt bank in Austria seven weeks ago. The repercussions of this crash were so widespread in Germany that they resulted in President Hoover launching his moratorium project.

The motives for such machinations are easily discernible, from the German viewpoint. Ever since the announcement of the proposed Austro-German customs union in February, Paris has been seeking means to forbid and prevent its accomplishment on the grounds that it is merely an opening wedge towards a political union, which the Versailles treaty prohibits.

The development of relations between Germany and Russia, with a $75,000,000 credit for Westphalian machinery accorded the soviets under the German government's guarantee, it is agreed, is another impelling motive for France to seek to curb German ambitions.

Fears for Poland's Position.

For, as Germany strengthens and recovers from her war wounds and as Germany cements and consolidates her relations with the bolsheviks, the position of Poland, lying between Germany and Russia, becomes more critical and the status of the Free City of Danzig and the corridor, amputating East Prussia from the body of Germany, grows more precarious.

For many years the Quai d'Orsay has been seeking to impose on Germany recognition of the immutability of the eastern frontier. Wilhelmstrasse has steadfastly refused.

Germany has never recognized as permanent the loss of upper Silesia and the eternal dismemberment of the nation through the lopping off of East Prussia.

Awaits Revision of Treaty.

The return of Alsace-Lorraine to France was considered final by Germany, but territorial questions in the east were considered merely temporary until such a time as the Versailles treaty comes up for revision, which Germany considers as inevitable as a periodic reopening of the reparations problem.

France's challenges over the construction of a second pocket battleship were considered by Germany as another intrusion in her internal affairs and an attempt to dictate more complete disarmament than even the Foch-Jellicoe terms of Nov. 11, 1918, imposed.

The Germans are incensed that because their technical brain skill has enabled the construction of such a powerful fighting craft within the maximum limit of 10,000 tons displacement, as the treaty permitted, they should be summoned to scrap their product.

Reports Move Against Hitler.

Germany considers it an impertinence that any foreign government attempts to interfere with her domestic political situation, such as the French demand for dissolution of Adolf Hitler's Fascist party. She replies to such suggestions that neighbors who are apprehensive over nationalistic tendencies inside Germany should enable the existing government, struggling along on votes from a makeshift coalition, to maintain power and not weaken it through outside influences when its overthrow automatically would open the gates for the dreaded nationalists to assume control.

FRENCH PRESS COOL TO GERMAN AMITY TALK; SEE "DISGUISE"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 20.—The French press today was decidedly cool concerning the progress of the Franco-German negotiations yesterday. It seems to consider the declaration of a common desire for Franco-German collaboration merely a polite disguise for failure to reach an agreement.

This attitude apparently reflects the official disappointment over the French failure to get the Germans to sign on the dotted line and the personal disappointment of Premier Laval at not getting credit for a coup which would have made the London conference more or less of a farce.

In less biased circles, however, the understanding reached still seems to be almost a stupendous achievement. One thing of supreme importance which naturally cannot be brought out in the French press is that Premier Laval and Chancellor Bruening agreed to launch a huge scale ballyhoo for Franco-German amity through the government controlled papers. Since it is official ballyhoo that makes wars and peaces today, it is hard to overestimate the importance of this.

BERLIN DECREES PUNISHMENT FOR ALL TAX DODGERS

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 20.—An extraordinary meeting of the German cabinet, called by Vice Chancellor Dietrich because "tax receipts have fallen off heavily in the last few weeks and the entire administrative machinery is threatened with paralysis," tonight issued a new decree, threatening fines ranging from 5 to 24 per cent against all persons who fail to pay their taxes at once.

The German press today was meek and quiet, evidently fearing the whip of law. A recent emergency decree forbade publication of articles which the government considered as "endangering public safety," and since then dozens of papers have been suspended. One suspended voluntarily today because it was "unwilling to bear the gag law." The National Association of German Newspapers has sent a vigorous protest to the government demanding withdrawal of the emergency decree, which, it says, "violates the fundamental right of freedom of the press."

The government is being assailed by Germany's neighbors—Austria, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, and Belgium—who draw attention to the havoc wrought to their tourist business by the decree compelling every German who leaves the country to pay an extra fee of $25. These countries threaten to tell their nationals to avoid Germany.

Lufthansa, Germany's national aviation company, today protested to the government that it will be compelled to close its international air lines if the anti-traveling uhase remains in force.

Thousands of persons waited in a rainstorm at the doors of the savings banks this morning to collect the $4.80 they are allowed to withdraw daily from their savings accounts. In Berlin's populous districts the savings banks opened an hour earlier than usual to take care of the customers, but in the richer sections the banks were quiet. The jobholders are beginning again to intrust their money to the banks, encouraged by the high rate of 8 per cent interest paid on new accounts.

TEXT OF PLEA BY HINDENBURG TO HOOVER REVEALED

[Copyright, 1931: By the Associated Press.]

New York, July 20.—The Associated Press herewith publishes the appeal from President von Hindenburg of Germany to President Hoover which was cabled to Washington by the German president on June 20. For some reason mutilated it has never yet been made public, either in Washington or Berlin. Following is the text:

"Mr. President: The dire distress of the German people, which is now at its highest peak, compels me to turn to you with this extraordinary plea.

"The German people have lived through some infinitely difficult years, with a climax during the past winter. From this spring the hope for improvement by our business and industry has not materialized.

Tale of Sacrifices.

"I therefore, have put into effect, through the extraordinary powers conferred upon me by the constitution of the reich, measures intended to safeguard the execution of the most necessary tasks of state, and to maintain the possibility of life for our unemployed population. These measures cut deeply into all economic and social relations. They demand human sacrifices from all parts of the population.

"Every possibility of improving the situation by internal measures, without relief from the outside world, has been exhausted. The economic crisis from which the entire world is suffering strikes the German people, who have been robbed of their reserves through the consequences of the war, with special vehemence.

"As the developments of the last few days show, the whole world has lost its confidence that the German economic system is in a position to function in view of the burdens now resting upon her. Large credits which foreign countries had given us have been withdrawn. Even within the last few days, the Reichsbank has been compelled to give up to foreign countries one-third of its reserves of gold and foreign exchange.

Fears Jobless Increase.

"The inevitable consequence of these events must be the further serious curtailment of our economic life and an increase in the number of unemployed, who already comprise more than one-third of the labor engaged in industry.

"The ability, the will to work, and the discipline of the German people justify a confidence that Germany will live up to the heavy private obligations and meet the private loans which rest upon her and which can not be changed.

"In order to keep up her courage to face life and the confidence of the world in her ability to fulfill her obligations, Germany, however, is most urgently in need of relief. This relief must come immediately if disaster is not to befall us and others. Our people must be vouchsafed the possibility of working under conditions of life which are bearable.

Last Hope for All.

"The relief which is necessary would, through its material and moral effects upon the general crisis, redound to the benefit of all countries. It would improve conditions in other countries and essentially reduce the danger in Germany of the internal and external tension and strain that have been created by our distress and fear of hope.

"You, Mr. President, as representative of the great American people, have the possibility within your hands of taking the steps for the German people and for the world by which a beneficial change in the situation, fraught with danger, can be brought about.

"(Signed) Von Hindenburg."

Turreted Home Where Humble Attended Funeral

The home of the late Mrs. John B. Henderson, for half a century leader in Washington society and where diplomats and notables crowded to brilliant social gatherings. When funeral services were held there yesterday the diplomats and the notables were missing but persons who had been befriended by Mrs. Henderson or by her late husband, Senator Henderson, the father of the amendment to the constitution forbidding slavery, were present.

Hoover Pushes Program for Relief Plan at London Parley

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—The United States plans to take an active part in the formulation of whatever program results from the London conference, it was revealed here today.

Following a trans-Atlantic phone conversation with Secretary of State Stimson in London late this afternoon, Acting Secretary of State William R. Castle Jr. announced that Mr. Stimson and Mr. Mellon were ready to present the conference with a list of definite suggestions comprising the views of this government as to what the plan for European relief ought to be.

It was expected, said Mr. Castle, that Secretaries Stimson and Mellon would have their opportunity to put forth the American proposal tomorrow.

It is considered self-evident, therefore, that the administration is not going to be content with a passive role in London, but intends aggressively to follow up the President's debt holiday proposal with a plan that, it is hoped, will put the proposal across successfully.

Ambassador Dawes and Senator Dwight W. Morrow reached the White House today in answer to a presidential summons and spent the better part of the day in a series of discussions with President Hoover concerning the European situation.

Mr. Castle explained that the primary reason for Senator Morrow's presence was because of his experience with banking affairs as a Morgan partner, this again emphasizing what official Washington has insisted upon—that the salvation of Germany, and of Europe, is first of all a matter of banking.

Both Ambassador Dawes and Senator Morrow are staying at the White House, the former until he leaves to catch the Mauretania at New York on Wednesday, the latter for several days.

From London, Secretary Stimson described the opening meeting of the conference to President Hoover, and told of Premier MacDonald's opening statement and the Germans' description of their economic and financial problems and needs.

According to Mr. Castle, Secretary Stimson reported the British prime minister's statement as "very friendly," and the atmosphere of the meeting as being cheerful.

REALTY DEALER FOUND VICTIM OF KNIFE, GAS

Frederick H. Gansbergen Jr., 34 years old, of 118 East Oak street, wealthy real estate dealer, was found unconscious shortly before midnight in the home of his mother, Mrs. Maude Gansbergen at 4300 Lake Shore drive, and taken to the Lakeview hospital where it was said his condition was serious. He was suffering from a stab wound, a dose of poison and from the inhalation of gas.

Gansbergen entered the home of his mother while she was visiting in Rogers Park. He first drank the iodine, and then stabbed himself in the abdomen with a butcher knife. He crawled into the kitchen, and turned on the gas. A few minutes later his mother returned. She notified Town Hall police and Sergt. Gus Bellack took Gansbergen to the hospital.

He is the son of the late Frederick H. Gansbergen, attorney, for two terms president of the Lincoln park board and one time Republican nominee for congressman.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Of Illinois' total population of 7,630,654, on April 1, 1930, 79.3 per cent, or nearly 6,050,000, were native white, the census bureau announced today. Foreign born white formed the majority of the remaining population, with 1,218,158 persons, or 16 per cent of the total population. There were 328,972 Negroes and some 35,000 persons of other races.

1 MAN KILLED, 5 ARE WOUNDED IN A LIQUOR RAID

Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—(AP)—Federal prohibition agents, reinforced by city police, tonight raided an alleged liquor depot in the north side. In fighting which followed a reputed alcohol dealer was slain and two dry agents, a city detective, a pedestrian, and another occupant of the place were wounded.

Joe Calio, whose arrest was sought by the ten federal agents and six city officials, was killed by Lieut. E. L. Nelson, Kansas City detective.

Curtis Burks, a dry agent, was paralyzed from the waist down by a bullet and his condition is critical. E. C. Anderson, another agent, was less seriously hurt. Clarence Reedy, police detective, was shot in the neck.

Joseph Lusco, 37, one of eight men placed under arrest, was suffering from a possible skull fracture.

M. P. Wilson, Negro, Bessemer, Ala., was found lying in the street with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

At the height of the excitement a fire broke out in the room, which was over a flower shop. The fire department was summoned and extinguished the blaze, thus adding to the turmoil.

Federal agents reported 14 gallons of liquor were confiscated and believed much more was spilled or destroyed during the raid and subsequent fire. Firearms and ammunition also were seized.

SPANISH STRIKERS RIOT; 3 SLAIN, 20 HURT IN GUNFIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, July 20.—Volleys of gunfire rattled through the narrow streets of Seville today and three killed and twenty wounded are the first casualties of the general strike called by the syndicalists. Four thousand hot blooded workers participated in the riot and tonight the streets were kept clear by mounted troops, carrying rifles.

Gen. San Jurjo, former King Alfonso's right hand man of not so long ago and now the republic's, arrived by airplane to direct the operations.

BURY HOSTESS TO DIPLOMATS; ONLY HUMBLE ATTEND

Mrs. Gann Sole Envoy of Former Guests.

By GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. John B. Henderson, in whose turreted ballroom diplomats danced for half a century, was buried today from that ballroom, with not a diplomat present.

Half a hundred men and women, old women, palsied men, some crippled, some blind, men and women she had befriended in her busy day, were helped to chairs against the brown plush tapestry and waited, timidly, for the great folks to arrive.

MRS. EDWARD E. GANN.

But they didn't come. A white haired man wearing the badge "Society of Oldest Inhabitants" fumbled his way to a seat. Two women from the Anti-Cigaret league fidgeted with the cards on some of the flowers, eager to learn if their floral tribute had come. A handful of servants slipped into chairs behind the palms. In the reception room a delegation of Negroes, mindful of the fact that it was Mrs. Henderson's husband who had introduced into the senate, as member from Missouri, the thirteenth amendment, forbidding slavery, were sobbing.

Estranged Daughter There.

In front of the casket the dead woman's adopted daughter, Mrs. Trixie Wholean, from whom she had been estranged, sat in silence. Across the tiny aisle the dead woman's only blood kin, her niece and nephew, Frances and Henry Arnold, sat equally silent.

Just as the services were beginning there was a flurry at the door of the big stone "castle."

"It's a White House car," somebody whispered.

"It's Mrs. Gann," somebody else volunteered.

The undertaker's assistant, confused, led the Vice President's sister back into the dining room, behind a door. There was more confusion; another assistant rushed out and got a chair, placed it in the ballroom, near the massive mahogany mantel, brought Mrs. Gann to it, just as the minister was beginning the services.

The Rev. Maurice White of All Souls' Unitarian church, preached no sermon. What sermon there was was there in the big castle where senators and ambassadors, cabinet ministers and dowagers had been wont to dine and dance, and where, this hot morning, only one member of officialdom, Mrs. Gann, came to pay last respects.

Mrs. Gann sat only a few seats away from Mrs. Wholean. And it was Mrs. Wholean's suit that stopped Mrs. Henderson's offer, made this winter, of one of her mansions as a home for our Vice President.

Pet Poodle Wanders Forlornly.

As the minister read a passage from Robert Louis Stevenson a friend came down the big staircase and wandered forlornly about in search of something in the crowded room. It was Poppi, the tiny black poodle that had been Mrs. Henderson's companion for years. Jesse Shima, the Japanese butler, glided softly after the poodle, caught it as it was sniffing at a wreath of lilies, the wreath that Shima had sent to his mistress.

The services went on. An old, old woman, in the back of the room, fainted in the heat. Mrs. J. L. Heiskell, the daughter of Lucian Powell, the artist, looked about at her father's Venetian pictures which lined the walls. The quartet sang "Crossing the Bar." Upstairs, Poppi yelped once.

And at the door stood six men, professional pallbearers hired by the undertaker to carry Mrs. John B. Henderson out of the famous "castle" where diplomats danced.

SEEKS CITY LAW TO AVERT MIXING BABES AT HOSPITALS

An ordinance to prevent baby mixups in maternity wards of hospitals was introduced in the city council yesterday by Ald. David L. Sutton [5th]. It provides that footprints of the mother and baby shall be taken in the delivery room, and that the baby shall be marked with adhesive tape, a numbered metal tag and a numbered wrist band. The ordinance was referred to the committee on health, which is expected to hold hearings on it during the summer in conjunction with the health commissioner and hospital authorities.

POLICE SET TRAP AND SEIZE 2 IN EXTORTION PLOT

David Friedman, druggist at 3201 West Washington boulevard, received a letter yesterday informing him that unless he paid $5,000 to a man who would meet him at Rockwell and Madison streets acid would be thrown in his face and his wife's face.

The letter was turned over to Lieut. Edward Kelly of the Fillmore street police station. A squad of policemen concealed themselves in the vicinity while Friedman kept the rendezvous. He was met by Gus Apple, 47 years old, 2340 Maypole avenue, who demanded the package and was given one containing blank paper.

Apple was arrested, but claimed he was only a messenger and was to be paid 25 cents for getting the package. The police followed him for several blocks and arrested Frank Richards, years old, 4544 South St. Louis avenue, alleged employer of the messenger.

EXPECT FACTOR TO BE RELEASED ON BAIL FRIDAY

United States Commissioner Walker yesterday indicated that he would admit John [Jake the Barber] Factor, demanded by England as a $7,000,000 stock swindler, to bail on Friday. The commissioner continued the defense petition for bail until Friday, and announced that meanwhile he would consider what form of bond would be acceptable.

The defense, which includes Attorneys David D. Stansbury and Senator Otis F. Glenn, has offered to put up $50,000 in Liberty bonds, but Commissioner Walker said he must determine whether the bond would run to England, which wants Factor, or to the United States, which is interested only in fulfilling its treaty obligations.

When the commissioner indicated that he would release the former Halsted street hair trimmer on bail, a violent clash between counsel was precipitated by a request of the crown lawyer, Franklin V. Overmyer, for an opinion from a local federal judge.

31 Fined for Sun Basking in Nude; Given Warning

Sun bathing in the nude on the rocks at the south end of 12th street island will cost the members of the Olympia Sun cult $100 each if they are caught at it again. So stated Judge Francis Allegretti in the Boys' court yesterday when thirty-one youths and men were arraigned before him charged with disorderly conduct. After lecturing them severely, the judge fined each $10 and costs and sent them home with the warning.

FOUR OUT OF FIVE AUTOS DEFECTIVE, TESTS INDICATE

Many Cars Dangerous to Traffic, Experts Say.

Tests conducted yesterday in seven safety lanes in various parts of the city indicated that only about one-fifth of the automobiles operated daily on the streets of Chicago are free from mechanical defects which might cause accidents.

Four out of five cars tested at the traffic lane in Grant park, south of the Field museum, had faulty brakes, improperly adjusted lights, loose steering apparatus or some other handicap to safe driving. Of these, the testing experts estimated, 90 per cent are actual traffic menaces.

The safety lanes were established jointly by the Chicago Safety council and the city council committee on traffic and public safety to give motorists of the city a chance to have their cars tested free and to determine the feasibility of an ordinance requiring periodic tests of autos. The tests will be conducted each day this week.

Pleased With Results.

"We are greatly pleased with the public response to the tests," said Guy A. Richardson, vice president of the safety council, last night. "The lanes were filled all day and a large percentage of the defects discovered were immediately repaired."

In the Grant park lane 130 cars were tested in the first four hours. At the end of the inspection the drivers of cars in good condition were given red "O. K." windshield stickers. The others were told to have repairs made and return for another test.

Of the first 130 cars, 104 were found to be defective. Sixty-four had defective headlights, 53 had brakes, 24 unaligned wheels, and 12 faulty steering apparatus. Other parts examined included horns, windshield wipers, rear mirrors, and tail, parking and stop lights.

For the most part the motorists taking the tests were good humored, but a few became irate and questioned the accuracy of the testing machines.

His Taxicab Gets O. K.

Louis Levin, 1529 North Kolin avenue, took the first perfect taxicab through the Grant park lane. He said he had driven a cab for fourteen years without a serious accident.

The locations of the safety lanes in the outlying neighborhoods are as follows: Homan avenue between Warren avenue and Madison street; Fairoaks street between Broadway and Sheridan road; Logan Square; Stony Island avenue between 75th and 79th streets; and Ashland avenue between 63th and 69th streets. Trucks are being tested in the 700 block on West Polk street.

NEW CRUISERS ROLL TOO MUCH IN ROUGH SEAS; TO BE ALTERED

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—The navy has found that its eight new 10,000 ton cruisers roll so sharply in rough water as to interfere with effective gunfire, and has ordered alterations. The defect was discovered in target practice.

Changes installing anti-rolling tanks and larger bilge keels are now being made on the Pensacola and Northampton at the New York and Norfolk, Va., navy yards.

Installation of the tanks on the others will await proof of their success on the Pensacola and Northampton. The work of doubling the width of the bilge keels, and the installation of horizontal fins has already been completed on most of the cruisers.

The navy designers have planned the seven cruisers now under construction in the expectation that excessive rolling be eliminated. The cruisers to be launched are expected to be heavier than those already built because of efforts of the builders to save weight under the incentive of a bonus. Greater weight is figured to increase seaworthiness.

The Northampton is one of the five new cruisers on which cracked sternposts were discovered. The sternpost is being replaced and the anti-rolling alterations made at the same time.

LAUNCHES PROBE OF AUTO RACKETS AND SPEED TRAPS

Grand Jury Acts on Complaints.

The grand jury yesterday initiated an investigation of speed traps, garage and parking extortionists, fake insurance associations and all other forms of racksteering which prey upon motorists in Cook county.

JOSEPH BRAUN.

Numerous complaints from motorists and motor clubs were the cause given for the investigation. The nature of the complaints and the localities to which they refer were not made public, except that it was stated that an alleged speed trap at Midlothian, in the southwest part of the county, was to be investigated.

A committee of the grand jury is to sit every Monday and Thursday afternoon to receive complaints.

Call Club Representatives.

As the first step in the investigation, the jurors called before them representatives of a number of motor clubs. Among them was Joseph Braun, general counsel of the Chicago Motor club, who in 1926 prosecuted the first drive against speed trap racketeers, in coöperation with the state's attorney's office.

The investigation will not be confined to speed traps. Racketeers who exact toll from motorists parking in certain localities, extortionate garages, and spurious motor associations and insurance rackets will be investigated.

Will Scan J. of P. Books.

One subject into which the grand jury will look is the disposition of the fines and fees collected in speeders' courts. Under the law these collections must be used for street and highway repairs and improvements.

The books of various suburban justices of the peace who conduct speeders' courts, as well as the general records of the towns in which they sit, will be examined by the grand jury. The investigation will embrace the Municipal court, to determine whether speeders' fines are applied to proper use.

WM. R. DAWES CHOSEN HEAD OF PORT COMMITTEE

William R. Dawes was elected president of the newly appointed Chicago Regional Port committee, organized under authority of the Indiana and Illinois legislatures, yesterday at the organizing meeting. Mr. Dawes is also president of the Mississippi Valley association, the organization behind the inland waterway movement.

Other members of the commission are Col. Walter J. Riley, East Chicago, Ind., and John T. Pirie, E. M. Antrim and Floyd L. Bateman of Chicago.

It is the new commission's purpose to assemble all data relative to the port area and to select a comprehensive plan for development of facilities. A program will be recommended to the next general assembly of Illinois and Indiana.

The prime purpose of the commission, as planned by the two legislative bodies, is the investigation of the feasibility of a permanent interstate port authority within the area embraced by the Lake Michigan shore line between Waukegan, Ill., and Michigan City, Ind.

HOLD 2 DRIVERS TO GRAND JURY IN AUTO DEATHS

Two motorists whose automobiles killed pedestrians were held to the grand jury on charges of manslaughter yesterday by coroner's juries.

They are Gustav Wehofer, 2133 Grace street, and Jacob Solomon, 1216 South Springfield avenue, a carpenter. Wehofer's sedan ran down Joseph Blackburn, 2650 West Washington street, as the latter stepped into the street in front of his home Saturday. Solomon struck Arthur Johnson, 18 years old, 4631 Homer street, at Palmer street and Laramie avenue Wednesday.

One death yesterday raised the toll for 1931 in Cook county to 629. The victim:

Asberry McGee, 60 years old, colored, 3525 Vincennes avenue. Died at the county hospital from injuries suffered July 16 when he was struck by the automobile of Theodore Harper, 900 East Garfield boulevard, at 39th street and South Parkway.

BROTHER LOSES 'GOOD WISHES' IN WILL OF SISTER

Only her "good wishes" were left to her brother in Germany and to eight nieces and nephews, it was revealed yesterday when the will of Mrs. Ernestine Mannhardt who died Feb. 9, was filed and approved before Oscar Kaplan, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. And even these, the will demanded, "shall be reduced to naught and no more" if the testament is opposed, as it was.

The $40,000 estate of the woman was left to Gustav Miethke, another nephew, and his wife, Anna, in whose home at 2224 Ainslie avenue, Niles Center, Mrs. Mannhardt had lived. The nieces and nephews, now deprived even of their aunt's good wishes are: William, August, and Otto Miethke of Niles Center, and Albert Muth, 639 Alaska street; and Anna Helmuth, Agnes Fehling, and Martha Miethke of Sonnenberg, Germany, and Mrs. Mary Führmann of Niles Center. Ernst Miethke, also of Sonnenberg, is the brother.

Attorney John Immel, who represented the disinherited relatives, announced that he would appeal the finding.

County Attorney Henry Mencke said that he believed Osterman died of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head. The body was found by Mrs. Osterman.

SENATOR FORCED TO TESTIFY IN CANADIAN PROBE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., July 20.—Senator Wilfrid Laurier McDougald, one of the storm centers of the investigation of the Beauharnois Power corporation by a parliamentary committee, appeared as a witness today in response to a summons, after refusing for days to testify.

The government had planned to arrest him if he failed to respond to the summons, and grilled him for two hours after he appeared.

He denied exploiting his influence as a senator in his relations with the corporation, and said he knew nothing of the bipartisan distribution of nearly one million dollars in campaign funds by Robert O. Sweezey, president of the company.

2 ARMY PILOTS DIE IN AERIAL TRAFFIC TANGLE

Civilian Plane Flies Into Military Formation.

Hartford, Conn., July 20.—[Special.]—Two army flyers were killed, two others saved themselves by leaping with parachutes and a civilian on the ground was injured by falling debris when two service planes, in collision, broke over Newington, plunged 1,000 feet to earth, one of them bursting into flames.

The two planes, part of a formation of six traveling from Mitchel Field, L. I., to the Pratt & Whitney aircraft plant at East Hartford, crashed as the army group dived to avoid an approaching civilian plane.

Lieut. Benjamin Laury, reserve pilot, of Hempsted, L. I., and Corporal Donald Stroayader, whose home was in Wichita, Kas., lost their lives and were buried with their ship.

Two Take to Parachutes.

The plane into which they crashed was manned by Lieut. Francis X. Kelly, reserve pilot, of Brooklyn, and Sergt. David L. Spicer of Fairview, N. J., who leaped their parachutes and landed clear. Lieut. Kelly landed in a tree and Sergt. Spicer among telegraph wires, but both escaped with a few scratches.

Wreckage from Lieut. Kelly's plane struck Michael Petricelli of Meriden, who was standing near a laundry. He was taken to a hospital suffering from a broken leg and other injuries.

John Kaberski of New Britain told of coming to the burning plane as it struck the ground and trying to rescue the men in it.

Rescue Back by Flames.

"I got one of them by the arm," he said, "but his feet must have been caught in something, for I could not make him. Another man came to help me, but before we could do anything we were driven back by the flames.

"The poor fellow whose arm I had hold of did not say a word. He was breathing heavily, but I guess he realized he was done for. He could not help himself a bit."

In telling what led up to the collision, Lieut. Leon Johnson, commanding the six planes, which were proceeding in a formation of two Vs of three planes each, would make no direct accusation, but said that a commercial plane, painted blue and silver, approached on the same level. Following a signal, the army planes dived and turned slightly to the right.

As the planes leveled off after the dive, the rear right plane of the leading V grazed the rear left ship of the other V-shaped group and both planes crumpled and fell. The commercial plane, Lieut. Johnson declared, did not turn to the right.

Deputy State Aviation Commissioner Silas Lenet took off from Brainerd field, Hartford, this forenoon in a state owned plane, painted blue and silver. He said that he had passed the army formation when, looking back, he witnessed the collision.

Bride's Mother Helps "Elopement"

MR. AND MRS. MANFORD ETTINGER.

Father Opposed

Miss Alice Hamburger, 19 years old, 1634 East 53d street, and Manford Ettinger, 24 years old, 1373 East 57th street, were married yesterday in an elopement aided by the girl's mother, and opposed by her father, Alfred Hamburger, wealthy real estate dealer at 127 North Dearborn street. Ettinger is a divinity student. His bride is a student at the University of Chicago.

Accompanied by Mrs. Hamburger, the students obtained a license in the county building, and were married by Judge Sterling Pomeroy of the Superior court. Meanwhile Hamburger, suspecting an elopement, notified Hyde Park police. Sergt. Fred Tapscott sought the elopers. Leonard J. Grossman, Hamburger's attorney, was also called into the case. Later the wedding party appeared. Hamburger, police reported, refused to give his parental blessing to the union.

His objection, it was said, was based principally on the fact that Ettinger was divorced only last May 25.

2 STRAW HATS: A LITTLE DRAMA OF LIFE IN LOOP

But Ending Is Happy for Two Chief Actors.

There journeyed to luncheon yesterday noon James H. C. Hill, real estate broker with offices at 160 North La Salle street. He wore a sailor straw hat, not particularly new, but prized by him as well fitting and serviceable.

There also journeyed to luncheon Attorney Herman V. Silvertrust, with offices at 111 West Washington street. He also wore a sailor straw hat, not particularly new, but prized by him as well fitting, etc.

It so chanced that Mr. Hill and Attorney Silvertrust lunched in the dining room of the Chicago Real Estate board at 57 West Monroe street. Both are members of the board. Each hung his straw hat on the rack outside the dining room.

Lawyer Is Out First.

Attorney Silvertrust finished his repast first. As he went past the rack he grabbed a hat and put it upon his head.

Mr. Hill emerged sometime later. The satisfied smile that adorns the countenance of one who has dined well was supplanted by a frown as Mr. Hill looked for his straw hat. It was gone.

Mr. Hill voiced an indignant protest. H. H. Haylett, business manager of the real estate board, came running. He endeavored to pacify Mr. Hill. The latter would not be soothed. He wanted his hat.

Mr. Hill and Mr. Haylett waited while other members finished their dining and departed. Presently, there remained only one straw hat. It contained the initials H. V. S. Mr. Haylett had an inspiration. He looked through the records of the board for a member with those initials. He found the name of Attorney Herman V. Silvertrust. He called up the lawyer.

Another Hat Is Missing.

"About your hat—" he began and was interrupted.

"That's what I want to know," stormed Attorney Silvertrust. "Where IS my hat?"

It seems that Attorney Silvertrust had gone to a barber shop at 107 West Monroe street and hung up the hat he wore away from the dining room. After his haircut the lawyer looked at the rack. His own straw hat was not there. In its place was a strange hat which bore the initials J. H. C. H.

It was not Attorney Silvertrust's turn to tell the world vigorously that his hat was gone. Barbers and porters tried to tell him that there were other hats in the world. But Attorney Silvertrust wanted his own hat. He had returned to his office and was scowling at life when he received the telephone call from the real estate board.

Mr. Hill and Attorney Silvertrust were brought together at the real estate board. The lawyer had returned to the barber shop, apologized, and taken the Hill hat. Amenities and hats were exchanged. Mr. Hill looked fondly at his hat and placed it firmly on his head. Attorney Silvertrust did likewise.

They went their ways, rejoicing.

TEXAS THEATERS TAKE WHEAT AS ADMISSION FEE

Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—(AP)—Not all of the bumper wheat crop of the southwest will reach market through the regular channels.

With wheat down as low as 25 cents a bushel, farmers are not only using it as a medium of exchange, but they are finding numerous means of consumption heretofore unknown.

In the Texas Panhandle theaters are admitting farmers and their families for a specified amount of wheat; dentists exchange dental work for it; mills accept it in exchange for flour, and almost every newspaper in the section is paying above market price for the wheat for subscriptions.

Outlying districts of the north plains have announced that some farmers will burn wheat for fuel this winter, rather than haul in coal.

JUSTICE SONSTEBY CONDEMNS SALE OF TICKETS IN COURTS

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court yesterday described as "unfortunate, if not reprehensible" the practice of court employés selling tickets for political meetings and entertainments sponsored by their superiors, especially when defendants in the court are the buyers.

The attention of the chief justice had been called to the sale of tickets for the annual picnic promoted by Joseph L. Gill, chief clerk of the court, to be held Aug. 8. Tickets were parceled out to employés of the clerk's office to sell at fifty cents each. Complaints have been made by persons transacting business in the courts that purchase of the tickets is almost obligatory.

Mr. Gill was at his summer cottage in Wisconsin yesterday. His secretary, Joseph O'Leary, said that each of the employés had been given tickets to sell but he denied that the purchase of them was in any way obligatory. He said he would take steps to prevent any further attempts to sell tickets to court defendants.

It is said that many tickets have been sold in Traffic court to speeders who considered fifty cents or a dollar a good investment in the good will of court attaches.

Library Employes Will Get Payless Vacations

An obligatory two weeks vacation without pay, or its equivalent in five day weeks was decided upon for all employés of the Chicago public library at the meeting of the library board last night. The plan will be fitted to the needs of the various departments of the library by the board's administration committee. A saving of about $55,000 will be effected by the vacations without pay.

SWANSON BACKS EFFORT OF UNION TO OUST MALOY

Efforts on the part of unionists to oust Thomas E. Maloy from his entrenched position as czar of the motion picture operators' union and dictator of theater owners will have the support of the state's attorney's office, according to statements made yesterday.

THOMAS E. MALOY.

Pending a further grand jury investigation of Maloy's affairs and the possible voting of additional indictments against him the state's attorney's office will furnish protection to a meeting of the union this morning. Assistant State's Attorneys Charles E. Lounsbury and Charles Bellows, who have charge of the motion picture "racket" investigation, said they would give the union members every opportunity to clean house.

Information imparted to them puts Maloy in the position of having exacted tribute from the union members for many years and of sharing it with Al Capone in return for "gorillas" to do his works of violence. They said that whereas Maloy had once been of great help to the union members, through putting their wage scale up to where practically all the operators make more than $100 a week, in recent years he had been doing a great harm to the cause of trade unionism.

Blake Scott Injures Ankle Dancing in Ravinia Opera

Blake Scott, principal male dancer of the Ravinia Opera company, suffered an injury to one of his ankles last evening while dancing with Ruth Page in the second act of "La Rondine." He sank into a chair and succeeding in concealing the fact that he had been injured from most of the audience. A physician was called to bandage the injured ankle and Blake was then taken home.

DOCTOR ON TRIAL AFTER HE DODGES JUSTICE 3 YEARS

Dr. Thomas Ney, 7016 Stony Island avenue, who has dodged trial for almost three years on one charge of murder by abortion, was placed on trial before Judge Joseph B. David in the Criminal court yesterday and the selection of a jury begun to try him for another similar charge—the death of Miss Elma Brompa, 18 years old, of Angora, Minn., by an illegal operation.

Miss Brompa died last April 26, but Ney is also accused of causing the death of Miss Eunice McElroy, 21 years old, who died on Nov. 14, 1928, as the result of an illegal operation. This case, according to the court records, has been continued 25 times.

Eight Jurors Chosen.

Last night Ney was in a cell in the county jail, his $10,000 bond set aside by Judge David when Assistant State's Attorneys John L. Murphy and George Lavin questioned its legality since they are asking the death penalty for the defendant. Eight jurors, each qualified to inflict such punishment, had been chosen when court adjourned, and there was hope that the box might be filled this morning.

Simultaneously with the start of the trial, Chief Inspector J. E. Edwards of the department of registration and education announced that he would cite Ney before the department's medical advisory board, asking that his license be revoked. He believes the grant was given fraudulently, saying that he has evidence to show that Ney attended two medical schools, but did not satisfactorily complete courses entitling him to a license.

Edwards' assistant, Inspector C. E. Monahan, stated he has evidence tending to show that Ney committed abortions in nine cases, at least, each of the victims dying under harrowing circumstances, which tend to show that they were silenced by poison so that they could not reveal incriminatory evidence.

Monahan has witnesses, he said, including Mrs. McElroy, mother of the girl who died in 1928, who will swear that Ney, when visiting a patient after his lack of skill and sanitation had resulted in serious blood poisoning, would send an attendant for a prescription of mild sedatives, and while this was being brought would inject a fluid into the girl. In each case, Monahan said, none of the nine was able to speak a word after the injection and each died in agony in this dumb state.

Ney's abortion trial was set for June 16 before Judge John Prystalski and was averted then only because Dr. S. A. Levinson, a coroner's physician and the chief state's witness, was in Long Beach, Cal., attending a patient. He has returned and is ready to testify.

Death to Be Asked.

The defendant came into court yesterday to face the demand of Prosecutors Murphy and Lavin that his bond be set aside and he be remanded to the jail. "We can't see how he hasn't been there all the time," said Lavin. "We intend to ask the death penalty."

"You're quite right," said Judge David, and Ney was taken into custody.

In its questioning of witnesses, the state showed a preference for married men of family and asked each if he had an opinion on birth control. If such an opinion was expressed, the state did not choose him. The defense, on the other hand, seemed looking for young men, unattached.

LONG DISTANCE SNIPERS KILL 2 IN MINE STRIKE

Charleston, W. Va., July 20.—(AP)—Two men who abandoned the cause of striking miners in the southern West Virginia coal fields were slain today by high-powered rifle bullets as they were about to enter the Raymond City Coal company mine in Putnam county.

The killings were the first to occur since the strike was called by the West Virginia Mine Workers union July 4. Company officials said there had been no previous trouble at the mine.

About to Enter Mine.

The men slain were Clarence Kyle 29, and Cyrus Shelton Spaulding, 41. Spaulding was a motorman and Kyle his helper. Both were about to enter the mine with Kyle's father and two brothers and another miner. Kyle's brothers said they heard two metallic sounds and Kyle and Spaulding fell from their mine car.

Another train of cars carrying 95 miners was about to emerge from a tunnel into a clearing at the mouth of the mine. Kyle's brothers shut off the electric current to prevent the train from continuing and exposing the other miners to the rifle fire.

The shots were fired from a wooded mountain across a creek, according to testimony given at an inquest this afternoon.

One Suspect Arrested.

William Goff, 21, was arrested as a suspect, and John Holston and his 16 year old son were held as material witnesses. All three denied any knowledge of the slayings. State police said they had been employed by the Raymond City company but were on strike.

Otto Remmelin, general manager and vice president of the company, said the shooting was designed to intimidate the 100 men still working in the mine. Frank Keeney, president of the West Virginia Mine Workers, said that organization had discouraged any attempts at violence. The union called the strike in an effort to obtain recognition and wage agreements with the operators.

ESCAPED BEARS INJURE THREE IN CAPITAL SUBURB

Citizens Fight Two Beasts for Two Hours.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Shopping a heavy chain which held them, two large black bears broke loose in East Falls Church, Va., this morning, mauled three men and ran wild through the streets for two hours before one was shot and the other recaptured.

Women and children ran screaming to their homes as the bears, made furious by the hot weather, rampaged through the town with nearly 100 heavily armed men in pursuit.

The three men injured were Dr. J. D. Howard, Homer Sumter, a garage employé, and E. C. Carter, a telephone lineman. Although severely clawed and beaten, their injuries were not considered serious.

Brought from Alaska.

The bears were captured several years ago in Alaska by E. R. Maheer, a Falls Church automobile dealer. The animals had been kept chained in a shed in the rear of his garage. The recent hot weather is said to have made them vicious, and last week one of the bears attacked Will Dunn, a garage employé, who has since been on crutches.

In some unknown manner the bears broke the chain with which they were confined and sallied forth shortly after 5 o'clock. Nearly an hour later Dr. Howard, who lives half a mile from the animals' quarters, happened to glance through his kitchen window. There, peering through the post, was a black bear.

The startled citizen rubbed his eyes and stared unbelievingly, and a moment later the bear attacked a cow in the back yard. Dr. Howard went to the cow's rescue and was knocked down by the bear. He was severely mauled before neighbors finally succeeded in driving the animal off.

Surrounded and Slain in Swamp.

Meanwhile the other bear showed up near the home of Clark Crossman, on the town's main street. Crossman opened fire with a shotgun and the bear retreated into the recesses of a swamp on the outskirts of the community. The beast was driven to cover in the swamp and finally was killed with a rifle bullet fired by Deputy Sheriff Fred Herrman.

The other bear, by this time, had returned to the main section, where the male citizens hastily armed themselves with clubs and guns, while their wives and children took shelter in their homes. The crowd of men tried to capture the fighting bear alive and Carter and Sumter were clawed in the ensuing melée.

The beast, however, was finally driven into a garage owned by J. V. Sweet. A man drove his automobile into the entrance, penning the bear in. Others climbed onto the rafters overhead and, after numerous failures, succeeded in roping the animal. The bear was then muzzled and tied, and taken back to its cage.

JILTED WOMAN TO SUE HUSBAND OF 'MA' KENNEDY

Los Angeles, Cal., July 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ethel Parker Harbert, third near wife of What-a-Man G. E. Hudson, "Ma." Kennedy's spouse, tonight announced she would add a lawsuit of her own to the annulment and divorce actions filed against Hudson.

The 30 year old woman, who took out a license to wed Hudson here in January, 1930, said her attorney would file suit tomorrow charging Hudson with breach of promise, withholding jewelry and cash belonging to her.

Mrs. Kennedy's annulment action against Hudson comes up for hearing here Thursday. Mrs. Margaret Newton-Hudson's suit for divorce and alimony, charging Hudson with profligacy, cruelty, and desertion, is filed, but has not been dated for hearing yet.

VETERAN OF U. S. OFFICE VANISHES IN BATHING SUIT

Wilson C. Burns, 726 Roscoe street, assistant cashier of customs, has been missing from his home since yesterday morning, when he left clad only in a blue bathing suit and red and white dressing gown, it was revealed late yesterday in a police missing message.

Police aid in finding him was asked by John C. Cox, auditor of the customs office. According to Cox, his books and records were in excellent condition. Members of the family said they feared Burns was drowned. He had been in ill health recently and was subject to spells of dizziness, but he is known as an excellent swimmer.

Burns, who is 50 years old, and has been in the service of the custom's department in the Federal building here for thirty years, left home with the intention of going to the foot of Roscoe street for a swim.

Both police and United States secret service men are seeking Burns. Secret service men say that his room is in perfect shape with nothing missing except the bathing suit and dressing gown.

The description sent out over the police teletype described Burns as 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighing 125 pounds, and "very thin."

Burns has a sister, Mrs. L. A. Havens, 1247 Arthur street, and a brother, H. F. Burns, 1112 Elmwood avenue, Oak Park. He is estranged from his wife.

TROOPS BATTLE INSURGENTS; 8 DIE IN NICARAGUA

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 20.—(AP)—At least eight men were killed and several wounded in fighting between national guard troops and insurgents in several places in Nicaragua over the week-end, according to reports reaching here tonight. United States marine airplanes patrols were being sent from Managua tonight to aid the national guard.

A Guardia patrol was ambushed on the Coco river at Kisalaya on Saturday, the report said, by a group of 40 insurgents. After sharp fighting the insurgents scattered, leaving three dead.

At Rama, on the Escondido river, a large group of men yesterday entered the town, armed with pistol and machetes, and were driven out by the national guard after twenty minutes of street fighting, in which three of the invaders and one member of the national guard were killed.

It was also officially confirmed that the Sandinista chieftain, Pedro Altamirano, with 250 men, yesterday entered and sacked the small mining town of Santo Domingo, in Chontales department. A small force of six policemen fired on the insurgents, killing one of them.

CONTRACTING CO. GETS $275,000 AWARD IN SUIT

A verdict awarding $275,000 was returned by a jury in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's court yesterday to Twohy Brothers, Inc., west coast contractors, who charged six investment houses with extortion in connection with an Arizona bond issue.

The suit charged that the defendants purchased bonds for the building of a road in Arizona in 1921 and that when the bond market fell off they threatened Twohy Brothers, the contractors, with bankruptcy unless they paid $185,000. This amount was paid, but the contractors brought suit through the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green & Martin for recovery of the sum, plus interest.

The defendants were the Mississippi Valley Trust company, St. Louis; the Detroit Trust company, Detroit; Elston & Co. [now A. C. Allyn & Co.], R. M. Grant & Co. [now Morris Mather & Co.], Chicago; C. W. McNear & Co., Chicago, and Bolger, Mosser and Willaman [now Mosser, Willaman & Co.], Chicago. A motion for a new trial was continued to July 30.

NAB 20 SUSPECTS IN $7,000 HOLDUP OF W. SIDE BANK

Police on Trail of 5 Fast Working Gunmen.

Police last night rounded up twenty men, some of them possessing records, for questioning in connection with the robbery earlier in the day of the West Side Atlas National bank, 1001 West Roosevelt road, which enriched five fast working gunmen to the extent of $7,000.

THOMAS J. HEALY.

Employés of the bank and other victims of the holdup viewed the suspects but failed to identify any of them. Pictures of two men, not in custody, were tentatively identified, however.

After the twenty suspects had been held in custody for several hours, all but seven or eight were released. Those remaining were ordered booked for disorderly conduct, as they possessed police records.

Robbers Work Rapidly.

The bank robbery was executed with rapidity. Thomas J. Healy, president, thirty employés, and twenty patrons were in the bank when the gunmen burst in. "Keep your feet away from those alarm buzzers," the leader warned. He kept the employés and customers in submission while his confederates scooped up the money.

Departure of the outlaws was as fast as their entrance. In their haste, one of the bandits dropped $400 in bills and currency. All but $10 of this was scooped up by men, women, and children on the scene. The $10 bill was handed to West Park Policeman James Peterson by a girl employé of the bank as he ran to intercept the gunmen. Peterson pursued the robbers in a commandeered car, firing at them, but was outdistanced.

Security Office Robbed.

Three armed men entered the offices of the Guaranty Mortgage and Security company, 1110 North Ashland avenue, last night, obtaining $822, an undetermined amount of negotiable bonds, and a wrist watch valued at $150.

Peter Niemira, 3942 North Keeler avenue, president of the company, had just taken the money from the safe, before closing for the night, when the robbers entered.

Their faces hidden by black masks, three armed men entered the office of the Stockton Transfer company, 1020 South Canal street, yesterday and, after threatening Charles Toomey, the cashier, took $200 from the safe.

They escaped in an auto.

BREAK AWAY IN FIGHT

Green Bay, Wis., July 20.—[Special.]—A robber gang armed with machine guns raided the South Side State bank here today, took $5,000 from the vaults and tellers' cages and then shot their way through a detail of policemen who arrived in front of the bank while they were inside.

In the battle Chief of Police Thomas Hawley, and Detectives Gus De Love and Martin Burke were injured. One of the bandits, it is believed, also was wounded.

Scoops Currency from Cages.

The robbery occurred shortly before noon. The robbers, riding in a black sedan, halted in front of the bank and three of them dashed across the sidewalk. At least two more remained in the car.

Inside the bank building were Frank Slupinski, assistant cashier, four other employes and three customers. All were commanded roughly by the trio of bandits to lie on the floor. Although they complied quickly one of the robbers beat Slupinski and Earl Cayer, a teller, on their heads. Their injuries were serious enough to warrant treatment in a hospital.

Then while one of the men guarded the prisoners, the others went through the cages, scooping up currency.

Give Battle to Police.

Meanwhile the police had been notified by people outside that a robbery was in progress and Chief Hawley and his three men arrived before the robbers had emerged. As they approached rapidly one of the sentinels in the bandit sedan opened fire. It was returned by the police.

De Love was shot in the left eye and the left arm. Chief Hawley and Burke, were struck and severely cut by flying glass when bullets poured through the windshield in front of them. Burke and De Namur, however, leaped from the police automobile took cover behind trees and continued to fire at the robbers.

Without delay the driver started and with both sides still pouring lead at each other while motorists and pedestrians took cover, the car was swung around a corner and out of sight.

At St. Mary's hospital it was said tonight that the condition of De Love was serious. Wounds of the others were slight.

CHARGE CANADA RUM BOAT USED GAS ON U. S. MEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—The state department today transmitted to Hanford MacNider, American minister to Canada, the complaint of the coast guard officials against the rum runner Cadet of Weymouth, Nova Scotia.

The coast guard declared that the crew of the rum runner during the pursuit off Nantucket on the night of June 18 introduced "a noxious gas or chemical" into the engine exhaust and that the crew of the coast guard cutter 149 was made violently ill.

The department of state is transmitting the complaint of the coast guard to Ottawa, not as a protest, but with the request that the proper Canadian authorities take such action as they may find possible.

COUNTY'S WAGE SYSTEM FARCE, BOARD IS TOLD

Amelia Sears Criticizes Department Heads.

Pay roll difficulties provided the finance committee of the county board material for a busy session yesterday.

The committee took a short recess and met as the board proper to approve pay rolls totaling $400,000 for the last half of June, which will be paid today. The action was taken after Commissioner Amelia Sears had criticized the way in which pay rolls were submitted, charging that department heads were ignoring the economy suggestions made by the board.

AMELIA SEARS.

The finance committee adopted her resolution providing that, beginning next month, the board will approve no pay rolls until department heads comply with the terms of previous board resolutions requiring time records of attendance, illness, and absence of all employes and a proper audit of such reports by the comptroller's office.

Calls Method a Farce.

"The procedure now being followed is a farce," Commissioner Sears said. "Pay roll reports for staffs of 100 to 500 employes show perfect attendance, with no illness or absences."

"It's a good advertisement for Chicago health," commented Commissioner George A. Miller.

The committee received from the board of assessors a request for permission to transfer $50,450 from the fund specially appropriated for the 1931 quadrennial assessment to the fund for payment of overtime and extras to regular employes. The money, designated for employment of technical experts in the reassessment, would then be used for payrollers at $6 and $6.40 a day. The request was referred to J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency engineer.

"The request means a transfer of funds appropriated for specific purposes to an uncertain purpose for which an appropriation has been made and which is now exhausted prematurely," he said.

Recommend Bond Issue.

The committee recommended a refunding bond issue for $372,500 to pay interest on county bonds due Aug. 1, which the county has no funds to pay.

Representatives of the American Legion appeared before the committee and requested an appropriation of $25,000 for the expenses of the national convention of the Legion proposed to be held in Chicago in 1932. Action was deferred until discussion of the 1932 county budget is started in the fall.

1,500 ASK FOR SCRIP

For the first time since the school board started receiving applications from its payless employes for scrip, teachers applied yesterday in considerable numbers. Charles E. Gilbert, secretary of the board, estimated that half of the 1,500 persons who applied for scrip in amounts totaling $600,000 were teachers.

Employes who received the applications said that most of the teachers, whose organizations have opposed the scrip plan from the first, had little idea where they would dispose of it. Many of the teachers who applied said they were penniless and were grasping at the scrip as a last straw.

Approximately 70 per cent of the plant employes have applied for scrip, Secretary Gilbert said. Scrip certificates totaling more than $350,000 will be ready today for the 900 persons who made their applications last Wednesday.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DROWNED.

Wandaliville, Ind., July 20.—[Special.]—The body of an unidentified man about 65 years old was recovered from Sibley lake bathing beach today. Clothes found on the beach led authorities to make a search. A spectacle case stamped Moroney, Mich., is the only clew to the victim's identity.

CHARGE COUNTY BONDS ILLEGAL IN TAX PROTEST

Objections to 1929 Levy Flood Court.

tion two of article two of the state constitution.

Cites Value of Property.

Another complainant cites a finding of the state tax commission, dated Jan. 8, 1931, in which it asserts that there is 16 billion dollars' worth of personal property. This objector says that the valuation of personal property for taxing purposes has never been over $900,000,000 and has recently been as low as $751,000,000.

This objector asserts that this illegal system of taxation placed an excessive burden upon real estate which amounts to fraud and discriminatory action. The objectors plead for relief from oppressive taxation, and some of the lawyers asserted that this contention will be carried to the state supreme court.

How many parcels of property are involved in the objections it is difficult to estimate. Nearly every objection has three to a dozen lots, and some objections have several hundred. A few perhaps several thousand. To the 1928 taxes about 11,000 objections were filed and these covered $2,000 pieces of property.

KILLED BY HIS OWN GUN.

FIND FOOD WASTE IN INDIFFERENCE AT OAK FOREST

Appointment of at least twenty-two persons, trained along various technical and professional lines, to the staff of the Oak Forest infirmary was recommended as an emergency measure to the public service committee of the county board yesterday.

The recommendation was made by Joel D. Hunter, superintendent of the United Charities, who is chairman of a committee appointed to investigate the home last February by Mayor Cermak, then president of the county board.

The report of his committee, which Mr. Hunter submitted to the county commissioners, criticized in particular the food served at the institution, and recommended the employment at once of three qualified dietetians to supervise the purchase and preparation of food.

Favors Variety in Diet.

"It is not so much that the quality or quantity of the food is at fault," said Mr. Hunter, "as it is that the proper type of food is not purchased, and what is purchased is not prepared properly. There is not enough variety in the diet. No attempt is made to fit the diet to the individual inmate. Uniform meals are prepared for more than 4,000 inmates, regardless of their special dietary requirements.

"Employment of the dietetians would not be an added expense. They would save more than their salaries in the proper purchase and preparation of food."

The report also found the hospital of the home seriously undermanned. There are only six physicians on duty, where there should be twenty, it stated. Mr. Hunter recommended the immediate employment of two more physicians. At present six nurses care for twelve wards in the hospital, each containing twenty-seven patients. He urged that ten more graduate nurses be employed.

At present persons may be sent to the home, which is 30 per cent overcrowded, from five sources. They may be admitted on the recommendation of the county bureau of public welfare, of the individual county commissioners, of the county hospital authorities, of the township supervisors in country towns, or of the investigators attached to the tuberculosis hospital at Oak Forest.

Clerical Help Needed.

It was recommended that five persons be employed in a bureau to coordinate all admissions under the county public welfare bureau. The staff at the infirmary also is in need of clerical and stenographic help, the report states.

Frank Venecek, superintendent of the home, is a capable executive but not all of his assistants are as capable, Mr. Hunter stated.

WOMAN DIES OF CRASH HURTS.

Coldwater, Mich., July 20.—Mrs. J. Scott McKibben, 28, Dearborn, died in Wade hospital here at noon today, the result of head injuries incurred in an auto smash at Jonesville near here late Sunday night.

TWO COPS UNDER U. S. SENTENCES FIRED BY CITY

Mayor Cermak's new city civil service commission, which has ousted 34 policemen since its organization May 30, swung its ax again yesterday. It ordered the discharge of Policeman Wellington W. Britton and James H. Howland, both previously convicted in the federal court of dope peddling.

WELLINGTON BRITTON.

At the same session the commission recommended the dismissal of Dr. Edmund L. Brunswick, former supervisor of health inspection in the health department, who had been charged by Health Commissioner Bundesen with neglect of duty and pernicious political activity during the mayoralty campaign. Dr. Brunswick has been in the health department for 18 years.

Two in Trouble Before.

The dismissal of Howland, who is colored, and Britton, who says he is an Indian, ended the police careers of two detectives who several times before had been involved in trouble. Once they were accused of beating a young caddy master when they arrested him on suspicion, but this case did not come before the trial board.

The pair were seized by federal agents last December after they were alleged to have conspired with James Cluburn, Joseph Campbell, and William Poole, all colored, to confiscate a supply of morphine from a south side flat. They were sentenced to two years in Leavenworth penitentiary for violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act. Jackie Reynolds, a taxi driver, was also convicted of conspiracy but was extended probation for testifying against the others. Howland and Britton are appealing in the federal case.

Charged with Taking Bribes.

Before the civil service commission the two detectives were charged with accepting bribes to release narcotic peddlers and with framing the case to obtain possession of the drugs.

Reynolds was the principal witness against Howland and Britton. Britton, in his own defense, declared that he was the victim of political spitework on the part of an assistant state's attorney. They made a blanket denial of the charges.

"Political persecution" also was the defense of Dr. Brunswick, whose case was taken under advisement several days ago. He was accused of circulating political pledge cards and of spending his time promoting testimonial banquets. One of these was given for former Health Commissioner A. H. Kegel. Tickets sold for $5 each and a $3,000 grand piano was presented to Mrs. Kegel.

An investigation of the legal tenure of Loren D. Gayton, suspended city engineer, was continued to July 22 by the commission to allow both sides time to submit briefs in the case.

ROB STORE A SECOND TIME.

Two armed bandits yesterday made their second visit in two weeks to the Regal shoe store, 119 South Dearborn street, taking $56 and two pairs of shoes. S. W. Desk, 5050 North Clark street, manager, said the pair robbed him of $280 two weeks ago.

12 WAYS You Can PROVE.. ALLSTATE is America's Greatest Tire Value!

When we put ALLSTATE tires on the market, it was with the thought that they would be worthy of the Sears name and the Sears reputation. So we went to the manufacturer whose record was without a single blemish—whose products were accepted everywhere as the standard of rubber quality.

Thus the greatest tire manufacturing organization, trained and experienced in the production of America's finest tires, and the world's greatest distributing organization, dealing with over 12 million families, joined in making and selling ALLSTATE tires. Unknown six years ago—unnamed as well—ALLSTATE'S quality has brought this tire to leadership in sales direct to users. Never, in the history of the tire industry, has there been a success to match ALLSTATE'S. Today individual tire buyers, in selecting tires, pick ALLSTATE over all other brands.

AND YOU SAVE 25%

ALLSTATE is a first quality tire. First quality, we said, and we mean that. We are willing to let you judge by quality standards alone whether ALLSTATE tires are the tires for you to buy.

ALLSTATE is so good, so well made, so sturdily built that we are proud of its construction. There are, as all tire engineers know, 12 real factors of quality in every tire—not three, not six, not nine, but twelve. So that you may know them, we are listing them here.

One out of every nine tires bought by tire users is an ALLSTATE. The next time you buy tires, buy ALLSTATE — the tire which millions know to be the greatest tire value in America.

COUNCIL PASSES PHONE FRANCHISE BY 37-12 VOTE

at 3 per cent of the gross "revenues," whereas the old franchise specified gross "receipts." Under the new wording the city controller's figures show that the city will lose at least $27,000 a year.

For 1929 under the old ordinance the compensation would be $1,975,000. Under the terms of the new grant it would be $1,948,000. The ordinance provides for a minimum payment of $2,000,000 a year.

While in the expired grant the company was definitely obligated to pay the entire cost of relocating its equipment in the event subways are constructed, it is required in the new grant to pay only the same proportionate share as the Commonwealth Edison and the Chicago Local Transportation companies.

Cost Set at $500,000 a Mile.

These relocation costs for the telephone company have been estimated at as high a figure as $500,000 a mile. In case the telephone company does not pay the entire cost the city, the aldermen have pointed out, will have to share the cost. Legal delays in subway construction also are possible, the opposing aldermen contended.

The proponents of the ordinance rode along smoothly for a time, getting an average of approximately 34 votes to defeat amendments proposed by the opponents. But in a parliamentary confusion over the time to be allowed Ald. Nelson to file a minority report for the record, the aldermen broke out against Mayor Cermak.

"This isn't the county board," Nelson shouted. "You can make up your mind you can't bluff me."

"The mayor for whom you were floor leader has gone," retorted Cermak. "You have run the council long enough. Of the seven hours that we have been here, you have talked six." When some one tried to interrupt Nelson a short minute later, the mayor said: "Wait a minute. I want to give him (Nelson) all the rope he wants." He called attention also to the fact that Nelson has repeatedly broken council rules throughout the session.

Nelson Makes Retort.

Further dispute found Nelson saying: "Mr. Boss, have just a little decency in your makeup. Mr. Mussolini, it is hard for you to let any one else talk."

Earlier a parliamentary ruling of the mayor angered Ald. Clark. During a roll call on Ald. Arvey's motion to table Nelson's proposal that the contract ordinance state that the company must have its directories printed by union labor, Arvey asked permission to withdraw his motion. Clark insisted that the roll call continue.

Then the following colloquy ensued:

THE MAYOR—I'll do what the majority of the council wants.

CLARK—I'll talk an hour about this.

THE MAYOR—You can talk two hours.

Insists "Law Be Obeyed."

CLARK—Well, I'll talk you out. I insist that the law be complied with. I also insist that you obey the rules of the council. Your duty is to have the roll call continued.

THE MAYOR—I am still ready to do what the majority of the council desires.

CLARK—And don't try to gavel us [meaning opponents of the ordinance as drawn] or I'll break with you tomorrow.

The roll call was completed, but the vote was never announced because Arvey upon completion was allowed to withdraw his motion to table. A straight vote on Nelson's proposal, which followed, showed the aldermen to be in favor of the union labor proposal by a vote of 42 to 6. The unannounced roll call on Arvey's tabling motion was 41 to 5.

Passage of the Nelson amendment, marking the first time that the proponents' ranks had been disorganized and that because of Nelson's interpretation that a vote against him meant a vote against union labor, led Ald. Arvey to threaten to postpone consideration of the ordinance.

Proposition Finally Tabled.

"Officials of the company told me not fifteen minutes ago that this amendment is not acceptable to them," said Arvey. "I'll give you (Nelson) the job of drafting an ordinance now. I worked two years on this and now I'll take a vacation."

Instead the council reconsidered the vote and recessed for 90 minutes, and when the session was resumed Arvey renewed his motion to table the Nelson proposal and was successful by a vote of 29 to 16.

"I realize now what happened during the recess," said Nelson. "That kind of manipulation is not going to be allowed. I have more respect for the alderman who voted against union labor on the first vote than for those who changed during the recess. Yes, I mean you," he shouted, pointing at Ald. Healy.

Ald. Anderson Speaks.

In contrast to the bitter words used in most of disputes was the plea of Ald. Louis B. Anderson [2d] that Ald. Bowler withdraw his protest against Nelson filing a minority report. His speech, illustrated with excerpts from the Bible, besought Bowler to retreat from his position.

"If you deny the minority the privilege of submitting a statement for the record, you take away the highest right of a legislator," said Anderson. "It smacks of gag rule and may recoil some day to vex your soul. It reminds me of the words, 'Get thee behind me, Satan.'"

Two amendments accepted by the council, which were introduced by Ald. Barnet Hodes, made changes in the language which, Ald. Nelson charged, proved that the company is considering using its equipment for communication by television. He had protested earlier against the inclusion of television on the grounds that it would give the company a monopoly in Chicago, and might drive the movies and radio stations in Chicago out of business.

BANK ROBBER TELLS HOW HE KILLED DEPUTY

Two Mates Confess to Many Stickups.

Watseka, Ill., July 20.—[Special.]—State's Attorney A. Fred Kendall is in possession of confessions signed by the three Buckley bank robbers, Joseph Jasorak [alias Mulinhowiski], Edward R. Felder, and Pierce F. Lanigan, covering in addition to that crime a number of others.

Jasorak accepts full responsibility for the death of Deputy Sheriff Henry Ennen. After stating he is 36 years old and that his residence is in Chicago, but that he does not recall the street address, he admits participation in the robberies of the Garden City, N. Y., postoffice Aug. 22, 1930; the Barnesville, Ga., postoffice Feb. 11, 1931; the Lombard, Ill., postoffice about Nov. 1, 1930, and the Paxton, Ill., postoffice about June 20, 1930.

He adds: "After we robbed the bank at Buckley Friday, Lanigan and Felder had left me about ten minutes when the shooting between myself and Mr. Ennen occurred. They neither had anything to do with it. I alone am responsible for killing Ennen.

Describes Killing.

"Mr. Ennen shot me in the head with a shotgun. The shot dazed me. I then crawled through a culvert and my partners were gone. I called to the officer to drop the gun. The other man with him was running away. I ran towards the officer and he would not drop the gun, so I shot him once and then went to him and got the gun out of his hands. I attempted to start the officer's car and could not, then I ran."

Lanigan's confession tells of his connection with Tracy Cortwright, alias Joe Hayes, in New York City. He relates the robbery of a postoffice in Sycamore, Ill., in 1930. Cortwright and Jasorak worked with him.

The same trio robbed the Paxton postoffice, he says, and adds that Felder, alias Edward J. Byrnes, joined them in the robbery of the Garden City, N. Y., postoffice. The Barnesville, Ga., robbery, Lanigan states, was handled by Felder. Cortwright and himself were in the Miami Beach, Fla., postoffice robbery Feb. 11, 1931. The same two, the confession continues, robbed the Clemson College, S. C., postoffice last March 3. Lanigan further admitted that he and Cortwright and a man whose name he doesn't give robbed the bank at Mariboro, Md., April 9, 1931.

Felder's confession includes the postoffice robberies at Garden City, N. Y.; Lombard, Ill., and Barnesville, Ga. He says he lives in the 1200 block on Monroe street in Chicago.

BANK ROBBERY RISKIER.

Illinois banks are no longer easy pickings for robbers, the Illinois Bankers' association pointed out yesterday in a bulletin commenting on the capture of three robbers at Buckley, Ill., and the frustration of other bank robbery attempts in the state recently.

Since June 29, the bulletin states, sixteen bank robbers have been captured in the state, and all of the loot which they took from four banks recovered. Four of the bandits were wounded by the posses which took them. Only one bandit escaped the pursuits which followed the robberies.

"Fifty per cent of those who participated in bank robberies in the state during this year have been killed or apprehended," the bulletin states.

RESERVE BOARD FACING INQUIRY ON BANK LOSSES

Illinois Man Complains in Failure Case.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—A congressional overhauling of the federal reserve board and the controller of the currency to determine to what extent, if any, they are responsible for the numerous failures of banks in their jurisdiction, is looming large on the horizon.

CARTER GLASS.

The Glass committee of the senate, which was appointed to study defects in the federal reserve system, is receiving numerous complaints to the effect that both the reserve board and the controller of the currency have been negligent in the protection of depositors.

Bank Closing Reviewed.

One of the complaints received today was from Sidney M. Ward, chairman of the committee of depositors in the First National bank of Benton, Ill. In his letter to Senator Glass:

"The First National bank of Benton, Ill., which had operated for many years in this city, closed its doors by order of the board of directors, on Nov. 18, 1930, with more than a million dollars on deposit and more than 1,000 depositors. In due course of time a receiver was appointed by the controller of currency, who took charge and upon his first examination definitely determined that the institution had been hopelessly insolvent for more than four years during which time I have reason to believe that it was regularly examined by national bank examiners.

Says Directors Indebted.

"It was also found by the receiver that the directors of the bank were indebted to the institution in an amount equal to the capital stock, surplus, and the item carried as undivided profit. Three of the directors of the bank, now indebted in an amount of more than $200,000, were in my opinion hopelessly insolvent and had no property at the time these loans were made direct or indirect to them."

F. G. Awalt, acting controller of the currency, declined to comment on Mr. Ward's reflections upon the controller's administration.

Mr. Ward stated further that after the failure the controller of the currency transmitted to the department of justice evidence of violation of the law by the management of the Benton bank, but that no prosecutions have been instituted. At the department of justice it was stated that a prosecution is contemplated, but that there has been delay caused by difficulty in obtaining the testimony of Fred E. Goodin, the assistant cashier, who, after the failure, was convicted of embezzlement and is now in Leavenworth penitentiary.

Failures on Increase.

The federal reserve bulletin for July, issued today, discloses that bank failures are again on the increase. The number had declined from 208 in January to 89 in May, but rose to 164 in June. There were 642 failures in 1929 and 1,345 in 1930 and in the first half of 1931 there were 654.

Of the failures so far this year, 148 were of member banks of the federal reserve system and 536 of nonmembers. Of the 148 member banks 121 were national and 27 state banks.

Illinois, with a record of 47, led all states in the number of failures in June. Of these 11 were member and 36 nonmember banks and of the member banks 8 were national and 3 state institutions. With an even 100 failures Illinois also topped all other states for the first half of the year. Seventeen were member and 83 nonmember banks and of the members 13 were national and 4 state banks. The deposits of the insolvent Illinois banks aggregated 134 millions of the 454 millions in all banks closed between Jan. 1 and June 30.

DEATH TOLL GROWS TO EIGHT AS MICHIGAN OIL WELL FIRE RAGES

Mount Pleasant, Mich., July 20.—[Special.]—The oil well fire which started late Saturday night has claimed the lives of eight persons, three others are expected to die, and a score of others are in a critical condition.

TRAGEDY LOCATION.

The fire followed an explosion of a new well and the firing of a tank at the Struble No. 1 well. Expert drillers spent the day in vain attempts to extinguish the stream of fire which still is shooting high into the air. A shift of wind from a southerly to a northerly direction at noon today blew sparks from the flaming geyser towards huge storage tanks about 500 feet away. Volunteer fire fighters increased their vigilance in protecting surrounding property, while officials of the Roosevelt Refining company, owners of the well, discussed the advisability of dispatching airplanes to the Oklahoma oil fields for "salamanders," expert asbestos clad dynamiters.

The disaster, which came suddenly as the many stockholders in the newly developed well were rejoicing over their strike, today threatened to wipe out all but one of the Guy family. E. J. Guy and his son, Robert, lay near death in the Bronstetter Memorial hospital here. A Cesarian operation failed to save the life of the unborn daughter of Mrs. Robert Guy. The operation was performed by Dr. L. F. Hyslop a few minutes after Mrs. Guy died.

Theories as to the cause of the explosion have been reduced to two. One was that the storage tanks burst under the pressure of an unexpected increase in the flow of gas and oil from the well and the other, and more generally accepted, was that the fire started from a smoker's igniting the gas-laden air near the tanks.

MEETS FIANCE'S BRIDE; AWARDED CASH IN COURT

Her chagrin when she called on her fiance of five years standing and was introduced to his bride of a week was described yesterday by Miss Ella Anderson, 35 years old, a housekeeper employed at 1200 Lake Shore drive, before Judge Craig Hood in the Circuit court. She was awarded $3,000 in a default verdict in her suit for $50,000 against Eric Berthelsen, 750 Brompton place, whom she charged with breach of promise.

Berthelsen, she said, is the son of a wealthy hotel owner in Sweden, and was set up in the real estate business in Chicago by his father. He sold her a lot in 1923, and after offering her a number of pieces of valuable jewelry, proposed to her the following year, she testified.

They kept company for five years, during which time she did his laundry and gave him $4,000 of her savings to use in his business, she asserted. On July 25, 1929, Miss Anderson went to his apartment, and there Berthelsen introduced her to his bride. She created a scene, she said, was arrested, and acquitted when she appeared in court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

DRY LAW FILLS ITS BIGGEST BAG OF INDICTMENTS

Baltimore, Md., July 20.—(AP)—Climaxing the largest and costliest prohibition investigation ever undertaken, a federal grand jury here today returned three indictments charging fifty-three corporations and individuals with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

The indictments, naming persons in New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, and Ohio, brought to an end the investigation started in August, 1929, following seizure here of three huge stills, used for cracking and redistilling commercial alcohol for beverage purposes.

Many Witnesses Called.

More than 150 witnesses, including Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock, Dr. James M. Doran, former director, and officials of the attorney general's office, appeared before the inquest, which was reported to have cost the government $500,000. Four times the life of the jury was extended to complete the case.

Included in those indicted were the U. S. Industrial Alcohol company and its subsidiary, the U. S. Industrial Chemical company of West Virginia and Maryland, said to be the largest industrial alcohol company in the country.

Also indicted was Al H. Jaffe, slain a short time ago in gang warfare in Cleveland, alleged to be the outgrowth of his liquor activities.

The indictments charged a vast conspiracy started in 1927 which went to the length of forming corporations for the purchase of industrial alcohol, so that it could resell the product to other companies and individuals for conversion into beverage channels.

Plants in Other Cities.

Besides the three still cracking plant raided here to start the investigation, officials said the ring operated other such ventures at Cleveland, Erie, Pa., Paterson, N. J., and Fredonia, and Florida, N. Y.

Among those indicted in the large first group, charged with the commission of 49 overt acts, was William S. Hatten, Lansing, Mich., former manager of the Lansing Paint and Color works.

No date was set for arraignments of those indicted, but officials intimated that the trials would be held in October or November.

ROBBER SHOOTS VICTIM; GIVEN LIFE SAME DAY

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 20.—[Special.]—Archie Tlonen, Detroit, Mich., who shot and critically injured Harry C. Roe, manager of an A and P store this morning, tonight was on his way to the state penitentiary at Marquette to begin a life sentence.

He was captured after hitch-hiking a ride for ten miles and pleaded guilty to robbery while armed.

Tlonen said he tried the robbery because he was broke and hungry. "I hope you'll take care of my wife and baby," he said when sentenced.

He fired at Roe after the grocer had given him a loaf of bread and a dollar in hopes of averting the hold up. The bullet entered Roe's spine and physicians said if he lives he likely will be paralyzed.

CHAS. H. SABIN JR. SUED BY WIFE FOR DIVORCE IN RENO

Reno, Nev., July 20.—(AP)—Ruth Ogden Sabin today filed suit for divorce from Charles H. Sabin Jr., head of the Crusaders, anti-prohibition organization, and son of the chairman of the board of the Guaranty Trust company of New York. She charged desertion.

Sabin previously had filed suit on grounds of cruelty, but it is understood that recent conferences led to an agreement that Mrs. Sabin would be allowed to get the divorce.

The Sabins married at Summit, N. J., June 3, 1927, and have a 10 months old son.

BE SURE YOU GET ALL THESE ADVANTAGES IN YOUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

★ BE SURE your electric refrigerator has every mechanical part hermetically sealed in the ultra-modern Monitor Top. This means no air, dirt or water can ever get into the mechanism to interfere with its operation. Like a submarine, you can immerse it in the ocean, and water will not get to the mechanical parts. This is the greatest reason for General Electric's amazing "No Service Expense" record.

★ BE SURE your electric refrigerator is all-steel—not just partly steel. All-steel battleship construction means long years of service and satisfaction far beyond your expectations. General Electric is entirely all-steel.

★ BE SURE your electric refrigerator has sliding shelves—shelves you can pull all the way out—gently and conveniently—like a drawer. No reaching way in the back to arrange food. No food rubbing against your wrist or sleeve. Only General Electric offers this convenience.

CANADIAN TARIFF REPRISALS.

The Canadian-Australian trade treaty as announced to the dominion house of commons at Ottawa gives rise to further American regrets that Canada and the United States are politically distrained from their natural markets. The American tariff is given the responsibility by its critics. Probably the worst fault of the Hawley-Smoot tariff was intangible. At a moment when no tariff revision by legislation was required it brought to a head all the grievances which other countries held for various reasons against the United States. That the tariff changes were valid reasons for retaliation and reprisals may be doubted, but psychologically the new rates acted as the final provocation.

Trade relations with Canada are made difficult because in considerable part the tariff which offends Canada is agricultural. The wall against Canadian farm products is, in theory, for the protection of the American grower. All along the border it closes the market to Canadian produce, to dairy products, fruits, grain, stock feed, etc.

It is not the industrial tariff which brings the Canadian reprisals so much as the agricultural, although the critics prefer to dwell upon the former feature rather than the latter. It is in the latter that the difficulties arise. The United States feels that it must cover the farmers with the tariff in fairness as well as in necessary politics. In spite of the agricultural schedules the farmer is taught to regard the tariff on what he buys as his worst enemy, and in spite of the effect in Canada the tariff cannot be removed from what he sells. The present relations with Canada therefore seem inevitable, but it is disingenuous wholly to blame the American industrialists for it. It is not so, much Joe Grundy's idea as it is Brookhart's.

THE BIGGEST OFFICE BUILDING.

The contract for the Field building, heralded as Chicago's largest office building, has been awarded. The structure will cost $12,000,000 and will rise 43 stories above the loop.

The project is going ahead in the face of the fact that of the available space in existing office buildings it is estimated that 15 per cent or more is vacant. Nevertheless, the undertaking has appealed to the sound business judgment of the managers of the Field estate. They know that building materials have not been as cheap in many years and are not likely to drop much further in price. They know that the virtual suspension of construction in the last few years is preparing the way for a shortage as soon as business conditions improve. Previous experience of building in times of depression has proved the soundness of the policy.

If it will pay over the years to build an office building in Chicago today, it should prove profitable also to build dwellings for families of limited means. There is no surplus of moderate priced modern apartments in Chicago comparable to the surplus of first-class office space. The first sign of an improvement in business will be reflected in an increased demand for apartments and the small surplus will be absorbed quickly. The fundamental fact is that the population of Chicago is continuing to grow and that residential building for the last two years has provided scarcely more than a third of the accommodations required by the increase.

If it is good business to erect an office building today it is at least as good business to undertake housing projects on a scale large enough to take full advantage of lowered costs. Certainly there is little room to doubt that the depression will yield most readily to a revival of the construction industries.

FREE PRESS IN BUENOS AIRES.

We reprint today a strong protest from the Editor and Publisher, representative journal of the American newspaper fraternity, against the arrest of the editor of Critica, Buenos Aires newspaper, and his wife, and the suppression of Critica by the provisional head of the Argentine government, Gen. Uriburu. The incident is of international note, especially by the fraternity of newspaper men.

In a régime of force it is of course, inevitable that the press should feel the weight of authority. The present head of the Argentine government is a professional soldier, and military methods, especially in times of stress, are likely to be—in fact, are certain to be—dictatorial and resentful, as apparently in this instance, of even the most reasonable criticism. The supporters of Gen. Uriburu's authority, however, ought to realize that the just opinion of mankind is not negligible, and the suppression of Critica, together with the very harsh treatment of the editor and his wife, is injurious to Argentina and to its reputation as a free and enlightened nation. The recent revolutions in South American republics, whatever their justification in the conditions which gave rise to revolt, have not been of the character expected in republican countries nor calculated to strengthen confidence in the stability of those countries or in their processes of political action. Military rule is not compatible with civil rights, and, though circumstances sometimes justify it, it is to be hoped our South American neighbors will presently find a better and safer method of correcting misgovernment.

The suppression of free speech and free criticism is one of the most conspicuous and demoralizing results of world conditions since the war. In two of the principal countries of Europe, Russia and Italy, open discussion and dissent are completely abolished. Even in the United States we have repeated attempts at suppression, though, happily, they have been defeated. But the impulse is significantly general, though of varying force, and it is a strong reminder that in the period of critical transition through which civilized society is now passing there is great need for alert and resolute defense of the rights of the individual and of the principles upon which free government, with all its promise of human progress and happiness, is founded. The chief of these is the right and principle of free thought and free utterance, and the great guardian of these is a free press.

MR. STIMSON AS HORACE WALPOLE.

When Mr. Stimson in Paris was asked if he thought the London conference would last long he replied: "I don't think so. The Frenchmen couldn't stand English cooking very long and the British couldn't allow the conference to cut into the grouse season too deeply." He was asked if he thought President Hoover's wish to keep politics out of the conference would be gratified. "It will," he said, "if you think finances have no connection with politics."

If the American secretary of state will just hold that smile he'll come back with all his articles of apparel intact and on him. A whimsical view of European realities will carry an American through even a week-end at Chequers without the loss of a single eight inch gun cruiser or of a pound off the debt. An American diplomat so frequently imagines he has entered a better world in Europe than any he had seen before, one of greater nobility of purpose, of larger disinterestedness, of vivid ideality, of heroic sacrifice and service of humanity.

He mistakes manners for morals, pageantry for sweetness and light and ceremonies for altruism. He thinks the inscriptions on the memorial tablets are the guilding sentiments of the gentlemen who are aspiring to memorial tablets, whereas the ideality of the monument is the flower of the practicality of the moment. Mr. Stimson reminds himself that cooking is more important to M. Laval than covenants, and the grouse to a British statesman of proper spirit have a greater place in the British constitution than the rights of man. Moreover, if the French were subjected to British cooking beyond their toleration point another war might be started with more justification than Europe has found for one in centuries. For England it could be the dawn of another freedom.

If the American secretary of state keeps in his present mood he won't need a barrel.

Editorial of the Day

ARGENTINA'S CRIME.

[Editor and Publisher.]

Nothing so unnatural, merciless and dictatorial as the censorships that are plaguing press correspondents and the local newspapers of several nations, notably in South American revolutionary republics, can exist without the certainty of administrative corruption. This is axiomatic. The business of deceiving the public about affairs has but one sensible interpretation: Powers which exercise such control cannot bear the daylight.

Censorship ought to be a sure sign to foreign bondholders that a nation, put to such extremity, is of doubtful stability. Good, sound governments require no such screen.

The censorship situation in Argentina is astounding. There we see not only an attempt to doctor the news as it goes to the outside world but deliberate intention to wreck a local newspaper which dares to criticize the administration.

In the entire international field we know of no such brutal treatment of a newspaper as that which has been meted out to Buenos Aires' Critica. More than two months ago the editor of this important Spanish language daily, with more than 350,000 circulation, Señor Natalio Botana, was arrested and, with his gentle wife, thrown into a vile prison. At last accounts they were still incarcerated. During the revolution Critica's great local power was exerted against the former corrupt government and, in fact, it was a prime influence in placing Gen. José Francisco Uriburu in the presidential chair. But subsequently Critica dared to criticize the new party's public policies. The editor wrote in candor. He struck at abuses and gave President Uriburu offense. Editor Botana was not only removed from the scene by the high-handed process but his chief advertising executive, one Eduardo Beboya, and a circulation official were also jailed. The newspaper was seized. For more than eight weeks its voice has been silenced. A property worth millions has been virtually destroyed by a tyrannical provisional government. The intrigue of minor public officials to keep the editor in jail and his office closed is an almost unbelievable chapter. It spells the exact measure of the honor and stability of the Uriburu administration. The constitution of the republic expressly gives to the people the right to "publish their ideas in the press without previous censorship."

A trustworthy correspondent in Argentina advises Editor and Publisher that the jailing of Señor Botana and his associates may be due not only to the ridiculous false pride of President Uriburu, perhaps mingled with fear of Critica's free voice, but to a conspiracy of police underlings interested in promoting a rival newspaper. This may or may not be true. It seems incredibly villainous.

Newspaper men of the United States will respond to a demand that, in the name of free press and common decency, President Uriburu cease persecution of Señor Botana, his wife and employés. It is a disgusting spectacle and a policy sure to defeat itself. For many years the American press has respected, indeed greatly admired, the free, spirited and lavishly supported journalism of our sister republic Argentina. Our nations have much in common, through an exchange of news of substantial volume and high order. Our people have a right to a common understanding, as both proverbially adhere to the principle of a free and independent press. Persecution of an editorial critic, whether he is right or wrong, has no place in this picture. If President Uriburu is badly advised by scheming underlings he should take better counsel.

AGRANULOCYTOSIS.

D. T. M. asks for an article about agranulocytosis, the strange new disease that seems to be occurring lately, here and there, with increasing persistence.

As is stated, the disease is new, at least in the sense that it has not been known long. The first report of it was made nine years ago. It may have been in existence long before that, however, for there are several other diseases which it greatly resembles, and the blood test by which it is diagnosed has not been in general use many years. On the other hand, at least some of the cases that go by the name "agranulocytosis" have been caused by trade practices and the use of chemicals that are less than a quarter of a century old.

The symptoms of it are necrotic ulcerations in the mouth, extreme prostration, fever, and an extremely low white blood cell count. Normally, what is called the polynuclear leucocyte makes up more than 75 per cent of the eight thousand white blood cells in a unit of blood. This type of white blood cell practically disappears in this disease. Of all the white cells this one is the most useful.

Necrotic ulcers of the mouth are present in trench mouth and several other diseases. It is easy to confuse agranulocytosis with these. Nor is fever destructive. The only certain sign of the disease is the one revealed by microscopic examination of the blood. Without that it might be called trench mouth, noma, or something else.

In some cases there is an eruption which greatly resembles that of chickenpox and pemphigus. Again, blood examination is necessary for diagnosis. The cause is not known. The man who first wrote of it thought it was caused by a microbe, but no one has proved that it is. There is reason for thinking it is caused by poisons. Certain cases have followed poisoning by arsenobenzyl and other benzol bodies. Other cases have followed chronic trinitrotoluene poisoning. Both of these chemicals are new. Industries based on them are of recent origin. Some cases seem to have followed bismuth poisoning. This drug has been used for new purposes and in new ways in the last quarter of a century. However, it has not been proved that agranulocytosis is caused by these or any poisons. Eighty per cent of the cases are in women, which would not be if these chemicals caused it. Most of the people who have had it have not been exposed to any poison.

Until we know more about it nothing can be said as to how it can be prevented, and there is no treatment except such as may be used to relieve symptoms.

BOILER MAKER'S HEARING.

G. M. writes: Is there any cure, or, at least, partial relief, for defective hearing caused by the constant noise to which a boiler maker is subject? I am 52 years old and used to be a boiler maker.

REPLY.

The chances are overwhelming that you are too late. The horse is out of the stable.

DOCTORS HAVE NAME FOR IT.

N. C. writes: What causes a finger to keep rising around the edge of the nail? The nail has become crooked.

REPLY.

The physicians' name for this is onychia. It is due to infection of the skin in the nail bed and near it. Infection is with some pus coccus or with the germ of ringworm, or both. There are many contributing causes. Biting the nails is the most important. Dirt around the nails is another. Working in grease, in greasy water, in soapy water, among photograph chemicals, and other chemicals, and mechanical injury are among others.

MINOR'S PLEDGE.

Chicago, July 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—While attending a state university in 1923-'24 I signed a pledge of $50 on a contemplated memorial building. One-fourth of this amount was to become due one year after graduation [1928] and each year thereafter. At the time that I signed this pledge I was a minor.

About two months ago I received a demand for immediate payment of three-fourths of this pledge. Being unable to pay this, I explained to them my circumstances, and assured them that I intended to pay when I was able. Now they threaten to turn this pledge over to the construction company for collection by their attorneys.

1. Can this pledge be held valid before the law, since I was a minor when I signed it?

2. If action is brought against me, must I employ a lawyer to present my case?

3. If I win the case, who must pay my attorney's fees? R. E. W.

1. Not unless you have knowingly ratified the contract since coming of age.

2. This would probably be advisable but it does not seem likely that suit will be brought if you give notice that you elect to renounce the contract on the ground of minority.

3. You must pay.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

APPARENTLY a most important step was taken Saturday by France in regard to Germany, or by Germany in regard to France, but, very unfortunately, at about the same time Ina Claire sued John Gilbert for divorce and Mate won the Arlington race from Twenty Grand, so there wasn't much left of what steps were taken by France in regard to Germany, or by Germany in regard to France but a few incoherent and jumbled phrases somewhere on page 17 or 25 next to pure reading matter. Mate will not beat Twenty Grand this week and we trust Miss Claire will stop suing Mr. Gilbert long enough for us to find out the important steps France took in regard to Germany. Or Germany took in regard to France. As the case may be.

NOW IF THAT London conference really wants to get the American public interested in what they're doing over in London they'd better say less about Germany and more about the new balloon golf ball. There's got to be something done about that new golf ball and here's a fine chance for the London conference to talk about something that a great majority in this country is really interested in.

SONNET 40.

There the waters swirl sullenly and there the red-winged blackbird hides his young.
And I, once loved and loving gloriously,
now go my way respected and unsung;
I, who held before you in my fingers
my soul as sacrifice to your dear glance.
There now a dead unburied memory lingers with water-music for its ghoulish dance.
And there the sun will search to find the grass neat again, untouched save by the wind, his lissom feet the only feet to pass over the place where you and I were kind.

Kind, I said, and now I do not know if we were so wondrous kind so long ago.

FREEDOM, standing proudly on the dome of the capitol at Washington, this week takes her first bath in four years. Freedom may be a perfectly lovely thing, but a bath only once in four years, tut, tut! Freedom, go wash your dirty neck.

THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR of these occasionally United States says the cost of living in Chicago has dropped 6.4 per cent. As we counted out our pennies to the butcher and grocer yesterday, paying forty-five cents a pound for round steak, twelve and one-half cents for a pound of sugar, thirty-five cents a dozen for eggs, twenty cents for a loaf of bread, forty-two cents for a pound of butter, and eighty cents for half a watermelon, there were many things we thought of that we would love to say to the United States Department of Labor and its 6.4 per cent decline of the cost of living. But we could have been arrested and put in jail if we had tried to send what we thought through the mails.

THE MORE OR LESS HUMAN RACE is a most interesting study. Friday afternoon, for instance, the Oak Street beach was packed with bathers. They had gone there in bathing suits and some, but not many, had worn old dressing gowns or raincoats over their bathing suits on the street. The bathers, let it be borne in mind, had gone to the lake to swim or, at any rate, to get wet, for it is a scientific fact that Lake Michigan is quite wet. Suddenly, down poured the rain. The bathers, one and all, with sharp cries of dismay fled from the beach to any shelter they could crowd into. They ran in panic as though fleeing some great disaster. A terrible fear was upon them. The rain was wet. They must get out of it at whatever cost and any innocent bystander was liable to get knocked down and trampled on if he stood in the way. Yet the frightened multitude were wearing bathing suits and had gone for a swim, and most of them had been swimming or splashing around in the lake for hours. Why then were they so afraid of the rain? To be wet by Lake Michigan or the rain—what difference did it make? But neither you nor I nor nobody knows.

A BACHELOR TO AN OLD PHOTOGRAPH.

I am so sure I have forgotten you
Until, by chance, within a crowd I see
A smile that captures as yours used to do,
And find I still am thrall to memory.
I am so sure until I hear one day
A tone of voice, a laugh that rings like yours
And then, in spite of all the sages say,
I know that neither time nor space insures
Against remembering. I also know
This exquisite encounter with old pain
Is something that my heart would not forego
And that it thrills to feel the thrust again.
I am so sure I have forgotten till
I learn by accident I love you still.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 21, 1915.

LONDON.—The Germanic armies, like a great pincers, are relentlessly closing in on Warsaw. The Germans have broken the Russian line west of the Polish capital, which had kept them at bay for months, and have reached the town of Blonie, just seventeen miles west of Warsaw on the railroad to Lewics and Lodz, which were captured and held by the Germans last winter.

CHICAGO.—"Barney" Bertsche, in turn politician, saloonkeeper, business manager of the fortune tellers' "trust," and convict, yesterday ripped aside the curtain from an underworld combine of swindlers and grafting policemen. He began his recital—a story stranger sounding than fiction—before Judge John M. O'Connor in the Criminal court, where Detectives Walter O'Brien and "Big Bill" Egan are on trial for bribery.

LONDON.—The greatest battle of the war so far fought by the Italians and the Austrians is raging without any sign of letup along the Isonzo river to the province of Triest, Austria. According to official reports, the Austrians lost 10,000 men in yesterday's fighting in killed, wounded and captured.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 21, 1901.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—"Like the first gun fired at Fort Sumter" is the way President Shaffer characterized an alleged declaration of steel corporation officials that they have enough guards to protect nonunion mills when they decide to reopen them. The reported threat, the strike leader said, is a menace to the men and is the opening of the fight, but it finds the workers ready. Stories that the combine's officials, including J. Pierpont Morgan, have decided to open their plants at once, under guard, reached here from several sources.

PORTLAND, Me.—Miss Mary Preble Anderson today was selected by Gov. Hill for the honor of christening the new battleship Maine, now building at Cramps' shipyard, Philadelphia. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Anderson of this city and is descended from a line of noted naval officers.

CHICAGO.—Lillian Green, the talented operatic singer and actress, died last night in New York of typhoid fever, after an illness of two weeks. The singer was known to Chicago theatergoers as the Piola of "King Dodo."

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 21, 1881.

WASHINGTON.—President Garfield improved steadily throughout the day and his condition tonight is in every way satisfactory. His pulse ranged far below 100 and there was no fever. The wound is doing well and is discharging freely and properly.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—After seven years of waiting Sitting Bull, the famous Indian chief, is a prisoner. The Pioneer Press has the following special from Fort Buford: "Sitting Bull and about 200 of his people arrived at exactly 12 o'clock today and surrendered their arms and ponies to Maj. Brotherton." A dispatch was forwarded to Standing Rock, informing Crow King and Low Dog of Sitting Bull's arrival, and it was believed that this news will remove any desire the Indians there may have to leave the agency.

PARIS.—A dispatch from Tunis says: "This country may be said to be in a complete state of anarchy. The bey's government is no longer recognized. Apparently a rebellion will be reopened here, wherever the French are not in occupation. This state of things must necessarily lead to complete French annexation, the only alternative being evacuation."

GALENA, Ill.—Deacon Enoch Long, who settled in this state as early as 1814, and who inaugurated the Sunday school work in Illinois, died at his home in Sabula, Ia., aged 91 years.

MONMOUTH, Ill.—A stranger at the Baldwin house was taken sick with a case of genuine Asiatic cholera last night. He is the Rev. C. Davis, a Methodist minister from East St. Louis, who was on his way with his wife to St. Paul.

FRANCE AND THE MORATORIUM.

Chicago, July 10.—For the past few weeks your commentaries as to the French attitude toward Mr. Hoover's moratorium have been, in my opinion, misleading, to say the least.

Your own statistics show that, although the United States will be the biggest loser, $262,609,945, France's share of loss, $89,150,000, is just as great pro rata of the population.

The United States, which, from a debtor nation in 1914, became the world's richest nation after the war and, thanks to the war, can better afford this loss than France, torn and bled, and her industries and resources crippled by the same war.

Three Americans have already passed on Germany's liabilities to the world—Wilson, Dawes and Young—with what success you know, and, although I do not doubt Mr. Hoover's sincerity of purpose and admire him for his stand, I fear his moratorium will have just the same fate as the efforts of his predecessors. J. A. MONTAGUE.

THE MORATORIUM.

Chicago, July 10.—Why not be frank about it? The Hoover moratorium will not in the least promote the return of prosperity. That was never its real purpose. In fact, it will greatly tend to delay the resumption of business on any large scale.

The truth of the matter, as everybody knows, is that Germany was rapidly going the way of Russia. Had it actually done so, an irresistible impulse would have been given to communism. Naturally, the financial powers of the world were desperate and took drastic measures in an endeavor to prevent such a danger.

The very men who helped put the moratorium across would be the first to admit all this. JOHN G. RANDOLPH.

THE SALVATION OF EUROPE.

TORONTO, Ont., July 11.—Your editorials on the subject of the United States being called upon to save Europe as you were called upon in 1917 to intervene on the side of the allies and save civilization, is just another slice off the great layer of hooey which the Americans love to snuggle under. You entered the world war in 1917—or was it 1918?—not to save Europe but to save your own hides from the everlasting jambasting Germany was giving you by sinking your ships and drowning your citizens at sea. If Germany had had sense enough to lay off her mad dog warfare as far as the United States was concerned, you would have been "neutral" yet. As to today's conditions—the United States is the biggest creditor, a very large share of the German reparations go to you, why wouldn't you be called on to ease up on your demands for war debt payments?

HARRY M. TEDMAN.

AT THE PIER.

Chicago, July 16.—At Navy pier I have noticed that a new driveway has been built for autoists only.

Now, wouldn't it be nice if the city would fix the board walk so that the people who have to walk would not trip or break their heels on the boards that are set up about one and one-half inches apart, and need not be so? I know, for I nearly broke my neck Wednesday night.

MISS BERNICE PACER.

TO HELP THE CITY'S EMPLOYES.

Chicago, July 10.—A city that is able to put on a world's fair in 1933 is certainly able to extend credit to its policemen, firemen, teachers and others working directly for it. Since the present outlook for pay in the regular way for May and June and the coming fall months is unpromising, isn't it time that the financially able who have the welfare of the city at heart plan to extend credit to those working for the city? As a suggestion, why couldn't some of the stores, for example, supply food, clothing and drugs to some of the city employés living in the territory normally served by them?

The landlord could wait for his rent, since he doesn't have to pay taxes until this tax muddle is straightened out. The doctor is willing to wait and the church will wait. If the coal dealer will not extend credit the county will have to furnish coal. That leaves car fare, lunch money and insurance premiums to be supplied by friends.

The Good Book says to "Carry neither purse, nor scrip . . ." and "The laborer is worthy of his hire."

AS SEEN BY THE MEXICANS.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 8.—After all could Mexico be blamed for concluding that Oklahoma deputy sheriffs who shoot from the hip and Chicago judges who shoot from the lip represent "100 per cent Americanism" at its best?

JOHN GANNON.

A POLITICAL QUESTION.

Chicago, July 11.—I have read with interest the editorial in this morning's TRIBUNE relating to the diversion of water from Lake Michigan through the drainage canal in which the writer apparently takes the position that the only hope for relief lies in a review of the matter by the Supreme court.

In a conversation, about a year ago, with an officer of the war department relative to the diversion of lake water, the officer stated, "We must observe the ruling of the Supreme court until congress by law enacts otherwise."

If Chicago and the central states are not satisfied that the present arrangement is just and equitable the remedy is plain and simple. Through their representatives in congress they are in a position to have introduced and passed legislation precisely defining amounts of water diversion from Lake Michigan.

While, under the constitution, the Supreme court has no authority to enact laws, the custom has grown up through the years for the court, in the absence of a statute governing some particular circumstance, to enact an ad interim law by decree, although in so doing they face the peril of impeachment should they incur the resentment of congress for thus invading the field of legislative authority without constitutional warrant.

The matter of lake water involving physical economics is one for political debate in the congress rather than a subject for argument in courts.

SEE MANY G. O. P. CONTENDERS FOR CARLSTROM JOB

Talk Candidacies 9 Mos. Ahead of Primary.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A plethora of candidacies for the Republican nomination for attorney general has already popped above the horizon nine months ahead of the April primaries. Three state senators and half a dozen others have been trotted out by their friends for the place on the state ticket left open by the candidacy of Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom for governor.

WILLIS W. HADLEY. [Public Press.]

One of the latest possibilities is William D. Knight of Rockford, three time state's attorney of Winnebago county.

Talk Hadley for Job.

Another candidate leading in the talk is Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton, member of the Illinois commerce commission. In 1928 Hadley retired from the race for attorney general to give Carlstrom a clear field.

Edward V. Smith of Waukegan, state attorney of Lake county, has been listed for months as a possible candidate, but some of the Lake county backers say he may run instead for congress.

Three state senators were rated yesterday as possible starters. They are Ray C. Woods of Chicago, who for three years was an assistant state's attorney of Cook county; Arthur Adam Dubach of Breckfield, who is on the high seas bound for Europe with the state prison research commission; and Charles H. Thompson of Harrisburg, who was state's attorney of Saline county.

House Members Listed.

Two house members, Leroy M. Green of Benfield and Frank A. McCarthy of Elgin, are listed among the possibilities. A boom also was started some time ago by friends of David E. Jackson, former mayor of Lake Forest, former chairman of the commerce commission and former president of the Lincoln Park board, who at present is head of the securities division in the secretary of state's office.

In addition to these possible contenders for the attorney generalship, two candidates for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor were heralded among Republicans—those of Senators Earl B. Searcy of Springfield and Epher C. Mills of Virginia.

Congressman Carl R. Chindblom, by number from the 10th district, appears to be up against stronger opposition than before in his new district as carved by the recent reapportionment. Charles West, an insurance broker, announced himself yesterday as a candidate for the Republican nomination against Chindblom. Mr. West, who was an organizer of the Rogers Park Civic league, will run as a modificationist.

PHOTOGRAPH OF DOG SUFFICIENT ADDRESS FOR THIS PACKAGE

East Hampton, Conn., July 20.—(AP)—A photograph of his dog was sufficient address for a package to reach Paul O'Connell, local barber and fireman.

The envelope, dispatched from Earl Brown, vice president of the National Tube company of South Lorraine, O., bore no address other than the picture of the animal and the name of the town. Postmaster H. G. Hill recognized the picture without difficulty and sent it safely to its destination.

The package contained photographs of O'Connell's pet and his shop, taken during a recent visit of the steel man.

FILIPINO KILLED BY BLOW.

AUSTRO-GERMAN PACT CASE OPENS IN WORLD COURT

German Agent Argues for Customs Union.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, July 20.—The Hague peace palace awoke today from its summer sleep, as the world court opened a public hearing on the proposed Austro-German customs union.

A large gathering of the local diplomatic corps members, prominent lawyers and high officials was present, but there were no world famous politicians. The big politicians were too busy in London and Paris attempting to drag financial affairs of Germany out of the mud.

The German crisis has eclipsed in interest the customs union controversy, which once was the sensation of Europe but is now interesting from a judicial viewpoint only.

Install Two Judges.

Before the court took up the case President Adatci of Japan installed Judges De Bustamante of Cuba and Wang of China, who were not present at the last session. They will sit as ordinary judges.

After this preliminary, the full court, including Frank B. Kellogg of the United States, began the hearing, with the governments of Germany, Austria, France, Italy, and Czecho-Slovakia as parties to the case. They were represented by an army of agents, counsels, advocates, and assistants. The Austrian agent, Prof. Eric Kauffmann, was accompanied by an American, A. S. Feller of the New York bar.

Attacks French Statement.

Prof. Bruns began the afternoon meeting by explaining the German viewpoint in support of the customs union.

Bruns spent two hours in explaining the significance of the word independence in the treaty of St. Germain concerning Austria, and declared that if the written statement of France regarding this case is correct, the independence of Austria did not exist after the conclusion of that treaty.

Two Sent to Bridewell for Poker Game Swindle

Dewey Kelley and Harold G. Fisher of Detroit who enticed William Bergmann, 641 Oakdale avenue, into a fake poker game in a loop hotel Saturday, were fined $100 each for operating a confidence game yesterday by Judge Francis Borrelli. He sent them to the bridewell to serve out their fines. Bergmann denied that the intervention of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Bergmann, was necessary to put the police on the trail of the pair and save his money. He got the police himself, he said.

BRITISH SHIPPING HEAD GOES ON TRIAL IN TOP HAT

Fraud Case Opens Against Lord Kylsant.

LONDON, July 20.—Lord Kylsant, chairman and managing director of the Royal Mail Steam Packet company and biggest figure in British shipping circles, and Harold John Morland, prominent accountant, went on trial in the Criminal court this morning. The 69 year old shipping magnate is charged with publishing false balance sheets for the years 1926 and 1927 and issuing a prospectus for the following year which he knew was false. Morland is charged with signing the balance sheets knowing that they were false.

The trial, which follows a review of the charges before the lord mayor and an indictment by the grand jury, is causing a sensation in England. There were so many applications received for admission into the courtroom this morning that the authorities decided to issue tickets and the audience consisted chiefly of financiers, society leaders, and lawyers. Scores of wouldbe spectators were turned away.

Famous Lawyers in Case.

A battery of legal lights are fighting in the case. They include Attorney General Sir William Jewitt, who heads the crown's attorneys; Sir John Simon, who represents Lord Kylsant, and Sir Patrick Hastings, chief counsel for Morland.

An incongruous sight was afforded by the presence of the dignified and perfectly dressed defendants sitting as prisoners in Old Bailey's dock side by side. Kylsant, who did not display the least nervousness, appeared in good humor when he entered the court room wearing a top hat and morning coat. Morland joked about there being plenty of room in the dock," when he took his seat beside Kylsant.

Charges Juggling of Figures.

Today's session of the trial, which is being heard before Justice Wright and a jury including two women, was occupied by Attorney General Jowitt, who made the opening remarks for the prosecution. He charged that the accounts of the Royal Mail Steam Packet company for the year 1928 showed a balance of almost $2,200,000 while there had actually been a loss of about $1,500,000. He alleged that the difference had been made up by taking funds from a hidden reserve, of which the stockholders knew nothing about.

WILSON'S WIDOW RETURNS FROM TRIP TO POLAND

The vessel carried an unusually small passenger list, 160 persons occupying the first class cabins. Mrs. Wilson, maintaining her customary reserve, declined to comment at length upon the ceremonies attending the unveiling of a staute of the late President at Poznan, Poland. The statue was presented by Ignace Paderewski, former premier of Poland and eminent pianist.

Beyond declaring that "it was a generous gesture on the part of the Polish government," Mrs. Wilson had nothing to say.

Dr. D. A. K. Steele Rites Will Be Held Thursday

Funeral services for Dr. Daniel A. K. Steele, former dean of the college of medicine of the University of Illinois, will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday at the chapel in Oakwoods cemetery. Dr. Steele died Saturday at Sarasota, Fla., where he went to reside about ten years ago when he resigned his practice. He was 78 years old. Father of Air Combats Tells His Own Story

Anthony Fokker Reveals Work for Germans.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

HAVE you a little airplane in your hangar? If you have, or if you are one of the many thousands of air minded Americans, you'll find this trio of books most three fascinating reading. The first two—"Flying Dutchman," by Anthony H. G. Fokker and Bruce Gould [Henry Holt], and "Speed," by Frank Hawks [Brewer, Warren & Putnam]—are biographies of two famous aviators. "I Am Still Alive," by Dick Grace [Rand McNally], is the story of a man who makes a profession of stunt flying for the movies and who has put the plane crashes practically every outstanding war action picture of the last ten years, including "Wings," "Lilac Time," "The Air Circus," "The Flying Fool," and "Young Eagles."

ANTHONY H. G. FOKKER.

There is more excitement per square inch in these tales—all true—of riders of the air than there is in a dozen mystery stories. All three give accounts of narrow escapes that make the hair rise gently on the scalp and the spine creep up and down the spine. If you understand the technical language of flying you'll get even more out of them, too. To this reader a stunt is just a pompous way of pulling and a take-off is an imitation, really a rather deplorable state of ignorance, isn't it?

"Flying Dutchman" is by far the most important book of the three. It's the life story of "Tony" Fokker, the Dutchman who invented one of the deadliest airplanes used in the world war and who in 48 hours mated the synchronized machine gun with unobstructed aerial warfare and started Immelmann, Boelcke and Richthofen on the path to fame. But best of all it's the biography of a man so brainy and resourceful that when he suddenly transported to a point of extinct craters he'd immediately find something to do with the ashes and inside of a week he would have a factory going up.

At school, when he was knee high to a desk, he found it easier to outwit the teachers by a complicated invention of his own which listed answers and miscellaneous information on a revolving disc concealed under his desk lid than to absorb this knowledge in the regulation way. He was born, apparently, with the happy faculty for overcoming obstacles. The tighter the place he was in, the more quickly his active mind sought a way out, and found it.

"Flying Dutchman" is so cleverly written that even an ordinary mortal the reader would be intrigued. But he is a comet, a flying streak of indefatigable energy, a genius of invention. The chapters devoted to his work in Germany during the war are especially engrossing. The original Fokker fighting plane, carrying one pilot and mounting one synchronized machine gun, was powered by the 80 Gnome motor. But during the war Fokker designed two or three dozen types of planes, which he narrowed down to the few that completely satisfied him.

He made a fortune in Germany and, when the armistice, the question was how to get it out. Also, how to get out the valuable planes from his German factory, and all the equipment. An ordinary man would have been stuck. Not so this Dutchman. He not only succeeded in taking away the great bulk of his wealth, but actually smuggled across the border into Holland six trains of sixty cars each, the contents of his entire factory. This in spite of the fact that armed guards were everywhere on the alert for goods going out of Germany.

Frank Hawks in "Speed" shows what progress in aviation has done for American business. He believes that the airplane will not rival the train until it covers the same distance in a fourth the time required for the same trip on a fast express. And he predicts that this can be done, and very soon. He tells how he built his cross continent flights, beating his own records, and how he lowered Lindbergh's time by 2 hours 20 minutes and 20 seconds between Los Angeles and New York, making the trip in exactly 12 hours 25 minutes and 2 seconds after the airplane's wheels left the ground in California.

"I Am Still Alive" is Dick Grace's account of his remarkable aviation work for the movies. He crashes planes to order, doubling for the actors, and in spite of tail spins, nose dives and buckled wings, not to mention crushed ribs, an injured spine and bruises, he has so far survived. If this narrative is authentic it is most remarkable. Crashing a plane is a matter of life and death, anyway, but landing it on a certain spot [and the movie director marks that spot with a large circle] is even more difficult.

Mr. Grace tells how he trains for these stunts, how he equips his plane with asbestos fire walls, padding etc., and how he owes his comparative safety to the belts he wears, which break the impact pressure of the fall. He has developed his method by the trial and error system, and has been at it for ten years. The man who was shot from the cannon, a record eating lady and all the rest of the exciting on this danger loving group of the films.

Yankee Girl Depicts Auto Trip to Moscow

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, July 20.—An automobile trip in Russia is almost a greater novelty than airplane hops or Arctic expeditions. Joan Platt, a 20 year old Wyoming girl, daughter of an American specialist here, pulled up her car before a Moscow hotel yesterday, exactly a week after leaving Berlin, where she started her journey, the first American girl to pilot a car over that route.

"It was an unforgettable trip," Miss Platt said. "The roads—if they can be called that—often were worse than the roughest Wyoming trails, but I saw a side of the Russian people which I did not know existed. I would like to repeat my trip in spite of sleeping in haystacks and foraging for food."

Miss Platt left Berlin with two German boys as companions. There was no excitement until they got past Warsaw. In that part of Poland the inhabitants were hostile and refused to give directions when they saw the German flag which the car flew, as well as the American flag.

The party stopped for the night at a lonely village. There was no hotel. The people muttered threats, so the tourists camped beside the road, one of them keeping a pistol near.

Further on the Poles were more friendly, especially the army officers. At Stolpce, the last Polish outpost, the travelers were treated with the utmost courtesy, and Polish officials saw that their papers were in order for the plunge into soviet Russia. There the tourists had their last real meals before reaching Moscow.

Between Stolpce and the Russian frontier town of Niegoreloje there was a twenty mile strip of neutral territory with a barbed wire fence in the center, marking the actual boundary of the two countries. This strip was overrun with border guards to prevent Russians escaping into Poland and vice versa. In order to avoid trouble an urbane Polish officer rode along with the party as far as the border fence. In spite of this they were halted several times at the bayonet point while guards examined their papers.

They drove along the railway tracks through the border area because there was no road. Where the barbed wire fence marked the end of Poland and the start of Russia, the Polish officer gave way to a soviet officer in a plainer uniform. On the Russian side, guards climbed down from platforms in trees and stopped the car at intervals.

The customs examination on entering Russia was easy, except that the officers took the party's revolver.

Miss Platt filled up her car with gasoline, for which the Russians refused to accept payment, and headed for Moscow. Then the fun began. Nowhere could they find hotels and food was scarce. For two nights they slept in haystacks and in a peasant's hut.

The owner of this hut had no food but black bread and tea and potatoes, so they went to a neighboring collective farm whose manager produced two pounds of butter, three dozen eggs, and several packages of tea. The peasant was astounded by this munificence and stood open mouthed while his guests scrambled a couple of dozen eggs with a generous chunk of butter. He and the rest of the men living in the hut ate with their guests, but made the women folk serve and then stand back along the wall.

When a remark was addressed to the Russian women, they would not answer until the host relayed it to them, then conveyed their answer back again.

There were no gasoline filling stations anywhere, so the tourists appealed to local G. P. U. officials, who supplied the gas and oil necessary and refused to take payment, saying they were honored by the visit. They wanted to entertain their guests for a day or two.

In every town where the car stopped, gaping crowds immediately gathered as if they had never seen an automobile before. Often the local police had to be called out to clear a way through the curious throngs and keep them from climbing over the car.

The horses along the way were more frightened than curious and the car left a trail of overturned carts and runaway horses in its wake. Once near Moscow the horses grew tamer,

RETURNING

MRS. ERNEST FOOTE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Foote, recently married at the Union Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, are on a wedding trip in Wisconsin and when they return will reside at 6709 Merrill avenue. The bride formerly was Miss Emilie Saunders, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Saunders of 4400 Union avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Foote both attended Northwestern university. Their marriage was performed by his uncle, Dr. J. Franklin Clancy.

Youngest of 'Gibson Girls' Wed to Yale Athlete, 'Leftie' Flynn

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—The youngest of the Gibson girls, Mrs. Nora Langhorne Phipps, sister of Lady Astor and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, today became the bride of Morris Bennett Flynn, former Yale football player, also called "Lefty" Flynn.

The wedding took place at the Prince's row registry office. The register was signed by the bridegroom's father, Joseph Augustus Flynn, and his brother-in-law, Reginald G. Harvey.

Mrs. Phipps and her first husband, Paul Phipps, an Englishman, were divorced last month. Mr. Flynn has been married and divorced three times.

When Charles Dana Gibson made the five famed Langhorne sisters of Virginia known throughout the world as the "Gibson Girls," he started Nora, the youngest, on a path of publicity which she has since been at pains to avoid.

She has been one of London's most popular hostesses and a well known figure in English society, although her widest fame, as far as the public is concerned, comes from the fact that she is a sister of Lady Astor.

Today's ceremony, in keeping with her own desire, was attended by only her and Flynn's closest friends.

Recently Mrs. Phipps has been living with Lady Ravensdale in Mayfair. Her name rarely appears in the society columns and only once or twice in the last decade has she figured in the news. Once was when her daughter Joyce married Reginald Grenfell two years ago at an elaborate wedding in St. Margaret's church.

Aimee's Sailor Son-in-Law Gets Job Outside Temple

Los Angeles, Cal., July 20.—(AP)—William Bradley Smith, who as a purser on a round-the-world liner courted and married Roberta Semple, daughter of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, is not to work at Angelus temple. He has taken a clerical position with an automobile association and he and his wife have left the parsonage of the bride's mother. This was learned today. Mrs. McPherson had expressed the hope her son-in-law would enter religious work, but friends said his new job met with her approval. Rolf McPherson, 18 year old son of the evangelist, will marry Lorna Dee Smith of Alta, Okla., at Angelus temple tomorrow night.

Are Pastors Trusted as Much as 50 Yrs. Ago? Professor Asks

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Is the ministry as a profession as highly trusted and socially recognized as it was 50 years ago? This question was asked by Dr. Norman E. Richardson at the opening meeting of the second annual conference of ministers and church workers at the Presbyterian Theological seminary. Sessions of the conference will continue throughout the week.

Dr. Richardson told the 150 members of the conference that the time was when the clergy gave the people a satisfying and accepted conception of God. They also, he said, were able to explain the origin and meaning of human life, and a "dynamic which made possible a way of living which was distinct from worldliness?"

"Is it well with the ministerial profession today?" Prof. Richardson asked. He then pointed to today's marital problems and asked if the ministry functioned as vitally today as previously "in placing the divine sanctions on marriage? Does the ministry carry weight today in challenging unrighteousness or in defending the sacredness of human life as it did even 25 years ago?"

Prof. Richardson declared the ministry can be restored to its position of strength only as men can be found who will accept the true implications of the profession.

Dr. Richardson pointed to the "first professional blunder" in the history of the Christian ministry. This, Prof. Richardson said is found in Matthew xx., 20-28, when two of the 12 apostles wanted preferred rank. Dr. Richardson cited the damaging effects of pull used to secure advancement in professional standing among ministers.

"The situation is described in Matthew, xx., 20-28," Dr. Richardson declared. "Two of the chosen 12, using the fact that their mother was a sister of Christ's mother, asked that by his commandment they be given preferred places in the organization of the profession.

"To use personal influence or 'pull' as a substitute for superior professional service was to introduce false standards and to inject disruptive emotional tensions into the corporate life of the profession."

Rouen to Recall Death of Victor Hugo's Daughter

ROUEN, France, July 20.—(AP)—Louis Barthou, former French prime minister, has accepted the chairmanship of a committee which has been formed to erect a monument to Victor Hugo in the cemetery where Hugo's wife and two daughters are buried. Every year, on Sept. 4, there is a pilgrimage to the grave of Leopoldine Hugo, one of the daughters, whose death by drowning inspired him to compose the tragic "Contemplations." She was drowned while on her honeymoon, and her husband died attempting to save her.

German Finds Brain Supplies Electricity

Rockefeller Fund Helps in Making Tests.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 20.—In the midst of need and political uncertainty, Germany's advances in all fields of technical and applied scientific research continue to be extensive.

Out at Buch, a lovely green suburb of excellently equipped buildings, the Institute for Brain Research of the Kaiser Wilhelm society has just been officially opened under the leadership of Prof. Dr. Heinrich W. Vogt, neurologist.

The "brain museum" there will be organized along lines similar to those of the Pantheon of Brains in Moscow. Dr. Vogt was called in by the soviet authorities to organize the Russian pantheon. There— most prized of many similar research objects—is to be found Lenin's brain, now mounted and preserved in thirty theusand separate microtome slices.

Funds for the German foundation come largely from Dr. Krupp von Bohlen-Halbach, steel magnate, and the American Rockefeller foundation.

Only when physiological investigation of the brain and nervous system brings scientists to a point where they will be able to administer substances to nourish or retard specific portions not only with curative purposes in view, but actually to increase mental capacity in definite directions, will science be in a position to hinder the bad in human personality and promote the good. Such is the opinion of Prof. Vogt.

The abnormal brain is of utmost importance to the researchers, for it tells them things about normal brains which they could otherwise never come to know. And not only are dead brains studied; living gray matter gets its full share of attention.

Of particular interest is the work of Prof. Emil Fischer, who has succeeded in detecting and registering infinitesimal electric currents which are generated in the gray matter. By means of contacts made at certain points of the brain surface he has been able to register on an ultra-sensitive galvanometer and record—in the form of a curve on photographic film—the electric flow which is set up when, for instance, the stimulus of an electric light falls on the eye.

Prof. Fischer's work is leading to what might be called the "measurement of thought process."

The thickest skull will no longer be an obstacle to medicinal treatment of the brain, nor will there be any part of the human body, inside as well as outside, which cannot be given intensive thermal stimulation, thanks to the development of an ultra-short wave "sender" especially for therapeutic use, it is said.

This apparatus is a short wave broadcasting station with fifteen hundred watt power [one hundred million vibrations a second!]. The waves can be focused, and so penetrative are the ultra-short waves that they will pass almost unhindered through clothing, flesh, and even the bones of the human skeleton.

The medical attendant, himself securely shielded from any accidental unwanted influence of the rays, can direct them quite accurately into the innermost recesses of the patient's body just where they are needed, according to experts.

NEW YORK POLICE ASK FINGERPRINTS OF HOSTS AT "CLUBS"

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Police Commissioner Mulrooney today told 300 night club and dance hall proprietors "what's what" in New York's night life of the future.

First of all, he said, all the owners, operators, and managers hereafter must file with the police their correct names and addresses. In addition they must have their finger prints and photographs taken for the police files and must give officials the correct names and addresses of all employés.

Licenses for dancing are to be refused establishments seating only sixty or seventy persons.

The police will keep watchful eye on night clubs with the view to slighting any gangsters, racketeers, etc.

"There will also be no more of this subsidizing of taxicab drivers to bring parties of maudlin persons to night clubs; there will be no ink eradicator to lift the $30 checks to $300," Mulrooney warned.

"And another thing," he emphasized, "3 o'clock is the closing hour."

Indians Kill White Chicken as Chief Did for Warriors' Safety

Muskogee, Okla., July 20.—(AP)—Sacrifice of a snow white chicken by John Noisy, Jess Locust, and Paul Sta, keepers of the eternal fires of Keetoowah, was the climax of a night hawk Cherokee Indian ceremonial near Gore, Okla.

Chief Sam Smith, explaining the sacrifice to white friends, said he gave up a white chicken each month during the world war in praying for victory and the return of Keetoowah Cherokees who were across the sea. All of them came back, he said.

Hungry School Pupils' Fund Calls for Cash

Smallest Gifts Welcome, Says an Official.

The home economics department of the board of education yesterday made a request for small donations of a dollar or less to aid in the feeding of hungry children, whose only relief is through the summer schools and recreation centers.

"Naturally we are greatly pleased at the donations of five, ten, twenty and fifty dollars," Miss Frances L. Swain, director of home economics in the public schools, said, "but the persons who can afford such donations are few. Many people feel they cannot give sums large enough to aid us, but their feeling is erroneous.

"A gift of one dollar will provide lunches for one child for ten days. Such a small gift would injure no one but combined with numerous others would keep a great number of small children from going hungry."

Contributions to the fund for destitute and hungry children, started by THE TRIBUNE and W. J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, are covering a wider and wider territory, Mr. Bogan said yesterday. Not only Illinois but Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana were represented yesterday in the donations. A large number were from Chicago school board employés, themselves facing destitution as a result of the board's inability to pay salary checks three months in arrears.

THE TRIBUNE will be glad to receive and acknowledge in its columns contributions to this fund.

Contributions received last week and immediately turned over to the home economics department of the school system included the following:

$25—Helen E. King, Lewis E. Ayers.

$10—Mrs. G. D. Clark, Hattie M. Decker, Mrs. Barry Bastman, L. J. Grass, and one anonymous donation.

$3—Wilma Kellner, Eva Strassheim, employes of Atlas Electric Devices company.

$2—Jennie Mortimer, Mrs. Eugenia Basguin, Catherine E. Wetherbee.

Lewis E. Myers, president of the school board, who contributed $25, wrote to Miss Swain:

"I am very sympathetic with the work you are doing and would like to make a modest contribution."

Appreciation of the donations received was voiced by numerous teachers, who carried the burden themselves until the failure of the board to meet salaries.

"Today we started giving milk to children not enrolled in the summer schools," Honora E. McGuire, principal of the Mark Sheridan school, wrote. "Many of the small children in school are in need of food. They are making a great effort to profit by the summer school work and every minute that is saved for them is appreciated. All of our pupils come from homes of poverty. We serve them with milk, sandwiches, spaghetti, fruit, rice, and pudding or cookies."

Franciscan Order Reassigns Some of Teaching Force

Educational and pastoral assignments of the Franciscan order were made yesterday at its provincial council at Mays lake, near Hinsdale. Dr. Lawrence Henninger of Washington, D. C., will become the dean of the history department of the Franciscan college, at Quincy, Ill., and succeed Dr. Francis Stech, an authority on American history, who was released for a two year period to study in Texas.

Dr. Bernardine Teppe of Chicago was made vice president and dean of men at the Franciscan college. The Rev. Fathers Luke Dittmer and Pancratius Freudinger, both of Hinsdale, were assigned to Rome for philosophical research. The Rev. Father Sylvester Saale of Hinsdale was sent to Jerusalem for biblical research.

The Rev. Father Bonaventure Allerding, professor of Spanish at Quincy, was made first superior of the old mission of San José at San Antonio, Tex.

Women Show How They Deal with Millions

Favor Cities' Bonds for Investment.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

What the powers that be probably need to straighten out that European moratorium tangle is a group of feminine financiers. Such—for instance—as the national officers of the Woman's Benefit association, that started its international convention this morning at the Palmer house. In its forty years of existence this group of women have handled funds aggregating $50,000,000 for their organization without the loss of a dollar, and there wasn't a man among the 300,000 membership.

"Our investments have been mainly in municipal bonds," commented Mrs. Bina West Miller of Port Huron, founder and supreme president.

"We always have been extremely careful about handling other people's money, which is one of the ideals of our order—fraternalism. Right now we are in a better position financially than are many banks.

"In our forty years we have paid out about $40,000,000 in benefits, and we always take all possible care of funds accruing to us. At our headquarters in Port Huron we have the best burglar proof vaults that we could get. We don't believe in taking chances. About $32,000,000 has been contained in those vaults in the past, so it's quite apparent why we are careful."

Mrs. Miller is Republican national committeewoman from Michigan. She was the guest of honor last night at a reception at the Stevens hotel, preliminary to the business sessions that will begin this morning at the Palmer house. Drill teams from all parts of the country participated in an exhibit for the delegates and guests.

Women from both the east and the west coast were in attendance yesterday. Every state in the Union, as well as Canada and Hawaii, is represented, but the convention body proper will be comprised of only a little more than 100 voting delegates. Others who have come to Chicago by the thousands are only visitors, and practically all of them will participate in the pageant tomorrow night at Soldiers' field.

The Chicago Black Horse troop is expected to escort Gov. Emmerson of Illinois and Gov. Brucker of Michigan in a processional heralding the opening of the pageant, which the governors and their wives will witness in company with Mrs. Miller and other officials. Nearly 10,000 men, women and children will take part.

Practically every occupation in which women have engaged to date has its quota among the associated membership. Mrs. Stella L. Sullivan of Beaver county, Pennsylvania, a licensed pilot, and the only aviatrix on the records, is expected to arrive today by train.

It's Time to Write Those Letters About Charms of Ravinia

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Ravinia park, that lovely north shore haven, is known all over the world for its beauty and for its opera. Music lovers from every part of the country journey to Ravinia, to sit out under the trees or in the open air opera house and listen to artists who made their fame not only with the leading companies of the United States but are well known abroad.

It is our privilege then to be invited by Mr. Louis Eckstein, president of the Ravinia Opera company, to come to his opera house in the woods on Thursday, July 23, for one of our summer parties. We will not hear opera but there will be much music and the kind of program which should be particularly attractive to young people.

Drills and parades by the infantry from Fort Sheridan, a troop of cavalry, the sailors from great lakes and a bayonet drill by the marines are a few of the bits that will be sure to please you on "Army and Navy" day. There will be a band to represent Fort Sheridan and another from Great Lakes Training station—all of which sounds to me like a very interesting afternoon.

You have only two days to write letters in order to be invited to this delightful party, for I want every letter to reach my office by Thursday morning and I want every boy and girl who thinks he or she would like this kind of a party write me immediately.

There will be a lovely ride out to Ravinia on the North Shore Line which wends its way through the suburbs making the trip a picturesque as well as a fast and cool one. Doesn't this sound enticing? Of course, it does and you don't want to miss a bit of it so begin work on your letter at once. When writing do not forget to tell me your name, address and age and send your letter to Sally Joy Brown, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE

Fourteen Times She Left Hubby, Fourteen Times Welcomed Back

BY DOPIS BLAKE.

He is 45. His hair not gray yet. Married ten years—and his wife has left him fourteen times since marriage.

"Mostly she leaves me in the spring," he tells.

"I come home from work. There's the good-by note on the dresser. We come together by accident later, or she finds out my address or I find out hers. She says she's not interested in marriage. But she comes back to give it another trial. She's very attractive, keen and daring, etc., etc.

"ROY M."

Now what are you going to do with a girl like that? When the spring breezes begin to blow, it would seem she needed to be tied to a hitching post. She surely is the long distance deserter to my knowledge. The marathon goodby note-er. Where does the lady hie herself off to? What does she do in the interim between departure and return? Does she work? Or what?

And what draws her back each time to the scene of her last goodby? Some strange hold the man has in spite of his seeming unsatisfaction as a perpetual husband? Or, does she find out in her wanderings that few people have sympathy for her restless nature? Few would be willing to take back, forgive, and forget. It would require a more profound student of psychology than I to determine the whys and wherefors of so many leave-takings and returns in a ten year married lifetime.

Instead of not being interested in marriage, it's obvious the woman has no talent for it. In marriage she is a misfit. In some other vocation, the spring attacks might be absorbed in work that is tasteful.

About the only moral to the tale is the deduction that some women, as some men, simply should not marry. They should set out alone and keep to their single state so as not to bring confusion into other lives. But what to do with a woman who already has left you fourteen times, apparently to be welcomed back on each return? My judgment would be to keep on welcoming her, as no doubt Roy M. will agree that it is exactly what he intends to do, anyway. Habits like that, on both sides, aren't likely to respond to the ordinary cures for restless males.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

"INQUISITIVE."

It shouldn't make the slightest difference. It may never be noticed.

White Silk Coat Dress Planned for Town Days

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—This will be known in future epochs as the snowy summer of 1931. White is right from morn till night, from inside to out, and from sole to crown. This is the law of the prophets of style this summer.

You can't think of any costume or any accessory thereto that Paris doesn't make in white. Bag shops are full of white hand bags, made of anything from oilcloth to washable ilsard, and where there are bags there are snowy shoes and open sandals to match them. White hats are a whole story in themselves, and white dress a library full.

The topmost peak of the great white style wave is the white coat dress for torrid days in town. It is made by the Paris dressmakers in almost any kind of opaque white material, but dead white crêpe marocain is just a little more fashionable than any other fabric for this sort of dress. Marocain is getting rougher, too, and the rougher the smarter. The dress sketched today is made of this rough crêpe marocain in dead white.

It is cut like a double breasted redingote, buttoned with two big white buttons at the left side, but Augusta-bernard has done some tricky folding and cutting on the collar. The big redingote revers in front have their points tucked in at the sides of the V-neck closing, and the back collar is cut sailor fashion.

The coat dress is held in place by a black crêpe marocain sash tied tight around the waistline, which helps out the two buttons, and a black slip is worn under the dress so one needn't worry when the crossed skirt part blows open. The big hat is black silk crocheted straw, banded with black velvet under white slides.

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

BETTER MILK MARKET SEEN.

Predictions that dairymen in Iowa can expect an improvement in markets the last of this year and during 1932, but that dairy prices probably will not swing back very readily to the higher levels of 1927 and 1928 are being made by J. C. Galloway, farm management specialist in the extension service of Iowa State college.

The dairy situation is not expected to improve for several years. One reason for that condition is that the number of cows since 1929 has increased greater than is necessary to supply the normal demands for dairy products. Milk production early in 1931 was running two per cent higher than a year ago.

Industrial conditions are scanned by Mr. Galloway in making his comments. Improvement in business, he feels, will mean a greater demand for Iowa products as only 14 per cent of the butter manufactured in the state is consumed at home.

"The facts emphasize the need for culling low producing cows," he advises farmers. "It is unwise to keep cows, which may have returned a profit a year ago, in the hopes that prices will swing back within the next few months to make the marginal cows profitable."

Lower feed prices are given as one of the rays of hope for better dairy farm profits. Dairymen are also recognizing that much of their grain can be marketed at a "substantial profit," according to Mr. Galloway, by feeding to cows. Culling the poorer cows first is his advice.

Food Talk.

Mrs. A. D. has requested a good recipe for cherry preserves.

We assume Mrs. D. desires to make preserves out of the common sour red cherries now in season. Large black or red sweet cherries in this part of the country are usually too expensive for preserving.

Cherry preserves, when made correctly, are one of the most delicious confections. The ideal preserve is one in which the cherry is a rich red color and almost transparent, the sirup of a thick ropy consistency, and the flavor a pleasantly mild cherry one. Too often cherry preserves are dark in color and have a flavor so strong that it is almost choking. The cause of this is due to long cooking. In trying to obtain a nice thick sirup in the preserves the cook is likely to overcook.

Here is a method for making an excellent preserve. Pit the cherries in the usual way by hand. We find that the mechanical pitter or stoner is likely to tear the cherry to pieces. For preserves the fruit should be as whole as possible, and this condition can be maintained only through hand pitting. This, I admit, is tedious, but there is no way quite so good.

A few of the stones should be reserved and broken. Break only the shell, not the kernel in the pits. Tie the broken pits in a piece of gauze and put into the preserves to give them a good flavor. Use ½ tablespoon broken pits for the following quantity.

For every 2 cups of stoned cherries and the juice that goes with them, use 2¾ cups of sugar. Add the sugar and let stand three hours. The sugar draws sufficient liquid out of the cherries to cook the preserves. No water is necessary, because if it is the preserves will need a longer time.

Cook until the cherries are clear. This requires about 25 minutes. Remove any scum that accumulates on the top during the boiling. Skim out the cherries and put in sterile pint jars, which are a desirable size for the ordinary family. Discard the bag containing the pits.

Then boil the sirup remaining in the kettle rapidly until the consistency is thick. This may be tested every few minutes by putting a few drops on a cold saucer in the refrigerator. Of course, the cherry sirup will not jell because there is not sufficient pectin in the cherry juice. It requires about 10 minutes of vigorous boiling to obtain the desirable consistency in the sirup.

When sufficiently thick pour the sirup over the cherries to fill the jar almost to overflowing. Put on a sterile ja ring and screw on a sterile cap tightly to obtain a perfect seal. Put in a cool, dry place out of the direct light. The red of the cherry is soon faded in a strong light. Some of the most successful canners always cover up their fruit with a layer of clean, thick paper to exclude the light. This amount yields one pint of preserves.

Cherry preserves are delicious eaten as any other confection and they are a delicious accompaniment of sweet potato croquettes.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Overlooked the Fee.

The first time I went to a ball game I saw a man at the gate with a handful of score cards. He was saying, "Want a score card, want a score card?"

I went up to him and grabbed one away from him.

He yelled, "Hey, you, ten cents!"

Was I embarrassed? Not much.

FLOWER OF THORNS

By Marie Conway Oemler

SYNOPSIS.

Sally Rutherford, the last of a proud old southern family, following the ruin and death of her grandfather, determines to keep the heavily mortgaged Oakleigh plantation within the family. A porter's lodge, facing the Dixie highway, gives her the idea of opening a hot dog stand. She arranges with a milkman, who says he is Mr. Forman, of the Winstead dairies, to deliver milk. He is really Samuel Forman Winstead, only son of Henry Winstead, town banker and holder of the Oakleigh mortgage. The Rutherfords don't know" the Winsteads, of carpetbagging stock, whose estate adjoined Oakleigh. Sally's milkman helps her to make the Shack a success before she discovers his identity. By that time she is receiving the court of Lowndes Jennings, "a man of her own class."

INSTALLMENT XIV.

POVERTY AND LOVE.

Lowndes was in rather a tight place. He was always strapped for money; he had to keep up appearances, and he owed more than a young man in his financial position should. He hadn't been so lucky at cards as he pretended, for there were one or two little stories being quietly whispered. So he told his troubles, Miss Gertrude Reinert was coming south again.

The Reinerts had bought up one of the largest plantations in Carolina and used it for a game preserve. The fine old house had been repaired, refurnished, and modernized into "The Lodge," and once or twice a year the family occupied it for a month, coming south in their yacht by way of Charleston. Reinert père, who had made his millions in western oil, was a very wealthy man of simple tastes, subservient to his ambitious wife and his pretty daughter, Gertrude. He had been a most useful acquaintance to Lowndes Jennings, inviting him for luxurious cruises on the yacht, having him down for the shooting on the plantation; and Mr. Jennings was always among those present at all the affairs given by the Reinerts during their stay in town. Besides this, Mr. Reinert had thrown many a meaty bit of trade in Lowndes' way. The young man also reaped a tidy harvest at bridge and stud poker in the yacht's smoking room. Reinert liked to think he ruled the roost, but Gertrude, his favorite child, ruled him. Gertrude had fallen in love with Lowndes, which was not, at first, distressing to the young man, promising as it did that to which he had long since made up his mind—a wealthy wife. The pair had managed to see a good deal of one another; there was actually an understanding between them. Lowndes would presently make himself quite clear to Gertrude, and Gertrude would in turn make herself quite clear to papa. Then there would be a fashionable wedding. Besides, what better could he do, poor as he was and with no social position, his expensive tastes, his meager income to consider. And then came Sally Rutherford.

As much as he could love anybody but himself, Lowndes had fallen in love with Sally Rutherford. Had things been right, had she been, as she was not, Col. Rutherford's heiress, Lowndes would have married Sally and lived happy ever after—maybe. As things were—O, hang the luck! Here he was in love with Sally and she with him, and neither of them possessed a penny! And Sally considered herself engaged to him. He hadn't meant to be indiscreet—never had he been guilty of indiscretion before. But how could he help it? And what was he going to do? There were L. O. U.'s not always paid to be met—O, hang it all, anyhow!

And Gertrude, confound it, considered herself as good as engaged to him. Thought she owned him.

And Gertrude hadn't actually come down as yet, and in the meantime here was Sally, and Sally loved him and he loved Sally. He was crazy about her; he told himself; he simply had to see her while the chance held. He'd have to give her up, in a little while, he knew. In the meantime he meant to be happy. Lowndes wasn't bad, but he had never in his life considered anybody but himself, and he was irremediably selfish. Sally was such a pretty, plucky little thing, he couldn't help loving her. And Sally grew prettier and prettier, and happier and happier. Lowndes loved her! He had told her so! She loved Lowndes.

Miss Winstead came in nowadays she greeted him with an absent nod—she didn't have time to think of the Winsteads. She had Lowndes a little about all day long. The handsomest man, the most perfect lover. Lowndes Lowndes with his grey eyes, his black hair, his wonderful smile. Not either of them had any money, but what was money to love? And Sally holed up at Sam Winstead with eyes like brown velvet pansies, eyes which didn't see him at all.

Sam Winstead knew Lowndes Jennings very well indeed. He had been in the course of those secret whispers, and he knew how well founded they were. He himself kept his mouth grimly shut, unwilling to injure Sally, but he no longer wondered why Lowndes Jennings was so lucky at cards. He failed to know what he knew, wished it were otherwise, but he couldn't help despising and distrusting the debonaire Mr. Jennings.

He had seen or twice attended the Reinerts' affairs, and always Mr. Jennings had been very much present. It was known in her family that there was deep sort of understanding between Lowndes and Gertrude.

Well, then, if Lowndes Jennings was engaged to Miss Reinert, as many people said he was, why was the young man so frequent a visitor at Sally's? Of course, if he really wasn't engaged to Gertrude—but he wasn't the man to do that, under any circumstances. Sam was filled with misgivings. Sally was becoming a fairly good business woman, now that the shop was doing well under her careful management she could take care of herself. Nevertheless, Sally was young and untried, and Lowndes Jennings was a very dangerous young man, with a great reputation as a lady killer.

Sam pondered a little before closing time Mr. Jennings came to take Miss Sally for a ride in that smart little car. Although Moses didn't like Mr. Jennings, he liked to look at him—that was certainly a gentleman who knew how to look grand!

"The boy ain't wut," he grumbled to himself. "Dat boy ain't de right sort of boy for our Miss Sally."

To his disturbed Miss Sally had but one powerful and kindly friend, Mr. Sam Winstead. With an old Negro's shrewdness Moses had from the first guessed that young man's secret: that boy was in love with Miss Sally. And he himself was a Rutherford "bawn," Moses approved of it with all his heart.

The sweet scent had borne Miss Sally and Mr. Jennings away, and Moses supposed they would be gone for an hour or so. He wrapped himself in his greatcoat, and sat on the steps, the light outlining him. He had seen Mr. Winstead driving toward the city late that afternoon, but he had not seen him returning. He hoped the young man would pass by. He had not the ghost of an idea why he wanted to see Mr. Winstead, but he did want him. He didn't know why he was scared, but he was scared. His old master's expression, his power, his strength, would somehow give him the comfort he needed.

Miss Sally had been gone some half hour. It seemed like hours to Moses. Then he heard a car coming, and the sound of a singing voice. Mr. Sam Winstead always sang when he drove alone on the road.

The driver discerned old Moses sitting on the front steps, wrapped in his greatcoat. The car stopped.

"Waitin' for somebody, Moses?"

"Well, suh, I boy by my lonesome, an' I t'ink maybe somebody'd come by I'd be glad to see, suh."

"What I do, Moses?"

"Well, suh, I bin lookin' at yo' evah pence de fust time I seed yo', an' I don't mind a-sayin' yo' yit," said Moses cordially.

"Pittsburgh!" laughed the young man.

"No, suh—I jus' lonesome, dat's all. I bin wishful you'd be ridin' by an' howdy."

"The road is rather deserted tonight," admitted Sam.

"I 'low dat. An' I bin hyuh all by myse'f, suh."

"Say, if I come in and say howdy, will you fix me a cup of hot coffee?"

"I don't low shet up de shop yit, suh; not till Miss Sally come back. I kin git yo' coffee if yo' come in, suh."

Moses rose, and the two entered the shop. In a few minutes Moses had fixed the young man his coffee, and unbidden he prepared a sandwich of ham, which the young man ate. "I so' wish dat chile'd come back," added Moses. "I don't like Miss Sally ridin' 'roun' in dem cyars so much."

"Oh, she's all right, Moses. Don't be so foolish."

"I 'spect she is, suh. Mr. Lowndes Jennings is one good driver. Least-ways, I hope so." Out of the corner of his eye he shot a quick glance at the white man.

"I assure you he is, so make your mind easy," said Mr. Winstead.

"That boy is sho' fine lookin'," said Moses, too, admiringly. "I heart tell he gonna marry wid one o' dem rich Yankee gals." He shot another quick glance at the white man's composed face.

"I think I'll wait to send the rich Yankee girl a wedding present until she announces her engagement to Mr. Lowndes Jennings," said Mr. Winstead calmly.

It was plainly that Moses was worried about Mr. Jennings' coming to the shack. So something must have occurred that disturbed the Negro. He knew that Jennings had been a frequent visitor, but why was Moses disturbed now? Negroes don't talk about one white man to another, and Moses had been very guarded, yet Sam understood that the old man was trying, in his own way, to warn him against Jennings. Why?

Bess Perkins to Seek Ph. D. at U. of London

BY THALIA

You might know that Elizabeth Perkins, the Herbert F. Perkinses' intelligent young daughter, wouldn't be quitting her studies after making such a phenomenally excellent scholastic record during her four years just completed at Smith college. She had a remarkably high average during her entire college career, was made a Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year. She belonged to no end of honor societies. For the next three years she'll continue hard at it, working for her doctor's degree at the University of London. She has gone to Europe now with Mr. and Mrs. Perkins. They're planning to "do" Norway and Sweden, and then will return to this country leaving their daughter to begin studying for her Ph. D. some time in September.

R. H. Morse' House Warming; Margaret A. Barnes' Life Story.

Col. and Mrs. Robert R. Morse had, I'm told, a perfectly scrumptious housewarming party at their stunning new place out at Knollwood Country club last Saturday night. The house is quite an enormous one—four stories high—and is all done in modern style. The Morsen are to be out there all summer. There probably will be numerous house parties in the new domicile, as it has a capacious dormitory on the top floor, and as many as 40 people can be accommodated as house guests.

D'you see the article in this month's Pictorial Review about Margaret Ayer Barnes? It tells all about how she began writing when she was laid up from a motor accident that happened when she and Mr. Barnes were traveling in France about six years ago, and how she has sold every single one of the stories she has written from that time on. A photograph of the first check she earned for a story called "The Channer" hangs over her desk. "Lovers' Meeting" is the name of her new novel and is to begin to appear in serial form next month. Wonder why Chicago's famous authoress doesn't have a good new picture taken. That one [with the hat and the buckle] is very nice, to be sure, but it would be nice to see a different one for a change.

By all accounts, Lake Forest is tired out as a result of the excitements and gayeties of the polo week. Everybody is "simply dead, my dear," and all that sort of thing. Practically all of the eastern visitors have departed except Mrs. Harold E. Talbott of New York, who is going back east today with Mrs. Charles Cushing, and lots of people are going away for a bit by way of recuperation. Mrs. William H. Mitchell departs next Monday for a month in California with her brother and sister-in-law, the Clarence Mitchells.

Then there was the young man, vacation bound, who decided he'd not be bothered with a bulky road map. With red crayon he traced in the route he planned to take and clipped a slim strip out of the map. A hundred miles off he looked in his bill fold to consult his neat road indicator, only to discover he'd left the clipped portion home, and had taken along the wrong part.

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 20.—[Special.]—Young Latin-American dancing men, eight of whom were employed by the Ambassador hotel two weeks ago, regret their employment should have been made known. Five of them have played as motion picture extras. The other three, Ernesto Piedra, son of Gen. Manuel Piedra, Cuban minister to China, is a technical director in films. He objected strenuously to the title "gigolo." He said "I think we might call ourselves cavaliers of the dance.

Guillermo Rodriguez, a Colombian youth with 200 hours in the air, said he dances with American ladies to complete his training as aviator.

"I am only waiting for the chance to fly from New York to Colombia," he said. "I will be commissioned a lieutenant in the aviation branch of our army as soon as I arrive there."

Julio Abadia, son of a member of the Colombian administration, has acted in Spanish language films. Eduardo Lebaron, another of the hotel's young men, has danced in films.

Jesse Lasky, production boss of Paramount studios, east and west, on returning here from New York, said his studio considers it vitally important in making profits to consider thousands of families have been forced to eliminate help from their households.

"This means that children now must accompany their parents to the theaters. A maid formerly would have cared for them in the evening. It makes it necessary that wholesome entertainment that will appeal equally to grownups and youngsters, instead of too sophisticated dramas, be provided as screen fare for the public."

Lasky's organization has produced "Tom Sawyer," "Skippy," "Forbidden Adventure" and soon will release "Huckleberry Finn." Universal will star Junior Durkin in "Peck's Bad Boy."

Present Day Fashion in Motherhood Calls for Love and Study

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Fashions in furniture change.

Fashions in hair change—and fashions in clothes—and fashions in mothers.

A child's nurse, one who down in Virginia when she was younger had full charge of many children, was talking to me the other night. She was "reminiscing" about some of these children, because that very day, as she was walking along the street, a tall handsome man who was caught in a crowd facing her had stopped, looked hard, thrown his arms about her, cried out "Georgiana!" and had given her a great hug.

"I raised the boy," she said in her soft southern voice, "from a baby. His mother was more like company to him than she was like his mother. If I was ever worried about what to do for him, I wouldn't think of going to her, with her parties and dresses on her mind—I'd go to Mammy Lisa—she knew everything about children."

"Were all the mothers like that?" I asked.

"Well no—of course some paid more attention to their children. But none of the rich folks really minded their children in those days."

"It wasn't like it is now," she went on. "Times have changed a lot—and mothers have changed—and babies, too. Mothers take more care of their babies now than they used to. Why, in those days in Virginia no white mother nursed her baby—she always had a wet nurse. And that wet nurse wasn't allowed to do any hard work at all—and she had special food, too.

"Mothers have changed. They're with their children more than they used to be. And the children know more than they used to. Even the babies are wiser. Things are all different," she ended up.

The present day fashion in motherhood is to nurse your own baby, be with your own children and to bring a combination of intelligence, study, and love to bear upon putting through what is acknowledged to be one of the biggest jobs there is.

Are you a fashionable mother?

Ruin to Household Linens by Lipsticks Is Easily Avoided

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Some time ago I read of a projected movement on the part of hotel and restaurant owners to put an extra tax on the bill for lipstick damage to table linen. The movement never went through, unless the charge is hidden away in the price of the salad or the lobster à la Newburg. But a powerful lot of linen does get colored in the course of a day of breakfasting, lunching, and dining. Think of what every wiped lip in every restaurant in every town of America does daily to table linen!

Also, think of how enraged summer country home hostesses are going to be before the end of this season, what with headless guests using the best embroidered lavender towels to round off the lip contours and to wipe the fingers clean of red rouge. I mention that because I heard one exclaiming loudly on the damage done to her best show-off trousseau hand towels.

I wanted to ask why one who could afford a country home and week-end guests wouldn't have on hand her tissue supply for just such an emergency—the same tissue, in fact, that is used for wiping off the surplus cream. And, by the way, aren't these tissue products the blessing in a household!

You can't keep the finger from being dyed in the blood shade, even though you use the protected lipstick, because, to perfect the lip contouring job, it is imperative to smooth the coloring on with the fingertip after the lipstick daubing.

I understand the manufacturers have plotted another relief measure for the laundry harried and are making teeny lipstick towels out of rouge red linen. These serve likewise as a handy implement in the hand to remove the color bits that escape the proper lipline.

Anyway, it is a poor need these days that isn't met promptly by some wide awake cosmetician. And, speaking of lipstick coloring, have you looked into the possibilities of the paler coral shades? They are said to be flattering to young teeth, but maybe not so much so to older.

Two Rowboats Make Big Day at Algonquin

Rumors were flying around among the cottages and dormitories yesterday at Camp Algonquin. Excitement reigned in the great dining hall, in the girls' quarters, in the boys' hall up on the hill. There is to be a visitor in camp today, it was whispered.

"They say he's from Chicago and he's going to leave something for us, something so we can have a nicer time out on the Fox river," was the general trend of the news as it sped.

This rumor is well founded. There is to be a visitor, and he will leave something which already has been locked away in the Gentry boathouse, safe from inquiring eyes.

As a reward of merit to the children of the camp, A. E. Jessurun, whose philanthropic concern for children is well known among Chicago charity workers, will present his second gift of rowboats to the camp. Two years ago he visited the camp and left two, and received his thanks in a song sung by the children specially in his honor.

These boats mean a great deal to mothers and children of the congested districts of Chicago, whose only acquaintance with boats are those they sometimes see pleasure bound on Lake Michigan. The rest of the summer the rowboats will be in constant use.

The counselors take the camp's visitors for excursions on the river that lazily rounds the camp's grounds.

In response to the call for ice during the recent hot wave, Chicagoans came generously to the rescue. Contributors sent gifts totaling more than $300, which should provide ice for at least 75 families for a month. The largest gift, a check for $100, came anonymously to the free ice fund, with "best wishes for you in the good work you have undertaken."

KLEENEX absorbs dirt, perspiration

ANOTHER reason for having a package of Kleenex always handy!

In these hot days, when you wipe your face over and over—don't do it with your handkerchief! It's not good for your face, not good for the handkerchief. And looks untidy besides.

Wipe up dirt and perspiration with Kleenex. A fresh, clean tissue every time. It's more sanitary. And far more comfortable—Kleenex is so soft, so gentle, and twice as absorbent as a linen handkerchief!

For general handkerchief use

The uses of Kleenex are legion. Use it for handkerchiefs. These gentle tissues will bring especial comfort during colds and hay fever. They prevent self-infection from handkerchiefs, as you destroy Kleenex immediately after use.

Carry a package of Kleenex in the car this summer. It is a great convenience for motorists.

For removing creams

For years, Kleenex has been the standard method for removing face creams. Authorities advise Kleenex because of its greater softness and absorbency. These delicate tissues save towels from grease and stains, and save your complexion from the dangers of half-clean pores.

Kleenex comes in Cellophane-wrapped packages, so the tissues are always clean and fresh. The package is a marvel of convenience. It permits you to withdraw tissues easily with one hand.

Kleenex is sold at all drug, dry goods and department stores.

When Marjorie was 4 years old we went to the country. Near our porch we found some wild mint growing. I told her what it was she rubbed her hands, and said, "O, smells mints."

"If you don't like any kind of mint candy," I said.

"No, mother," she answered, "but now you can make some mints [mince] pie for daddy. E. S.

NAVY BALLOON WINS; GOODYEAR BAG IS SECOND

First Craft Makes Flight of 215 Miles.

Akron, O., July 20.—[Special.]—First place in the 1931 national balloon eliminations race was won today by the United States navy bag piloted by Lieutenants T. G. M. Settle and Wilfred Bushnell. Second place went to the Goodyear-Zeppelin Goodyear VIII., piloted by Frank Trotter, and third honors to the W. J. R. of Detroit, guided by Ed J. Hill and Arthur Schlosser.

The navy balloon landed at Marilla, N. Y., about 6 o'clock this morning after covering a distance of 215 miles following the takeoff from the Municipal airport here yesterday evening. The Goodyear came to earth about two hours later at Stevensville, Ont., 190 miles from her starting point, while the W. J. R. came down at Wesleyville, Pa., near Erie, after covering only 115 miles.

80 Miles Takes Fourth.

The army balloon No. 1, piloted by Capt. Karl S. Axtater and Lieut. H. H. Couch, had to cover only about eighty miles to take fourth place in the contest. This bag came down at Custards, Pa., at 10:20 a. m. yesterday after running into a storm. The same storm forced down L. P. Furculow and John Rieker, the Akron balloon pilots, who landed four miles north of Ravenna to take fifth place after traveling only about twenty miles.

Army Bag Is Lost.

A second army balloon, piloted by Lieutenants Edgar Fogesonger and John A. Tarro, was last, with a flight of only thirty-five minutes. It covered only twelve miles before coming down. As a result of the contest, the navy and Goodyear balloons will represent the United States along with W. T. Van Orman of Akron in the International Gordon Bennett race.

Willed $25,000 for Aiding Woman Who Slipped, Fell

York, Pa., July 20.—(AP)—Six years ago William F. Martin assisted an elderly woman when she fell on ice and broke a leg in Norristown, Pa. Today he received word that the woman, Mary Ann Weaver, 76, who died in Norristown three weeks ago, had willed him $25,000 and a $5,000 home. Martin is a widower with one child and has been out of work for three months.

FLYING BROKER FAILS TO BREAK RECORD ON FLIGHT FROM HAVANA

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—James Goodwin Hall, former army flyer and now a broker, failed by seven minutes today to equal the record set by Capt. Frank Hawkes for the flight from Havana to New York.

JAMES GOODWIN HALL.

Hall, who cut 48 minutes from Hawks' time from New York to Miami on Saturday, left Havana at 8:04 eastern daylight time this morning and flew to Miami in 1 hour and 24 minutes. He made the journey across the water to the mainland eight minutes faster than Hawks' time for the trip.

There was a stop of 57 minutes for refueling and he was off again, his landing wheels pulled up into the thick wing of his Lockheed Altair monoplane. The flying broker laid his course in a straight line for New York and for 55 miles he flew out over the ocean, making land again near Charlotte, S. C.

His time from Miami to Floyd Bennett field was six hours and thirty minutes.

His own time tallied with the watches at the airport, but in computing the time he was at first given credit for establishing a new record for the distance, then recapitulation revealed that he had been seven minutes slower than Capt. Hawks in covering the 1,300 mile journey.

Youth Held for Fatal Stabbing of His Sister

A coroner's jury yesterday held Frand Formalis, 19 years old, 1309 North Clark street, to the grand jury on a charge of murdering his sister, Rose, 21 years old, whom he stabbed on Sunday during a quarrel in their home. Their mother, Mrs. Lucy Formalis, was unable to account for her son's act. She said that she had returned home and found the brother and sister quarreling in the kitchen but went into another room when told that it was "none of her business." The girl died yesterday in the County hospital.

Unidentified Man Falls Into River and Drowns

'BOY BROKER' IN JAIL, $6,500,000 SPLURGE ENDED

New York, June 20.—[Special.]—Robert Lee Harrison, the "boy broker," reputed to have pyramided $12,000 into $6,500,000 in twelve years, today pleaded guilty before Judge Max S. Levine in General Sessions to a grand larceny indictment charging him with swindling Selma Boyd out of $25,000 in a fraudulent stock transaction.

R. L. HARRISON. [Acme Photo.]

The broker, who has two other indictments against him, was remanded to the Tombs for sentence July 27. The charge carries a minimum sentence of five years. The other indictments allege that in 1928 Harrison took $6,200 from Edith Y. Robinson of the Hotel Duane, representing that former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, John J. Rascob, William A. Kenny, and Michael Meehan had formed a stock pool, of which he was the head, to buy stock of gas and electric companies.

Broke, but still dapper, the 32 year old broker surrendered to authorities last January after a disappearance of nearly a year in Italy. While he was away his wife, the former Dorothy McCallum of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., obtained a divorce, and the expensive furnishings of their apartment on East 71st street were auctioned off.

Free Youth Convicted for Crime Committed by Others

Eugene Piantkowski, 19 years old, who was wrongfully convicted of robbery and has spent four months in Pontiac reformatory after receiving a one year to life sentence, was freed by Judge Philip Finnegan yesterday in the Criminal court. Last week three men were arrested as suspects in another robbery case and confessed that they committed the crime that sent the youth to prison. Judge Finnegan ordered his release when witnesses agreed the case was one of mistaken identity.

POLICEMAN ASKS MERCY OF U.S. FOR HIS BRIDE-TO-BE

Policeman Joseph P. Killian pleaded for domestic contentment and the happiness of his children before Federal Judge Barnes yesterday in asking a delay in the deportation order against his sweetheart—who would become a stepmother to his two small sons and daughter. Killian is a war veteran.

Since last May, when his wife died, said Killian, he has performed his duties with a heavy heart, thinking of his children, Virginia, 6 years old; Harry, 4, and Joseph Jr., 5 months old, in their motherless home at 3439 Winnemac avenue.

The bride to be is Stephania Poczatka, 23 years old, 1118 West Huron street. She faces deportation because she made an illegal entry into this country from Warsaw, Poland, two years ago, and yesterday Judge Barnes sent her to the De Kalb county jail for 15 days for making false entries on her passport. COURT ORDERS M'LEAN TO DROP MEXICO DIVORCE

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Justice James M. Proctor of the District of of Columbia Supreme court today signed a permanent injunction preventing Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, from prosecuting a divorce proceeding in Mexico against his wife, Evelyn Walsh McLean.

Mrs. McLean's attorneys insisted on an immediate signing of the order, although Justice Procter wished to wait and allow Justice Jesse C. Adkins to sign it as he had heard the McLean controversy and had granted a decree pro confesso against McLean. Mrs. McLean's attorneys feared that the publisher, who is now in Europe, might go to Paris and begin divorce proceedings there.

McLean's attorneys have noted an appeal to the Court of Appeals.

WRIGLEY READY TO BID $50,000 FOR ART SHIRES

Awaits Scout's Word on Deal.

Arthur The Great Shires in a Cub uniform?

It may sound funny, but it isn't. The Cubs, it was learned yesterday, are interested in the young Texan, who is a member of the Milwaukee American association team, has kept his batting mark above .400 most of the current season.

A Cub scout is trailing the first-baseman and on his report depends whether Shires becomes a Cub or remains on the market to be bid in by one of several other major league clubs now willing to purchase his services.

Season Went $75,000.

The Milwaukee club is said to be pulling out hints that the price for its player, who was permitted to get out of the American league for $10,000 because everybody was afraid of him, will be $100,000. The Cubs' bid, it is said, will be in the neighborhood of $50,000. The Milwaukee club hopes to receive $75,000.

The Cleveland Indians, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Boston Braves are the other clubs which are ready to bid for Shires. Of these three Billy Evans, general manager of the Indians, is the only one likely to try to stay in the competition if the Wrigley bank roll is unburied.

If Shires should be purchased by the Cubs it would be a move toward building for the future. The Milwaukee club probably would refuse to deliver him until the association race is settled.

Batty Career with Sox.

Shires was purchased by the White Sox from Waco in the summer of 1927. In his first game with the Sox he made three hits, after which he reported to his new mates: "So this is the great American league!" In the spring training of 1929 he was sold to Los Angeles by Lena Blackburne and a few days later was reported to be the leading batsman of a violation of training rules.

Later that season he punched a bluecoat on the mezzanine. Shires always insisted that he took a punch at the fan because he thought he was being pursued.

Early last season Shires was traded to Washington. That winter he was sold to Milwaukee.

SHERIFF BLAKE GOES TO PHILLIES FOR WAIVER PRICE

John Neal Blake, known as the sheriff, was sent to Gabby Hartnett in exchange for the Cubs' squad, you know, was turned over to the Phillies at the waiver price of $7,500. Manager Shotty gave Blake the news before practice and the veteran backstop departed. Knowledge that several had been asked for his release leaked out to the fans.

Blake, who last batted with the Phillies after finishing a college career here in the Cubs in the winter of 1924-25. He was purchased from Seattle, in his seven and one-half years with the Cubs he was over the .300 mark only twice. In 1928, his best year, he registered 17 wins while losing 11. In 1929 he triumphed 14 times while losing 18.

JUDELSON WINS MEDAL HONORS IN PUBLIC LINKS

Unattached Player's 76 Tops 123 Entries.

Harry Judelson, competing unattached, shot a 39—37—76 to lead a field of 123 in the qualifying round of the Midwest Public Links championship at Lincoln park yesterday. Ninety-six qualified for match play in the three flights which start today.

Frank McDermont Captures Police Golf Meet with a 72

Officer Frank McDermont, attached to the traffic detail, is the crack golf shot of the Chicago police department. He proved this yesterday when he shot a 39—33—72 to win the annual police tournament from a field of 140 at the Olympic Golf club in Wheeling.

McDermont shot his first nine in 39, three over par. However, it was on the second nine that he asserted himself, coming home in 33, two under par, to give him an 18 hole total of 72, one over par.

Collects Two Birdies.

On the last nine McDermont had two birdies, shooting the 11th and 17th, par 4 holes, in 3s. He was even par on the remaining holes after reaching the turn. He also birdied the par 6 5th hole.

Detective Sergeant William Hanrahap of the Shakespeare avenue station served notice that he will be a strong contender for the title next year. Sergt. Hanrahan never played golf until yesterday and on the first nine he equaled par on three holes. He had a score of 122 for the 18 holes.

Manufacturers, U. S. G. A. Plan to Discuss New Ball

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Golf ball manufacturers will meet with officials of the United States Golf association in September, probably at the national amateur tournament in Chicago, to discuss the agitation against the new and lighter golf ball, Julian W. Curtiss, head of A. G. Spalding & Bros., said tonight.

"There will be no change in the ball this year," Mr. Curtiss said, "and any published reports to the contrary are wrong."

An agreement made between the manufacturers and the U. S. G. A. for the season of 1931 prevents any change in the near future, although that agreement may be abrogated for next year upon mutual desire of both parties.

Miss Roesslein Shoots 85 for Medal Honors

Miss Marge Roesslein, Lincoln park, shot an 85, six over par, on the Cog Hill No. 1 course yesterday to win the medal in the qualifying round of the annual Cook county championship.

Most of the public parks players, unaccustomed to such a long course as Cog Hill with its 6,500 yards, turned in high scores.

Long Drives Help.

Miss Roesslein's long drives gave her an advantage over the other players. On the 520 yard 12th she was just off the green in two, but her approach went over and she took a five. Her powerful drives helped her again on the 396 yard 14th, where she scored an eagle three. Trapped shots on the second and fourth holes caused her to go over par. She drove the eighth, but three putted. Miss Roesslein's card:

Out	5	5	4—43
In	5	4	5—42
Par—
Out	5	4	4—39
In	4	5	5—46—85

Mrs. Marshall Has 91.

Playing with Miss Roesslein was Mrs. Rose Marshall, Marquette, record winner of the city title. Too many putts brought her score up to 91.

The pairings for today's first round of match play follow:

Ayton's Son Leads Junior Golf Entries

Chicago's younger golf generation had its day at the Evanston Golf club yesterday where 53 youngsters competed in the qualifying round of the Chicago District Golf association junior championship.

Laurie Ayton Jr., son of Evanston's golf professional, tied with Winfield Day of Elmhurst for qualifying medalist honors, each shooting 154. Ayton won the playoff on the second hole when Day missed a long putt and Ayton was down in 4.

Eight qualified for match play, which starts today. Among the qualifiers was the son of another noted golf professional, Jack Hutchison, son of Jock Hutchison of Glen View. Jack had an 83—79—162.

In the team event, four low scores for each club counting, Evanston was first with 637. Acacia was second with 691 and Lincolnshire was third with 720. The two survivors in the match play today will play for the championship tomorrow. Today's pairings:

ARTHRITIS TRACED TO BLOOD ACIDS

Says New Body-Poison Eliminator Gives Speedy Relief

Thousands of arthritis sufferers are finding a way to combat the dangerous blood-borne body poisons which many doctors say cause and aggravate arthritis, rheumatism and rheumatic fever. Everyone knows that these dangerous poisons must be eliminated—yet millions overlook the fact that they are in the blood beyond the reach of cathartics and laxatives. They forget that if the blood is to be really purified, the poisons must be filtered out by the kidneys.

Today, however, a wonderful alkaline mineral water discovery, called Sleepy Water, is prescribed by physicians everywhere in cases where body poisons must be eliminated. Sleepy Water's base is alkalines, which include very little calcium, act to neutralize the acid poisons. But more than that—Sleepy Water, what is called a "kidney laxative," both soothes and activates the kidneys and carries off the poisons quickly, as well as neutralizing a good part of them.

Here is what one arthritic victim says about Sleepy Water: "I noticed a marked improvement—so much so that after being on Sleepy Water for several months I felt so improved I discontinued it. Unfortunately, I should have kept on longer—within a year, I had a return of my old ailment. I started drinking Sleepy Water once again and am more than gratified with the improvement that has been shown in so short a time."

Not only arthritis victims, but sufferers from as many as 39 serious chronic ailments, including diabetes, nephritis, high blood pressure, have reported amazing relief from using Sleepy Water. Why not you, yourself, can demonstrate in five minutes how quickly and thoroughly Sleepy Water acts to remove the dangerous body poisons. Send the coupon today, or phone Kedzie 1228, and find out how you can make this test. No obligation. Chemical Mineral Springs Company, Dept. H-3, 3330 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

Tune in WMAQ every Monday at 9:45 p.m. for Sleepy Water Program.

JACK DEMPSEY
WRITES ABOUT FIGHTING
Seconded by CHARLES FRANCIS COE

A vivid story of the great "Battles of the Century" by the man who fought them. Every fight fan knows what happened in the broiling sun at Toledo — at Boyle's Thirty Acres — at Shelby, Montana — in the rain at Philadelphia — at Soldiers Field in Chicago. But how did boxing build up "the million dollar gate" — what did Dempsey think of these fights — what saved Jack from the Wild Bull of the Pampas — why didn't the veteran of many knockouts take his neutral corner during the famous "long count"? Here's boxing history first hand — starting today — don't miss a single issue. Read "In This Corner" by Jack Dempsey.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 20.—The world champion Athletics this afternoon revealed that they have kindness in their hearts. Having seen Tommy Thomas in one of his fainting spells last Saturday, they took compassion upon him when he started in today's contest and sought to bolster his courage by giving him six runs in the first inning. But it was of no avail, for Tommy swooned in the second inning and the A's tied the score. The champions then marched on to a 12 to 7 victory.

The recorded defeat did not fall on Thomas, however, and he was able to catch an early train for his home in Baltimore. Pat Caraway, another prime swooner, did a couple of faints to win the loss. Pat yielded homers to Haas and Foxx in the fourth to give the A's a lead and he tossed his triple ball to Miller with the bases full in the sixth.

McKain Works Today.

They will play their final against the champions this afternoon and maybe Ed McKain will pitch for a few innings. It was not held likely that Connie Mack would use Mose Grove, owing as Cleveland is coming to Wednesday.

Rue was safe when Boley dropped to pop fly and went to third when Sullivan singled to right. Reynolds pounded to Bishop, but when the A's scrub baseman sought to launch a double play he made a wide throw to Boley, Rue scoring. Fonseca beat out a bunt to McDonald and the bases were full.

Watwood singled to left, Sullivan scoring and the bases remaining full. Xavier Rue to right and Reynolds scored after the catch. Fonseca and Watwood moved up on a wild pitch and, after Cissell had filed to Simmons, Grube walked, again filling the bases. Fonseca, Watwood, and Grube staged a triple steal, Fonseca scoring. Thomas singled to right, scoring Watwood and Grube. Blue lined to Foxx.

Thomas didn't seem really appreciative of the Athletics' kindness, for he permitted Bishop, first up, to walk, he's double to right. Bishop scored on two infield outs and a single by Haas.

It should be said in justice to Thomas that he had some inspiration for his second inning swoon. After Haas had popped to Cissell, Dykes sent an easy fly to Watwood. Watwood caught it, looked at the seam a while, then let it drop. Umpire Moriarty, Doubt Bush's old pal, ruled that it was a two base muff.

Tommy Thomas Retires.

Miller beat out a bunt and Dykes went to third; then Mahaffey singled to center, scoring Dykes. Bishop fanned, but Haas singled to left, scoring Boley, and Cochrane singled to center, scoring Mahaffey. Simmons singled to right, scoring Haas and putting Cochrane on third. Al went to second when the hit got past Reynolds. Thomas surrendered at this point and Caraway went in. Cissell made a nice stop of Foxx's grounder to deep short, but Foxx was safe and Cochrane scored when Bill's throw pulled Rue off the bag.

Caraway struck out Bishop to start the sixth. Haas beat out an infield hopper, then Cochrane fanned. Simmons singled to left and the bases were full when Foxx walked. Miller then cleared the bases with a triple to right center. Caraway went away and the game was finished by Moore and Wehde.

Senators Win Third Straight from Tigers

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Six singles, five of them in a row, and two errors, all in the second inning, today spelled defeat for the Detroit tigers as the Washington Senators won their fifth straight, 7 to 3.

Kuhel, first baseman, opened the attack with a single off Elon Hogsett, Detroit southpaw, who retired after four innings. Kuhel came up a second time in the inning, in which six runs were made, and walked. An attempted double steal retired the Senators. Score:

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Ed Wells had a shade the beter of Wally Stewart in a hurling contest today as the Yankees made it three in a row over the browns, 8 to 5.

Each pitcher allowed nine hits, but four St. Louis errors, plus some timely hitting on the part of Wells, put the Yanks out in front with a four run rally in the sixth. Wells drove in two runs and scored one with two hits, a double, and a single. Score:

TUFFY DOES THE PITCHING

Griffith Wins All 10 Rounds from Pantaleo

time to the body, dropped Pantaleo for two seconds, and the blow, repeated to the jaw, had him reeling at the bell. Barry examined Pantaleo before he would permit him to come out for the next round.

The action in the remaining rounds was slow. Griffith advanced, looking for openings to end the fight with a punch. He connected in the ninth and Paul took a nine second rest. In the last round Pantaleo went down for another count of nine.

Leach Stops Norman.

Gary Leach hammered Edgar Norman with short left hooks and an occasional right until the last minute of their eight round semi-windup when Referee Tommy Gilmore stopped the bout. Norman was outclassed.

Buck Everett, another Hoosier from the steel mills, took an easy blow from Marion Matuszak in the first round of a scheduled six round bout and was counted out by Gilmore although he made a great show of scrambling to his feet just too late to be permitted to continue.

Knute Dane had more fortitude. Facing Joe Corbett, Beverly Hills heavyweight, Dane staggered through five rounds to lose the decision. Jerry Crano of Cicero stopped Jack Moran in the fifth round of their bout, and Dick Sisk knocked out Tony Saunders in the opening round of their five rounder.

Indians Buy Infielder from Sacramento Club

Cleveland, O., July 20.—(AP)—Purchase of Harry White, an infielder, from the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league, was announced today by the Cleveland Indians. He will report about Aug. 15, being temporarily on the bench with an injured ankle. He has been playing second base and batting about .290.

Sharkey, Walker End Training for Tomorrow's Bout

New York, July 20.—(AP)—With $85,000 in the till, weather fine, and the athletes in fine trim, the fifteen round duel of Jack Sharkey and Mickey Walker seemed headed tonight toward financial as well as artistic success. They meet Wednesday night at Ebbets field.

Sharkey, with only the four rounds he toyed with Schmeling before fouling him as a fighting record for almost two years, seems to be fit for his match with the retired king of middleweights. He wound up his training today at Pompton Lakes, N. J., slightly under 200 pounds in heft, trim in body, his boxing skill sharply tuned, his hitting touch deft and sure.

Sharkey has been in training since March 19, the early work being devoted to preparation for a bout with Primo Carnera that was ruled out by the federal court.

At Orangeburg, N. Y., Walker wound up his training work in probably the best condition he has attained in recent years. He will weigh around 170 pounds, almost 30 less than Sharkey, but he has the chest and shoulders of a heavyweight. Both are close to the 30 year old mark and their ring careers date back over ten year periods.

Bruin Leaves His Mark in North Woods

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peshtigo River, Wis., July 20.—Hiking through a wild country, sometimes through slashings and sometimes through virgin timber, we found today that the black bears had been ahead of us on the routs to the stream. Up here, where great areas of second growth and big patches of virgin timber stretch across the country for many uninhabited miles, the bear continues to roam the timber country along with the deer and the wolves.

Today in the course of a mile through second growth old bruin left four striking examples of his work along our trail.

Bruin Leaves His Mark.

Three half decayed stumps and one old log had been ripped to pieces by the powerful claws of the animal. Apparently the bear was foraging around for a meal. Inasmuch as this resident of the northwoods is practically omnivorous in his diet, not even an old stump full of ants is overlooked, so bruin tore into the decayed remnants of former trees and tossed the punky wood all over the ground.

Walking along under a hot sun in company with Paul H. Davis, Chicago sportsman, we were watching the side of the trail for a nice patch of wild raspberries when we saw the green of the second growth decorated with the yellowish brown of soft wood which told the story of bruin's activities.

A Mile in the Sun.

Our trail across country to the Peshtigo could not be recommended if you wanted to cool off, because for more than a mile it led us through hot sun before we struck virgin timber and shade. But the grouse which flared into the air along the way did their best to keep our minds off the temperature.

It was plain to see that ruffed grouse were in their second growth because they were not at all shy about showing us their open air bathrooms. All along the trail we passed small circular areas where the grouse families took their dust baths.

DOUBLE WINDUP FEATURES KERWIN SHOW TONIGHT

A double windup and the appearance of Frankie Battaglia, middleweight pro, as referee, will feature the amateur boxing show at Pep Kerwin's Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues, tonight.

Joey Kleko will meet Joe Roman of Joliet, conqueror of Nick Scialaba last week, in one half of the double windup. Mike Kamis, west side welterweight, and Val Pinko of Hammond, Ind., holder of a decision over Scotty Sylvano, will clash in the other main event.

Going Up! Entry in Tribune Swim Sunday Passes 2,000

More than 2,000 boys and girls have entered THE TRIBUNE'S 100 yard swimming championships next Sunday afternoon at the Lincoln park lagoon. Just how many more than 2,000 will compete in the ten races for the sprint honors of the central states will not be known until the clerks finish the tabulation. Entries mailed yesterday will be included in the total.

The largest team entry ever received for any competition was credited yesterday to the Manley Junior High school. Three hundred and six boys, Manley students, who practiced last winter as members of a 100 yard swimming club, were entered in THE TRIBUNE meet. William Paulick, gymnastic instructor at Altgeld park, sent in the entries. There are 34 boys in the 11 and 12 year old group, 118 in class B for boys 13 and 14 years old, and 154 in class C, 15 and 16 years old.

Natatorium Names 90.

Andy Kovack, swimming coach at the Knights of Columbus west side club house, has entered 28 boys in the meet. Coach Gerhard of the Belfuss natatorium, has a well balanced entry of 30 boys and girls. Gerhard has entries in each of the ten divisions, five for boys and five for girls, and his swimmers have an excellent chance for the team trophy. This trophy, a silver figure of a swimmer on a silver column atop an ebony base, was received yesterday. It will be awarded Sunday to the team which scores the most points in the ten events.

Coach Weber of Ilgair park has entered 20 in nine of the divisions. The only division in which Ilgair park will not be represented is Class A girls.

From Irving Park District.

Gene Utz, director of athletics at Independence park, located in the Irving Park district, has an entry of 14 in yesterday's lists. Eleven of these are boys. Harry Robbins of Harrison park, 18th and Wood streets, in the West Parks district, mailed in 12 names.

Louis Tortorelli, instructor at Dvorak park, yesterday submitted an entry of 16 boys in Class A, B and C. Ena Carpenter, the girl's instructor at Dvorak park, previously had sent in an entry, so the park also has a well rounded list of contestants. L. C. Van Valkinburg is the director at Dvorak park.

Get Numbers Early.

The contestant's numbers will be distributed next Sunday morning at the Lincoln Park Boat club between 10 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. No numbers will be passed out after the dead line. The first preliminary race in Class A for boys will start at 1:30. If 60 per cent of the entries report for their 100 yard tests, at least four and a half hours will be required to finish the meet.

Each swimmer who successfully passes the 100 yard test will receive a merit badge. Gold medals are the awards for the champions, while second and third finishers in each divisions will be given silver and bronze medals.

Mayor of Boston Invites Texans to Grid Luncheon

Boston, Mass., July 20.—(AP)—Mayor James M. Curley today extended invitations to Gov. Ross D. Sterling and former Gov. Dan Moody and twenty-seven mayors and a city manager, all of Texas, to be his guests at a luncheon Oct. 24, before the football game between University of Texas and Harvard. The mayor said Boston would welcome as much of Texas as could come north on that date.

SIMMONS GAINS ON LEADERS IN BATTING PARADE

Taking advantage of the inactivity in the National league and the failure of his rivals—Babe Ruth and Eddie Morgan—to hit, Al Simmons closed ground on the leaders in baseball's big six yesterday. He got three hits in five times at bat to boost his batting average to .369, only two points below Morgan and six behind Ruth, both of whom lost points. Standing:

SWEET SCENT ON TRAIL OF MATRON PRIZE; PAYS 11-1

Beats Sunny Lassie in Her Second Start.

Questionnaire Out

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—James Butler's Questionnaire, generally recognized as champion of the handicap division, will not be shipped to Chicago to fulfill his engagement in the Arlington Cup next Saturday. Butler made the decision after being forced to withdraw the four year old from the Yonkers handicap at Empire City last Saturday because of a bruised foot.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Sweet Scent from the Coldstream stud stable of C. B. Shaffer of Chicago was a real sweetheart to long shot players at Arlington Park yesterday when she raced to a brilliant victory in the Vicksburg purse, which engaged a half dozen candidates for the rich Matron stakes to be run tomorrow.

As she came pounding down the home stretch, passing one horse after another and winning the first race of her brief career on the turf, she loomed up as a dangerous threat for the rich prize of the Matron.

She beat Sunny Lassie, which has tried for all the Oaks this year, by half a length and was sort of chuckling back at her at the finish. Such a fleet filly as Rocket Glare wound up in third place and trailing the three leaders home were the game speedsters, Martha Jones, Sister Zoe, and St. Prisca.

Second Time Out.

It was the second start Sweet Scent ever made, yet the tip got out a few minutes before post time that the daughter of Bunting-Bird Call was extraordinarily fast at picking 'em up and laying 'em down, so there was quite a late plunge on her. But the plunge didn't affect her price to any great extent, for after running the seven furlongs in the fast time of 1:24 4-5 she paid $24.24 to win, $11.06 to place, and $4.44 to show. Sunny Lassie was at $6.40 to place and $3.62 to show. Rocket Glare's followers backed her to show and she paid $3.06.

When the start came Martha Jones, showing all her old time fleetness, jumped out into a lead of about four lengths and she sailed down to the lower bend with such speed it didn't look as if anybody would get close to her.

Sunny Lassie Moves Up.

But Sweet Scent was not far back and it looked as if she could go on up any time Jockey Schutte gave her the word. Schutte waited with her until the run down the stretch started. She conquered Martha Jones in a jiffy and went on to win handily, although Sunny Lassie, coming from far back, was crowding her way through the closely grouped leaders and she shot up to be second by two lengths over Rocket Glare, which had also been showing speed from the start. Sister Zoe, expected to be going great down the stretch, didn't rally and could never get up. She was far back in fifth place at the finish.

Ivan Parke, at one time the most skillful flat racer in America, gave further indication yesterday that he is to develop into one of the great steeplechase riders of the times when he rode Gracie, owned by J. Fred Adams of Baltimore, to victory in the Southdown stepelechase. It was Parke's excellent riding and Gracie's good jumping ability under a fine ride that enabled the Maryland mare to triumph. Joseph E. Widener's Drapeau, also jumping in good form, got second money, and Canterbury, from Bayard Warren's stable, broke a leg, but he took the last jump, despite his injury. A little later in the afternoon he had to be destroyed.

Jockey Saves Ground.

Parke saved ground all the way on Gracie and after Canterbury had made the pace all through the early part of the two mile battle he brought Gracie into the lead just before reaching the last hedge. He rode her with a much dash down the flat that she got the decision by a wide margin.

Gracie shattered the track record when she ran the two miles in 3:56 3-5. The old mark was 3:57, made by Arc Light a year ago. In the betting Gracie paid nearly 3 to 1, Queen's Pal having been made the favorite.

WEATHER HALTS SINGER

Newark, N. J., July 20.—(AP)—A ten round bout between Al Singer, New York lightweight, and Buster Brown of Baltimore was postponed tonight until tomorrow night on account of threatening weather.

SUN MISSION IS FIRST DESPITE HEAVY IMPOST

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—The indefatiable Sun Mission, which was racing last winter when many thoroughbreds were romping on the farm, continued with such speed and courage at Empire City today, that he won the Bronxville handicap with a length and a half to spare.

It was only last Saturday that Sun Mission conceded weight to every horse in the race and landed second back of Blind Bowboy in the Yonkers handicap.

He conceded weight to the three others in the Bronxville today, but rolled up from behind clearly the best and fleetest of the lot. His impost was 126 pounds.

Second to the wire was Tail Spin, which carried 106 pounds and got the place by two lengths from Black Forest, carrying only 101½ pounds. The Audley farm's Erin Queen brought up the rear, a badly beaten fourth, after running a dull race.

Raymond Workman was rider of the winner and got a double on the day, for he was up on Regal Flag, which won the first race. Sun Mission was a 4 to 5 favorite and was the fourth consecutive choice to win.

There has been an extraordinarily high percentage of public choices winning at the meeting.

Whippany River Poloists Eliminate Army, 11 to 9

Rumson, N. J., July 20.—(AP)—The Whippany River polo team eliminated the defending champion, the United States army, 11 to 9, in the second game of the national junior championships today. The veteran, Earle W. Hopping, playing back for the winners, scored seven goals.

Before shipping his champion Mate east A. C. Bostwick did a little shopping at Arlington Park. He looked up Tony Pelleteri, the lucky man from New Orleans, and made an offer of $25,000 for Pelleteri's 2 year old sensation Proteus.

"He's your horse," was Lucky Tony's answer.

So Proteus was led into the car and traveled 'east toward Saratoga with Mate as his room mate.

Proteus, which has won nearly all the big 2 year old colt fixtures in the west this year, is a son of Infinite-Our Option and was picked up by Pelleteri for less than $1,000 at the yearling auctions in Kentucky late last fall.

There was great joy in the turf establishment of H. Teller Archibald after the running of the Natchez purse at Arlington yesterday. Mr. Archibald's Westy Junior, which had worked sensationally here, turned up as an easy winner and did everything the clockers had expected him to do.

The son of Westy Hogan-Candy May, bred by Mr. Archibald, led from start to finish and Jockey Louie Schaeferd had a tight hold on him as he sailed past the finish line two lengths in front of Portden. He had been heavily backed and paid $4.72 in the mutuels.

The race caused his stock to boom for the Post and Paddock stakes, the $50,000 Juvenile event which will be run on the closing day of the Arlington season.

Two crack eastern 2 year olds arrived at Arlington yesterday to be prepared for the Post and Paddock stakes. They were Morfair and Relaxation, owned by Victor Emanuel's Dorwood stable. Many eastern horsemen believe Morfair one of the fleetest youngsters developed along the Atlantic seaboard this year.

Manta, 4 year old daughter of Cudgel and Paloma, the winner at Latonia recently of revivals of the Enquirer and Independence handicaps, arrived at Arlington Park yesterday morning. She is to start tomorrow in the second Arlington Matron handicap, which should gross about $18,000 and pay its winner $13,000 or better. Brownell Combs owns Manta.

Dick Morris and Pat Knebelkamp went into a huddle early in the afternoon and later announced that their game and consistent 3 year old Spanish Play, second to Mate in the Classic, will start in the Arlington cup on Saturday. He will carry 114 pounds.

SEARS-ROEBUCK REPORTS SALES OF $25,738,837

Recede Only 1 Pct. from Year Ago.

BY O. A. MATHER.

That actual volume of business in some lines is larger than a year ago is proved by reports made yesterday by two big chain store concerns. While this does not mean that profits necessarily are larger or even as large, it does lend hope that earnings will improve as commodity prices either become stabilized or turn upward.

Sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. totaled $25,738,837 for the four weeks between June 19 and July 16, which was the seventh period in the company's thirteen-month year. The total showed a decline of only $248,158, or 1 per cent, for the corresponding period in 1930. This percentage decline is much smaller than the average decline in prices. Moreover, total sales for the year to date were $30,797,307, a decline of $13,555,801, or 11 per cent, from the same period last year. And this percentage decline is less than half the average recession in prices. The percentage decline for the current four-week period showed the smallest comparative shrinkage for any period thus far this year.

Unit Sales Up 35 Per Cent.

Bearing further on the improvement in volume business of big merchandising concerns was a statement by Albert S. Scott, president of the National Bellas Hess company, that unit sales during the first half of this year showed an increase of 35 per cent over the corresponding period in 1930. In connection with issuance of the company's new fall and winter catalogue, he also said that 750,000 customers were gained in the first half of this year.

There is likely to be considerable variance in earnings reports of the automobile companies for the first half of 1931, although in general earnings are not expected to compare favorably with last year. The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car company, which is controlled by the Studebaker corporation, made known its results last night. Sales for the second quarter were 1,356 cars, compared with 2,352 a year ago, while sales for the half year totaled 2,937 cars, compared with 4,104 last year.

Net Profit Is $421,711.

Car sales produced $3,899,013 in the second quarter, compared with $6,553,-613 a year ago, while sales for the half year produced $8,053,401, compared with $12,611,648 last year. Net profit for the second quarter was $115,302, compared with $569,277 a year ago, while net profit for the first half of this year was $421,711, compared with $1,030,878 last year.

Notes Better Sentiment.

Reports received this month from the General Foods corporation's district offices attest a better sentiment in the grocery trade in most sections of the country, according to President C. M. Chester Jr. He also said that inventories, both wholesale and retail, are at very low levels and the need for replenishing should stimulate business in the near future.

Sales of the Campbell Soup company during the last year were larger than in any previous year in the company's history, according to President Arthur C. Derrance. While stocks of dealers, both wholesale and retail, were large last autumn, average supplies last month were no more than enough to meet normal requirements during the two months that still intervened before commencement of the canning packing season.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Bet on Minutes.

About the only gambling going on around the brokerage houses and on the floor of the stock exchange these days is betting on the number of minutes between ticker tape movements.

What Market Considers.

Obviously the market considers more than current earnings in appraising stock values. For instance, Westinghouse reports a deficit of nearly $2,000,000 in the first six months. The stock sells at 66. Chesapeake and Ohio reports earnings of $1.55 a share in the same period. The stock sells at 111.

Inside Turnover Arises.

Insider turnover in United Gas has developed since the publication of the company's report for the twelve months ended June 30. Reduced operating expenses have largely offset reductions in sales.

Investment Trust Buying.

It is said that some quiet investment trust buying hac been taking place on a scale down in a few of the old line utilities.

Seek Data on Future Use of Inland Waterway

BY SCRUTATOR.

Next year the Illinois waterway is scheduled to be completed with the result that Chicago and other cities on the Great Lakes will have direct barge line connection with the Mississippi river system and the Gulf of Mexico.

The physical connection of the lakes with the Mississippi system brings with it the necessity of providing terminal and transfer facilities in the Chicago district.

Package freight to and from Chicago can be handled through the sanitary district channel and the Chicago river, but most of the freight handled on the waterway will be shipments of heavy bulk commodities. Much of it will be through freight. This large volume of shipping cannot well be routed through the already much used Chicago river with its many bridges.

Proposed as Terminal.

Lake Calumet has been proposed as a terminal or clearing house for all bulk freight and through shipments. The Sag canal connects this lake with the sanitary district canal to the west and another channel to the east gives ingress from Lake Michigan. A third along the Grand Calumet river goes southward for a distance and then east to connect with the Indiana Harbor ship canal which runs into Lake Michigan at Indiana Harbor.

The river and harbor act of July 3, 1930, directed a survey by the corps of engineers, U. S. army, of the Calumet river, Little Calumet river, Lake Calumet and the Sag channel with a view to developing these waters for terminal transfer harbors. This survey is being conducted by a board of engineers through the agency of the first Chicago district.

At the request of the war department the department of commerce has undertaken an economic survey for the purpose of determining whether or not the proposed improvement is justified economically.

Has Staff of Ten Men.

Dr. L. P. Nickell has been sent here with a staff of ten men by the department of commerce to handle the economic part of the survey. He has the assistance of the interstate commerce commission which has lent him the services of a rate expert.

"We have been instructed to make one of the most extensive analytical surveys ever undertaken in connection with the development of waterways," says Dr. Nickell. "The research will include not only Chicago but all cities on the Great Lakes and all important shipping centers on the Mississippi river system.

"It is hoped that the survey may be completed by the first of next year. An attempt will be made to contact every potential shipper and receiver of inland waterway freight."

Purpose of Study.

The purpose of the study is to determine to what extent the Calumet terminal system would be used if constructed. When completed the report will be combined with that of the war department on the engineering phases and costs and will be presented to congress.

Shippers and receivers of freight who are interested in obtaining the construction of terminal and transfer facilities for waterway shipping can help get them by coöperating with the department of commerce men in furnishing them with information concerning the movement of their freight. The attitude of congress toward expending funds for the development of the Calumet terminal will no doubt be influenced by the report showing the demand for it.

ERNEST RIDGEWAY IS APPOINTED RECEIVER FOR SHERIDAN TRUST

Ernest Ridgeway, formerly treasurer of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese company, yesterday was appointed receiver for the Sheridan Trust & Savings bank, Broadway and Lawrence, by State Auditor Oscar Nelson. The bank closed June 9 with deposit liabilities of $5,276,000. Mr. Ridgeway assumes his duties at once. Brundage, Landon & Holt were named as attorneys for the receiver.

"Mr. Ridgeway was formerly connected with one of the large banks," Mr. Nelson said. "He has had both banking and financial experience and is a very capable man."

A report on the condition of the Builders & Merchants Bank & Trust company, 5437 North Clark street, was made yesterday by Receiver Will H. Wade. The bank was closed April 13 of this year. Mr. Wade asserts there are about 28,000 depositors who have $3,333,000 coming to them. He reported $190,000 cash on hand and $2,481,102 in loans, discounts and real estate bonds still to be collected.

Mr. Wade said that to these assets could be added the capital and surplus of $770,708 and the stockholders' liabilities of $450,000. He explained that two bank buildings involved were carried on the books at $325,000.

A ten per cent dividend will be declared for the depositors when $300,000 in cash is accumulated, Mr. Wade said.

Says Rate Boost Would Help Restore Business

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Unless the interstate commerce commission changes its program indications tonight were that the first part of the hearings on the petition of the railroads for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates would be concluded tomorrow. Argument will be heard on a motion to be made on behalf of rail security owners, that no recess be taken until Aug. 31, after the conclusion of testimony.

Whether or not the railroads would obtain a great increase in revenue from increased rates, approval of the application of the carriers for authority to increase rates would tend to restore confidence in rail securities and business generally would go forward, Fairman R. Dick, of New York, chairman of the security holders' committee on the railroad emergency, said in concluding his testimony.

Discuss Effect on Investors.

Questioned by Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman as to whether the picture painted by the railroads and the security owners would not depress rail investors, Mr. Dick thought some investors might be frightened by the disclosures but that many investors were assured by the proceedings that something was being done to relieve the situation.

Mr. Dick declared railroad bonds had increased in price since June 1, partly due to the fact that the railroads had filed a petition for an increase in rates. If the petition was granted, he said, there would be another upswing in the prices of rail securities.

Opinion was expressed by the witness that the commission should authorize a 15 per cent increase and then put the responsibility on the carriers for making necessary adjustments, when asked whether certain commodities not deemed able to bear any increase should be exempted by the commission.

Great Lakes Lines Heard.

The great lakes steamship lines appeared in support of the rail petition through W. R. Evans, auditor of the Great Lakes Transit corporation; A. R. Sheff, traffic manager of the Minnesota Atlantic Transit company, and J. C. Gillespie, freight agent of the Nicholson Universal Steamship company.

The lake lines rates would be increased 15 per cent if the rail petition was granted. The witnesses emphasized the need for increased revenues for the water lines.

Support of the rail petition also came from the American Short Line Railroad association, through B. B. Cain, general counsel; A. H. Brown of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and C. E. Widell, traffic manager of the Tennessee Products corporation.

"We do not believe that a general rate increase, if uniformly applied, will stifle the movement of any really important commodity," said Mr. Brown. "If the amount of this proposed increase be calculated on most commodities, it will be found to be of but little weight when applied to commercial units. A 15 per cent increase would amount to 10 cents on each hog shipped to Cleveland from Chicago, and the Cleveland live stock market will, in the long run, reflect Chicago prices, plus freight, plus shrinkage."

Favor Hay Rate Increase.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Two interstate commerce commission examiners today recommended to the commission an upward revision of freight rates on hay throughout the west.

The examiners, reporting on their investigation of the commodity under the Hoch-Smith resolution, recommended a minimum rate of 10 cents per hundred pounds for hauls of ten miles or less, grading upward as distances increase. For the mountain Pacific territory the minimum rate would be 11 cents.

Seeks Lower Cotton Rates.

New Orleans, La., July 20.—(AP)—Intention of seeking lower freight rates on cotton in proceedings before the interstate commerce commission and state railroad commissions was announced today by the American Cotton Coöperative association.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 20.—Some tall fishing tales were told on the floor of the New York Stock exchange today. There wasn't any business to interfere and the Izaak Waltons had the run of the range.

So far as trading operations were concerned it was the dullest day the exchange has experienced in more than five years. Only about 700,000 shares changed hands in the entire five hours. Bull operators pegged up the prices of a few favorites here and there where they would attract attention, but no one bothered to pay much attention to the so-called advance. Certainly it had no meaning for those still concerned with the market's probable future course.

News from abroad was a bit more encouraging, but it has been evident for several days that nobody is eager to buy stocks on the prospects of a settlement of the situation, no matter how rosy they may appear on the face of the unofficial advices. Undoubtedly the adjustment of Germany's difficulties will have an encouraging effect on trading sentiment when—and if—it does come, but even the most optimistic is willing to concede the possibility of a slip between cup and lip with things what they are.

Domestic News Better.

Also the domestic corporate news read a little better than usual, embracing as it did a better second quarter earnings statement by Westinghouse than had been anticipated and the resumption of dividends by Congoleum—surely a toothsome bit of news in these days of rate moratoriums. Possibly these items may be credited with stimulating the turnover of a handful of shares.

As usual there were no group movements to record. The oils were disposed to do a bit better but none of them blew the lid off. Wall street believes that the growing tendency on the part of independent producers to "strike," that is discontinue production, rather than accept the low prices prevailing for crude in most centers, indicates progress in the right direction. Houston made about the best showing in the end with a price jump of 3 points, but some of the oldtimers of the Standard group were turned over in much larger volume.

Strength in Sugars.

Quiet strength continued in the sugar stocks. These shares have been active at better prices for several days. Strong as the new week began, the rise in refined sugar prices, together with a fairly stable market in

CYRUS EATON QUITS YOUNGSTOWN BOARD; REVIVE MERGER TALK

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Cyrus H. Eaton, Cleveland capitalist, who sponsored the bitter fight against the proposed merger of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with Bethlehem Steel corporation, today resigned as director and member of the executive committee of Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Wall street immediately interpreted this as meaning that the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger would be revived, and that possibly a few smaller manufacturers might, as has been reported, be brought in. George T. Bishop Jr. of Cleveland, president of Continental Shares corporation, succeeds Eaton as a director, and Frank Purnell, president of Sheet and Tube, replaces Eaton on the company's executive committee.

The changes were announced after a meeting of Sheet and Tube directors. Company officials declined to comment on what bearing, if any, Eaton's withdrawal from the board had on the merger situation.

Trade in London Quiet Pending Debt Conference

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—Financial London was quietly optimistic over the German situation in view of the seven power conference meeting today, but pending the outcome of the deliberations the stock exchange and foreign exchange dealers were operating on a small scale. Price movements on the stock exchange were narrow, gilt edge issues and transatlantics being steady at a fraction higher, and German bonds up 1 point. Foreign exchanges moved in favor of London, New York being 4.8506, Paris 123.65 and Berlin 20.62.

BOND MARKET DULLEST SINCE AUGUST 11, 1930

New York, July 20.—(AP)—The bond market hung up a new record for dullness today when sales reached the smallest total for a full session since Aug. 11, 1930. Such activities as occurred was concentrated pretty much among a few leading issues.

Closing sales of foreign obligations left no doubt as to their trend, although they were not all consistently strong. German 7s of 1949 and the 5½s of 1965 started the day higher but ended it lower. Other German loans rose irregularly. Some sharp gains appeared in such Latin-American issues as those of Chile, Brazil and Colombia. Argentine obligations usually were lower.

Loans of the United States government were unusually dull within a narrow range. Trading in domestic corporate bonds was so dull that no sales of any sort were reported in a large number of them and the turnover in many others consisted of a single minimum sales.

Chile and Germany Will Discuss Nitrate Duty

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 20.—(AP)—Negotiations are to be opened by the Chilean government in Berlin this week over the new duty imposed by Germany against natural nitrate. Nitrate producers say the duty amounts to about $30 a ton and that it is prohibitive. Foreign Minister Aldunate has instructed the Chilean embassy in Berlin to register protest and to point out that the duty will result in a situation prejudicial to trade between the two countries.

Copper Market Turns Firm; Price Steady at 8 Cents

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 20.—The copper market turned firm today after a long period of ease and dullness. Prices were reported steady at 8 cents a pound, with sales and demand moderate at that level. There is a brisk demand for the metal at 7⅞ cents, but none was available at that price. Foreign buying continued in good volume at 8.25 cents a pound, c. i. f. European ports. Sales of 3,200,000 pounds were reported for the morning.

Norris-Baker Millions Back of St. Charles Bank

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Charles, Ill., July 20.—The newly formed State Bank of St. Charles which is sponsored by Norris and Baker interests and has the backing of their millions today took over the Stewart State bank, one of this community's oldest financial institutions.

In a letter to patrons of the Stewart bank its board of directors states that "every deposit is fully protected. Special credit should be given Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Norris and E. J. Baker for their splendid support." Mrs. Norris, the former Dellora Angell, and E. J. Baker inherited the $35,000,000 of the late John W. Gates. The Norrises and the Bakers have given to their community various public improvements and buildings.

Seasonable Weather Aids Wearing Apparel Business

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Expanding demand for summer wearing apparel has been evident during the greater part of the last month as the result of more seasonable weather, increasing confidence on the part of consumers, and aggressive merchandising efforts, a current survey by Standard Statistics company says. "In fact," the survey adds, "some of the more strongly situated units report that June and early July sales were materially larger than a year ago, both in actual physical volume and dollar value."

Southwest Loadings Have Set New Record

Loadings of wheat in the southwest last week were close to the record. The Santa Fé loaded 10,945 cars, compared with 14,607 cars the previous week and 6,705 cars last year. Since June 15 loadings made a new record and aggregated 44,795 cars of wheat, the largest marketing movement known, compared with 37,109 cars last year, an increase of 7,868 cars. In the face of this heavy marketing, railroad officials say that cars have been unloaded and returned with more promptness than usual. The Santa Fé had 20,000 cars parked a month ago for the movement of the new crop and has borrowed 5,000 additional cars from connections.

Loadings of grain on the Rock Island since July 1 aggregate 14,115 cars, as compared with 8,952 cars last year, the bulk being wheat. Movement of cantalopes over the Rock Island from southern California, Arizona, and New Mexico so far this season has set new record, 9,500 cars, compared with 7,100 cars last year.

FEEL PERIOD OF LASSITUDE IS A BOON TO MARKET

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The conclusion of yesterday's trading on the Chicago exchange found stocks bringing moderately higher prices, but the dealing throughout the day had been marked by extreme dullness. The further progress reported in the Franco-German negotiations had helped sentiment, but it failed to release any volume of buying. Professional traders toyed with their favorite issues and succeeded in closing them slightly above last week's final prices.

Favorable comment was heard along the street on the present tendency to minimize the importance of the current operations in the stock market. The feeling is general that a period of quiet in the security markets will give business a better chance to get back on its feet. On many occasions it has been claimed that the violent fluctuations in stock prices has seriously retarded trade recovery. The orderly manner in which the market has acted during the recent European crisis has led to the belief that industry will be free of such disturbing influences in coming months.

See Quiet Accumulation.

Despite the prevailing dullness brokers report that quiet accumulation has been resumed during the last week. While few of the investment services are attempting to pick the exact time when the stock market will turn up, several are recommending the purchase of selected issues.

The meagerness of the price variations in yesterday's trade is shown in the change of a few typical issues. Insull Utility and Middle West were fractionally higher at the close and the leading automotive shares made similar showings.

Several concerns made reports on dividends and earnings yesterday. The statements reflected the irregular conditions prevailing in recent months.

Public Service Income.

Public Service Company of Northern Illinois reported net profits for the three months ended June 30 of $1,728,045 after all charges as compared with $2,040,071 in the preceding quarter and $1,930,901 in the comparable period last year. Gross for the three months' period was $6,683,057 against $9,455,748 in the first quarter this year and $8,831,729 in the same period of 1930.

Regular dividends on the common stocks were reported by George A. Hormel & Co. and the Minneapolis-Honeywell-Regulator company. The regulator company reported that it sustained a loss of $184,167 in the six months' period ended June, 1931, which compared with a net profit of $17,041 in the first half of last year. The statement reflects the operations of the Time-O-Stat Controls company since March 31, the date of acquisition. The business of the company being largely seasonal, the last six months usually provide two-thirds of the annual sales and an even greater proportion of the net income, it was explained.

Gets Restraining Order.

The Majestic Radio Tube corporation, Harrison, N. J., was temporarily restrained yesterday from using the word "Majestic" on the products or the corporate name of the firm.

Federal Judge Guy L. Fake at Newark, N. J., granted the injunction on the petition of Grigsby-Grunow corporation, Chicago, radio manufacturers, who charged the Harrison firm was "trying to capitalize on $6,000,000 spent on advertising." A hearing was scheduled for November. The Grigsby company makes radios under the trade name "Majestic."

FORESEES 5,000 JOBS IN HOUSE BUILDING PLAN

National Homes Finance Body Formed Here.

BY AL CHASE.

Jobs for at least 5,000 men are promised as a result of a plan announced last night by the National Homes Finance corporation just formed in Chicago, to release more than $10,000,000 worth of new small home construction throughout the country. The announcement was made by Alton J. Hager, chairman of the board of the new corporation and also president of the National Association of Retail Lumber Dealers.

"This means the return to employment of at least 3,000 men in the construction of new homes and an additional 2,000 men on modernization and improvement projects," said Mr. Hager. "That is only the start and includes only projects we definitely have in hand. Countless others will be influenced through the release of funds from other sources.

"For housing American families the nation's minimum requirements are 400,000 dwellings annually—and this country has built only a fraction of this number during the last three years. To this figure must be added the necessary replacement of obsolescent structures to get actual housing needs."

9H Operate in 44 States.

According to Mr. Hager, the National Homes Finance corporation, capitalized for $2,500,000 and operating in 44 states, will make itself definitely felt in the economic situation this fall.

The company is organized by leading retail lumber dealers operating in several hundred markets, and men of national prominence in this industry have been working for over a year to get this company under way.

Arthur A. Hood, president of the Associated Leaders of Lumber and Fuel Dealers of America, of Chicago, and Emory J. Lee of Ames, Emerick & Co., Inc., international investment bankers of New York and Chicago, developed the plan. Both of these men are on the board of directors.

Other directors are: Alton J. Hager, president Hager & Cove Lumber company, Lansing, Mich.; John Dower, president John Dower Lumber company, Tacoma, Wash.; Marshall Forrest, vice-president of Ames, Emerick & Co.; Davis W. Glass, treasurer of the Keystone Lumber company, Pittsburgh, Pa.; W. L. Hixon, president Hixon-Peterson Lumber company, Toledo, O.; I. B. McFarland, general manager of Temple Lumber company, Temple, Tex.; Fred J. Robinson, president Fred J. Robinson Lumber company, Detroit, and Fred Wehrenberg, vice president Standard Lumber and Supply company, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Calls Program Liberal and Safe.

"Ninety per cent of American families must live in homes costing less than $10,000," said Mr. Hager. "The program is both liberal and safe, providing funds for 75 per cent of the combined cost of house and lot, mortgages carrying 6 per cent and completely amortizing in 15 years through monthly payments of $6.44 per thousand dollars borrowed by the owner.

"Special safeguards are provided to insure exceptionally strong security behind each loan. Advanced architectural design will be required, and well known architects like Pierre Blouke, Earl Reed Jr. and Arthur Howell Kunz of Chicago are serving on the corporation's architectural advisory council. Materials of highest quality will be selected from products of leading manufacturers for use with the best of construction skill. Life, health and accident insurance will be carried in the owner, and complete guarantees as to quality of materials and construction will be given the owner in writing under bond.

"Furthermore, the owner will be relieved of all bother, all details, and the work will be directed and personally supervised by the participating dealers. It is now as easy to buy a beautiful, convenient, quality home as to buy a vacuum cleaner. Under this plan the purchase payments are virtually the same as rent in the same house—thus adding little or nothing to the family's expense budget for acquiring ownership of a fine, high quality home."

TRADERS SWAP FISH STORIES AS BUSINESS LAGS

raws, both indicative of the prevalence of large demand coincident with the heavy seasonal call for sugar, explains the firmness in that group. For the next month or two, with the soft drink season in full swing and demand from canning and preserving industries at its peak, the sugar refiners will be enjoying their best season of the year. American Sugar and South Porto Rico Sugar were the two favored issues in the course of dull trading today.

Coppers looked up somewhat on reports of further large sales of the metal and firmness of the price.

The rails were firm whenever sold but many of them did not appear on the tape at all. Motors followed the remainder of the market. Utilities fared better than the average groups and the tobaccos did well with Lorillard at a new high on a small gain.

The exchange's smallest full day, heretofore, this year was recorded on June 17 last, when the turnover was slightly in excess of 900,000 shares, having fallen below the 1,000,000 share figure for the first time since Oct. 25, 1926. The turnover on June 17 last, just three days prior to the start of the sharp advance which followed the debt moratorium proposal of President Hoover, was the smallest recorded up to that time since July 26, 1926, when total transactions for the day were but 837,100 shares.

NARROW PRICE RANGES PREVAIL IN GRAIN MARTS

Wheat Supply Increased by 7,198,000 Bu.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Many attractive features were presented in the wheat markets yesterday, but they failed to bring any increase in business and in all there was one of the most uninteresting days that the trade has had of late.

Price ranges were small and news more mixed, with bearishness predominating. The most important item was the increase of 7,198,000 bushels in the visible supply for the week, which is not unusual, as a year ago the increase was 8,394,000 bushels, but the total visible now is 199,381,000 bushels, or 74,190,000 bushels more than last year.

Movement from the southwest is letting up, although arrivals are still large, with 6,547 cars received at the principal points, compared with 8,000 cars a week ago. Prices are so low in Kansas that farmers hesitate to continue pressing their grain on the market, as they did a few weeks ago.

Millers were good buyers of both cash wheat and futures, suggesting good sales of flour, but export business in hard winters was only 200,000 bushels, while in Winnipeg sales of Canadian grain were also only 200,000 bushels. The same inertia prevailed in the Canadian markets as in the American, with fluctuations confined to a narrow range and with statistics in the main not particularly attractive to the trade in the way of increasing interest.

World Shipments Drop.

Supplies on ocean passage decreased over 4,000,000 bushels last week and are materially in excess of last year. World shipments have dropped off to 10,734,000 bushels, compared with 11,311,000 bushels last year. Chicago stocks continue to pile up at a good rate, due to wheat's being brought here from the southwest by the farm board for reshipment. There were charters for 420,000 bushels of wheat at Chicago for Buffalo for a milling interest that has accumulated wheat in the southwest. A good part of the 1,495 cars received at Chicago were from the southwest and middle west. The latter, however, applied largely on previous sales. Hedging sales of wheat were the lightest in recent weeks and were well absorbed. Spreading operations featured a large part of local trading, the difference between September and December narrowing to 4¼c, against 4⅝c recently.

A feature of the wheat trade was the narrowness of price fluctuations, ⅜c, with the close on July 52⅛c; September, 53¼@53⅝c, and December, 57⅛@57⅝c, net losses being ⅛@¼c, the latter on December. Liverpool was slightly lower.

A report was circulated that the federal farm board was negotiating with a foreign syndicate to take all its wheat, which was denied.

Rains Break Corn Market.

General rains over the greater part of the corn belt brought selling pressure of increased volume that kept prices on the down grade practically all day, opening 1¼c to practically 2c under Saturday's close, and made a tame finish, with July off 2¾c at 57⅛@57½c, September off 2⅜c to 51⅝@51¾c, and December 1¾c lower, with last sales at 48⅛@48¼c. Country holders of cash corn construed the rain as most beneficial and they were credited with selling between 600,000 and 700,000 bushels to arrive. Selling against these purchases by cash houses, particularly for July delivery, had a depressing influence on all futures.

A reduction in the visible supply of corn of only 506,000 bushels for the week brought the supply to 6,978,000 bushels, as compared with 3,643,000 bushels last year. Local interests were most conspicuous in the trading, especially in the selling of September.

Liquidation by holders of oats, combined with the decline in other grains, found the market poorly supported, and net declines were ⅛@⅜c, with July at 25⅛c; September, 24½c, and December, 29¼@29⅛c. Harvesting of oats is well advanced over the leading states, with good yields, and reports from central Illinois indicate that damage from recent heat has not been as great as expected.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: Cattle, 1,000; hogs, 17,000; sheep, 9,000.

With the exception of yearling cattle, which swung to a stronger position at the close of yesterday's market, the trend in live stock prices was next to lower. There was a severe upset in lamb quotations when western range country swamped the trade with slaughter stock and enabled buyers to slash prices 50c. Sorting, at the break, was severe. Bulk were scrallis, but averaged 5c under Saturday and 35c lower than on Friday.

The range of hog prices reached a new wide point yesterday, the top and average standing $1.55 apart, at $8.50 and $6.95, respectively. The middle of last week showed a spread of $1.20, while six weeks ago the two prices were only 35c apart. The market was steady to 10c lower than last week's extreme close. But losses of nearly a dime are cited in comparing with the general market last Friday. Some good light weight hogs were salable yesterday, a rather surprising fact for this time of the year. As a rule, light weights are exceedingly scarce at this time of season and work lower, while medium and weighty kinds, particularly packing grades, rule lower. About 3,000 hogs were carried left at the close yesterday.

Today's Hogs Bid $7.70.

Light weight hogs for today were bid $7.70 on the "to arrive" market yesterday but no offers to sell were made at that figure. September light and medium were sold at $7.50, while many for that month were offered at $7.60 and bid $7.35. December light were offered at $7.50 and medium and heavy sizes were at $7.25.

Butcher and weighty beeves were the only kinds in good demand yesterday, while light and medium and yearlings met good demand and had a strong to shade higher prices, top lots clearing most actively. The latter sold upwards to $8.85 at the close, only 15c under the highest price paid for steers since middle of May. Illinois and South Dakota feed lots furnished the bulk of western range steers, with the latter selling at $8.50@8.85, the highest price for the season. Bulk of sales yesterday $8.00@8.50, against $7.75@7.85 a week ago and $7.85@8.40 a year ago. Receipts were liberal, the total at 12,000 compared with 19,633 last Monday and 24,000 a year ago. The year to date movement at the seven leading markets of 7,527,000 compares with 7,-[illegible] a year ago and is 1,360,000 more than in 1929.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 5,000 cattle, 17,000 hogs and 8,000 sheep, against 5,063 cattle, 21,000 hogs and 9,985 sheep, the previous week, and 7,164 cattle, 25,214 hogs and 10,915 sheep, a year ago.

LAND TRADE NEGLECTED

Grain and provision traders gave their undivided attention yesterday and there was no change in prices, except that wheat was 2½c lower. A few orders were small lots of wheat to be sold in the future in the event of a crop failure, however, was posted at 2½c lower, while corn was unchanged @ 2½c lower, for September, in which there were some orders executed.
